Mayor's Sprinkler Proposal Given Committee

Fire Code Urged by Hastings

Firemen's Assn. Opposes Changes In Higher Ranks

A bid for mandatory installation of protective sprinkler systems in local schools was left in committee at last night's Common Council meeting.

It came from Mayor Edwin F. Radel, who appealed for early action on an ordinance, and another from Union Hose Company went with it to the laws and rules committee.

Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, asked for action toward adoption of a fire-prevention code, as has been requested by Fire Chief James M. Brett, and he presented a copy of one for study.

Objections to proposed changes in ranking fire department personnel was made in a letter from the Kingston Uniformed Firemen's Association.

Alderman Hastings urged all councilmen to work in getting out voters to determine the consolidated school district's building proposal, and downtown aldermen hit at lack of action by the New York Central Railroad officials in improving conditions at many crossings.

Cites Protection Report

Mayor Radel, in proposing compulsory installation of sprinkler systems in schools, cited a report of the National Fire Protection Association, which noted 827 deaths in 10 years in 60 schools with no sprinkler systems. The Union Hose Company letter recalled the tragic Chicago school fire of Dec. 1, 1958.

Chief Brett has made several requests for action toward installation of the sprinkler systems and at national conventions has proposed their use in institutions, public and industrial buildings.

Mayor Radel's letter on the sprinkler system proposal noted that top fire protection organizations have urged compulsory use of the systems, cited the report that in 60 years, "not one life has been lost from fires in sprinkler protected school buildings."

Chief Stands Pat

"It is my unyielding opinion based upon facts available to me from people qualified in the field of firemanics," he wrote that our schools, and our young people in the City of Kingston should be given the benefit and safeguard of approved sprinkler systems."

He proposed that "with all possible haste you adopt a local ordinance making the institution of adequate sprinkler equipment with internal alarm and an alarm at the fire station mandatory in all of our school buildings in our city."

After Alderman Hastings had presented a copy of a fire prevention code, Council President Harold L. Kaye indicated that similar copies were made available and left in committee in 1956. Alderman Ryan proposed that more copies be made available for study by the aldermen.

Urges School Vote

Hastings, in urging the aldermen to bring out the vote on the school building proposal, said he feared that the "bad tactics" of the education board might prevent people from coming out to vote, and he held that voters, either for or against the proposal, must get out and vote. He noted it was a first chance to participate in electing two new board members.

Mercury Hits 75, Highest for Date Since 71 in 1945

A temperature reading of 75 degrees at 11:30 a. m. today set a new record, the city engineer's office reports.

The balmy mercury reading eclipsed a former record for the date of 71 degrees set in 1945 on this particular day.

A low of 48 degrees was registered by the engineer's office during the night.

Council Approves Action On 2 City Sewer Projects

Negotiations with the New York Central Railroad for purchase of a site for a pumping station required for a Fifth Ward sewer project were approved by the Common Council, which also last night authorized necessary emergency action to solve a recently discovered sewer problem in the 11th Ward.

Alderman Samuel J. Perry (R) Fifth Ward criticized delay in acquiring a site for the pumping station. He held that all phases of the project should have been determined and planned before the project started.

His Reason to Blow Top

"Is that the way to run the city?" he asked, and added: "Then you wonder why a man comes up here and blows his top."

The aldermen also voted a third franchise for television cable service. It goes to the Kingston Wired Television Co.

A resolution presented by Alderman William G. Davis (L) 13th Ward, and seconded by Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, asks for the widening of Abeel Street in the vicinity of the railroad bridge. It was referred to the Board of Public Works.

Line Found Crushed

During construction of a new sewer line in the South Washington and Pettit Avenuue areas it was found that a section of an old sewer line which takes drainage from Lawton Park and other high areas has been crushed and that emergency action was required.

Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, noted that details of the problem were unknown at the time, but he planned to have full estimates of cost for the next meeting.

Mayor Radel, in a letter explaining the downtown sewer project (North Street area) said "The property involved at the location of the proposed pumping station" is owned by the railroad. It is 100 by 100 feet.

The mayor said he and the city engineer "have carried on preliminary negotiations for the land, and he requested that the council "grant permission to my office" so that negotiations can be continued.

Asks About Money

Alderman Perry noted that money for the project was approved last year. He said it was his understanding that all de-

Late Water Board Travel Bid Scored

Criticism of the water board and department stirred in the Common Council again last night when it was noted that a request to attend a meeting in Rochester came too late.

Action on the request of Edmund T. Cloonan, department superintendent, and Howard S. Pangburn, board president, to attend the spring meeting of the New York Section, American Water Works Association, was delayed when it was noted that the session opened April 7 (Tuesday) and closed April 9.

Apparently There: Ryan

Majority Leader James K. Ryan (D) 10th Ward, noted that the two were apparently already at the session, and Alderman William K. Bodenweber (D) Ninth Ward said:

"This is another example of our water department's action."

The aldermen approved an ordinance to protect local photographers against tactics of swindling itinerants, authorized the mayor to investigate the possibility of another adjustment in social security coverage for city employes, and heard first reading of a law that will change the payroll schedule for some city employes.

Favor Downtown Building

A resolution approving use of a downtown building for county offices was adopted, a proposed charge of 10 cents an hour on some uptown parking meters was left in committee, and a committee was named to assist in arranging for observance of Memorial Day.

When the lateness of the application of Superintendent Cloonan of the water department, and Howard S Pangburn, water board president, was discussed, Alderman Samuel J. Perry (R) Fifth Ward, asked if they were allowed to go out of

Secession From State Study Voted by Gotham

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City is still flirting with the idea of becoming a state.

Meanwhile, the wrangle between city and state leaders over money—a quarrel that underlies all the statehood talk—continues.

Tuesday, the City Council voted 23 to 1 to appoint a committee to study the possibility of the Democratic city's secession from Republican - controlled New York State.

Joseph T. Sharkey, Brooklyn Democrat and council majority leader who sponsored the secession resolution, painted a rosy picture of the city as the nation's 51st state. With about eight million inhabitants, it would be eighth largest.

Across his glowing picture he drew a rainbow of hope, with a pot of gold at the end containing more than two billion dollars, his estimate of the revenue the city could collect as a state. A considerable amount of the glitter in the imaginary pot came from the fact that none of it would have to go to the State of New York.

The one jarring note in the rhapsody came from the council's only Republican member, Stanley M. Isaacs, of Manhattan, who voted against the proposal.

"What would you do with all the headaches you'd get?" he demanded of his colleagues. "What would you do with all the criminals you now farm out to institutions Upstate? Would you turn Staten Island (part of the city) into an Alcatraz?"

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a Democrat, commented recently that he thought the statewood idea was "interesting," but he doubted the State Legislature would approve.

A resolution for secession was introduced in the State Senate two weeks ago and was laughed to death by the Republicans, who control the Legislature and governorship.

In the City Council, Sharkey, warming to his task, somewhat ironically raised the image of the Civil War.

West Virginia seceded from Virginia during that war, he noted and he said it is not too far-fetched

Bertrand Urges Reconstruction Work Move Fast

Keen interest in the reconstruction of 4.4 miles on Route 28 (Onteora Trial) from Ford's Garage at Allaben to Phoenicia was displayed Tuesday afternoon at a public hearing at Shandaken Town Hall.

Over 100 persons attended the public hearing which was conducted under the general supervision of Poughkeepsie District Office of the State Department of Public Works.

Will Move Creek

There was little objection to the proposed route and the main theme of the meeting was expressed by Supervisor W. Morton Bertrand who urged that the project "get moving" as rapidly as possible. There is practically no objection to the proposed alignment which will straighten out several curves and in places require the Esopus creek to be moved slightly to accommodate the new alignment.

The proposed alignment was indicated on maps and representatives of the State Department of Public Works explained the new alignment. There are fewer "drastic" changes in alignment of this section than required in the adjoining section running west to Pine Hill.

To Take Property

It will be necessary to move the Town of Shandaken garage at Allaben where there will be a slight change in the bed of the Esopus creek. Just west of Phoenicia at the "dug-way" there will be a considerable change in the creek line and the road will be moved over considerably, taking a large portion of the Gormley mill property.

There is also a change in the creek near Phoenicia to accommodate an alignment change in the road. The Alden House property will be taken, as will other houses in that vicinity.

May Let Contract in Fall

The public hearing held Tuesday afternoon at Shandaken Town Hall at Allaben was conducted in conformance with Section 116 (c) of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956, which provides that State Highway Departments, in connection with submission of plans for a Federal-Aid highway project, may hold hearings at which the

Low Flying Jets Bring Complaints

Complaints received Tuesday afternoon by police about two low-flying jets were referred to officials at Stewart Air Force Base for investigation.

The planes shot over the city early in the afternoon and caused some alarm which resulted in calls to police headquarters.

Residents of Linderman Avenue, Main Street and Grand View Avenue told police the planes barely missed rooftops in their neighborhood as they flashed over the city at an exceptionally low altitude.

Officials at the Stewart Air Force Base said they would investigate the complaints.

Majestic Resolution Will Ask County Buy Through State

The Board of Supervisors of Ulster County will be asked by resolution Thursday evening to direct all departments, including the highway department, to "make full use of state purchasing power available through the Division of Standard and Purchase in New York State."

A resolution to that effect was filed today with the clerk of the board by Supervisor George Majestic (D) of the Town of Gardiner. Supervisor Majestic said he would move for adoption of the resolution Thursday evening.

The board will also be asked under a second resolution of Supervisor Majestic to prohibit the county or any of its officers and departments from doing business with any individual or firm whose officers or employes refuse to sign a waiver of immunity or to testify before a grand jury as to transactions with any other political subdivision.

This resolution, applicable to the county, is practically the same as one adopted unanimously by the Gardiner Town Board

HUDSON-CHAMPLAIN BOOTH — A large painting of the Half Moon, the vessel on which Henry Hudson made his famous exploratory voyage of the river which bears his name, attracts considerable attention at the 12th annual Kingston Lions Club Industrial Exposition and Home Show in the State Armory on Manor Avenue. The oil painting, some five feet high and seven or eight feet long, occupies the central part of an exhibit prepared by the New York State Department of Public Works in cooperation with the State Commission on Historic Observances. This is the painting which Governor Rockefeller will present to Princess Beatrix of The Netherlands when she visits New York State in September. (Freeman photo).

The annual Industrial Exposition and Home Show of the Kingston Lions Club, which drew 2,178, to the opening Tuesday continues through Saturday at the State Armory.

Hours are from 7 to 10:30 p. m. for the event with 125 interesting booths of wide variety.

Highland to Hold Year of History Program Saturday

A proclamation read by John J. Gaffney, Democratic supervisor, Town of Lloyd will officially open the Hudson-Champlain Celebration in that township Saturday, it was announced today.

It will be read in the village square, Highland, starting at 11 a. m. Members of the town board and the clergy will be present.

Prior to the proclamation rite the Highland High School Band will lead a parade from the school to the square. Boys' and girls' groups from various youth organizations will march, and the American Legion Color Guard will take part as the Hudson Champlain Celebration Flag is raised on the village flagpole.

The Apple Blossom Ball information and booster booth and the celebration bulletin board will be unveiled and dedicated as they are placed in front of the flagpole.

On the committee in charge of the program are Lewis C. DiStasi, Sr., chairman; Mrs. Mary Algier, Mrs. Gertrude B. West, Peter Roumelis and David J. Murphy.

Gardiner Won't Buy From Silent Firms

The Town of Gardiner will no longer do business with any firm or individual declining to sign a waiver of immunity and give evidence before a grand jury as to transactions with any political subdivision.

At the monthly meeting of the town board Tuesday evening the board unanimously adopted a resolution presented by Supervisor George Majestic (D), and seconded by Councilman Samuel Stokes (R), prohibiting any officers and departments from transacting any business or entering into any contracts with any "individual, any firm, or any firm employing any individual that has refused to sign a waiver of immunity or to testify and give evidence before a grand jury as to transactions with any political subdivision."

Resigns Assessor Post

The resignation of R. V. O. DuBois chairman of the board of assessors, was received. After over 25 years as a member of the board of assessors of the town, DuBois resigned after accepting a position with the Ulster County Welfare Department.

Supervisor Majestic informed the town board that since DuBois was a Republican, that political party or the local Republican Club should submit a name as a successor. He suggested this be done at the next meeting of the town board so that an appointment could be made to fill the vacancy.

Rash of Governmental Corruption in State

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Policemen stand prominently among the accused in a glaring rash of governmental corruption recently uncovered in New York State.

Scores of former and present office - holders in local governments also are involved in reports and allegations of official misconduct.

Money, in the form of bribes, graft or kickbacks, is the chief factor in most cases.

The New York City police department has been rocked by a series of scandals involving shakedowns of bookies, morals offenses, and a case in which a policeman was accused in a rape-slaying.

Another patrolman was accused of taking a change-maker containing $10 from a parked taxicab. Another received a suspended sentence after admitting the shooting of a teen-ager during a drinking spree. The officer said it was accidental.

One New York policeman was sentenced to jail for stealing $23,346 from the property clerk's office. He said he spent the money on high living.

Piermont Chief Resigns

At Piermont, N. Y., Acting Police Chief John J. Smith submitted his resignation after the State Investigation Commission and the State Police broke up a high-stake poker game in his community.

In Newburgh, a deputy sheriff was indicted on charges of forgery and misappropriation of funds. Authorities said about $500 in bail money was involved.

Buffalo Mayor Accused

In Buffalo, former Mayor Steven Pankow and four present or former councilmen are charged with taking a total of $30,100 in bribes and unlawful fees for city street-paving contracts.

Pankow and three of the others are Democrats. One is a Republican.

Pankow also is accused of evading payment of $43,411 in income taxes while holding the $20,000-a-year mayoral office in 1953-57.

Beacon-Newburgh Men Involved in Giving Kickbacks

NEW YORK (AP) — The FBI arrested eight men in the Newburgh - Beacon area today and charged them with fraud in connection with home improvement loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Arrested were Earl Groza, 38, owner of Atlas Home Improvement and the Hudson Valley Construction Co. in Beacon; Joseph Paul Cafaro, 26, and Anthony Thomaselli, 36, sales representatives of those companies; Sol Gordon, 41, president and treasurer of Orange County Home Improvement Inc., of 11 Campbell St., Newburgh; Irving Greenburg, 51, Marvin Earl Wood, 31, John Corrado, 34, and Donald Cuddeback, 24, sales representatives of Orange County Home Improvement.

Sheriff Gives Data

The men were scheduled to be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner John B. Garrity in Poughkeepsie.

Harvey G. Foster, head of the New York office of the FBI, said the investigation was instituted as the result of information furnished by the Dutchess County sheriff's office in Poughkeepsie, alleging that kickbacks and rebates were reported made to home owners by the owners and salesmen to induce them to submit fraudulent FHA loan applications.

Police Cooperate

"The Poughkeepsie police department furnished full cooperation throughout our investigation, which revealed that the alleged kickback money was used by the home owners to pay Christmas expenses, to purchase automobiles, to pay off personal debts, to pay taxes and finance companies," Foster said.

He said that the FBI's investigation of loans amounting to approximately $63,500 revealed kickbacks ranging from about $500 to $2,500 and totaling about $25,000.

Gordon, Greenburg, Wood and Corrado live in Poughkeepsie. Groza and Thomaselli are residents of Beacon. Cafaro and Cuddeback live in Newburgh.

If convicted, each could be sentenced to two years in prison and fined $5,000.

2nd Conference On Castle Point Set for Saturday

A second conference at Castle Point Veterans Administration Hospital scheduled this week on the curtailment of facilities there, will bring together Congressman Olin Teague of Texas, chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee, and ex-servicemen's groups opposing the cutbacks.

Joseph S. Babiarz of Kingston, Dutchess County legislative officer of Poughkeepsie Post 2566, Veterans of Foreign Wars told The Freeman today he had received word from Theodore Connell, VFW national junior vice commander that the meeting was scheduled for Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

To Inspect Facilities

Congressman Teague will inspect the facilities at Castle Point and meet with leaders of veteran's groups for a discussion of the matter.

Senators Jacob J. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York and Congressman J. Ernest Wharton of the 29th Congressional District were also invited to attend the conference.

Congressman Wharton attended the March 27th conference and toured the hospital at that time.

Francis Magurno, Ninth District commander of the American Legion embracing Ulster and Dutchess Counties has also been notified of the session.

Babiarz pointed out that all veteran's organizations are welcome to attend the conference and make their views known to Congressman Teague.

HUDSON-CHAMPLAIN BOOTH — A large painting of the Half Moon, the vessel on which Henry Hudson made his famous exploratory voyage of the river which bears his name, attracts considerable attention at the 12th annual Kingston Lions Club Industrial Exposition and Home Show in the State Armory on Manor Avenue. The oil painting, some five feet high and seven or eight feet long, occupies the central part of an exhibit prepared by the New York State Department of Public Works in cooperation with the State Commission on Historic Observances. This is the painting which Governor Rockefeller will present to Princess Beatrix of The Netherlands when she visits New York State in September. (Freeman photo).

The annual Industrial Exposition and Home Show of the Kingston Lions Club, which drew 2,178, to the opening Tuesday continues through Saturday at the State Armory.

Hours are from 7 to 10:30 p. m. for the event with 125 interesting booths of wide variety.

Highland to Hold Year of History ProgramSaturday

A proclamation read by John J. Gaffney, Democratic supervisor, Town of Lloyd will officially open the Hudson-Champlain Celebration in that township Saturday, it was announced today.

It will be read in the village square, Highland, starting at 11 a. m. Members of the town board and the clergy will be present.

Prior to the proclamation rite the Highland High School Band will lead a parade from the school to the square. Boys' and girls' groups from various youth organizations will march, and the American Legion Color Guard will take part as the Hudson Champlain Celebration Flag is raised on the village flagpole.

The Apple Blossom Ball information and booster booth and the celebration bulletin board will be unveiled and dedicated as they are placed in front of the flagpole.

On the committee in charge of the program are Lewis C. DiStasi Sr., chairman; Mrs. Mary Algier, Mrs. Gertrude B. West, Peter Roumelis and David J. Murphy.

Gardiner Won't Buy From Silent Firms

The Town of Gardiner will no longer do business with any firm or individual declining to sign a waiver of immunity and give evidence before a grand jury as to transactions with any political subdivision.

At the monthly meeting of the town board Tuesday evening the board unanimously adopted a resolution presented by Supervisor George Majestic (D), and seconded by Councilman Samuel Stokes (R), prohibiting any officers and departments from transacting any business or entering into any contracts with any "individual, any firm, or any firm employing any individual that has refused to sign a waiver of immunity or to testify and give evidence before a grand jury as to transactions with any political subdivision."

Resigns Assessor Post

The resignation of R. V. O. DuBois, chairman of the board of assessors, was received. After over 25 years as a member of the board of assessors of the town, DuBois resigned after accepting a position with the Ulster County Welfare Department.

Supervisor Majestic informed the town board that since DuBois was a Republican, that political party or the local Republican Club should submit a name as a successor. He suggested this be done at the next meeting of the town board so that an appointment could be made to fill the vacancy.

Reports on Oil Prices

A report was also presented by Supervisor Majestic in re-

Calderwood Home In Mt. Marion Destroyed by Fire

Fire reportedly caused by an exploding hot water heater destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Calderwood at Mt. Marion Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Calderwood, who was in the house at the time of the blast, fled to safety with her son, Jeffrey, 14 months old, and Ellen Lifer, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Lifer of Mt. Marion Park. Mrs. Calderwood later was treated by a physician for shock.

The hot water heater off the kitchen of the Calderwood home exploded for some unexplained

Rash of Governmental Corruption in State

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Policemen stand prominently among the accused in a glaring rash of governmental corruption recently uncovered in New York State.

Scores of former and present office - holders in local governments also are involved in reports and allegations of official misconduct.

Money, in the form of bribes, graft or kickbacks, is the chief factor in most cases.

The New York City police department has been rocked by a series of scandals involving shakedowns of bookies, morals offenses, and a case in which a policeman was accused in a rape-slaying.

Another patrolman was accused of taking a change-maker containing $10 from a parked taxicab. Another received a suspended sentence after admitting the shooting of a teen-ager during a drinking spree. The officer said it was accidental.

One New York policeman was sentenced to jail for stealing $23,346 from the property clerk's office. He said he spent the money on high living.

Piermont Chief Resigns

At Piermont, N. Y., Acting Police Chief John J. Smith submitted his resignation after the State Investigation Commission and the State Police broke up a high-stake poker game in his community.

In Newburgh, a deputy sheriff was indicted on charges of forgery and misappropriation of funds. Authorities said about $500 in bail money was involved.

Buffalo Mayor Accused

In Buffalo, former Mayor Steven Pankow and four present or former councilmen are charged with taking a total of $30,100 in bribes and unlawful fees for city street-paving contracts.

Pankow and three of the others are Democrats. One is a Republican.

Pankow also is accused of evading payment of $43,411 in income taxes while holding the $20,000-a-year mayoral office in 1953-57.

Beacon-Newburgh Men Involved in Giving Kickbacks

NEW YORK (AP) — The FBI arrested eight men in the Newburgh - Beacon area today and charged them with fraud in connection with home improvement loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Arrested were Earl Groza, 38, owner of Atlas Home Improvement and the Hudson Valley Construction Co. in Beacon; Joseph Paul Cafaro, 26, and Anthony Thomaselli, 36, sales representatives of those companies; Sol Gordon, 41, president and treasurer of Orange County Home Improvement Inc., of 11 Campbell St., Newburgh; Irving Greenburg, 51, Marvin Earl Wood, 31, John Corrado, 34, and Donald Cuddeback, 24, sales representatives of Orange County Home Improvement.

Sheriff Gives Data

The men were scheduled to be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner John B. Garrity in Poughkeepsie.

Harvey G. Foster, head of the New York office of the FBI, said the investigation was instituted as the result of information furnished by the Dutchess County sheriff's office in Poughkeepsie, alleging that kickbacks and rebates were reported made to home owners by the owners and salesmen to induce them to submit fraudulent FHA loan applications.

Police Cooperate

"The Poughkeepsie police department furnished full cooperation throughout our investigation, which revealed that the alleged kickback money was used by the home owners to pay Christmas expenses, to purchase automobiles, to pay off personal debts, to pay taxes and finance companies," Foster said.

He said that the FBI's investigation of loans amounting to approximately $63,500 revealed kickbacks ranging from about $500 to $2,500 and totaling about $25,000.

Gordon, Greenburg, Wood and Corrado live in Poughkeepsie. Groza and Thomaselli are residents of Beacon. Cafaro and Cuddeback live in Newburgh.

If convicted, each could be sentenced to two years in prison and fined $5,000.

2nd Conference On Castle Point Set for Saturday

A second conference at Castle Point Veterans Administration Hospital scheduled this week on the curtailment of facilities there, will bring together Congressman Olin Teague of Texas, chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee, and ex-servicemen's groups opposing the cutbacks.

Joseph S. Babiarz of Kingston, Dutchess County legislative officer of Poughkeepsie Post 2566, Veterans of Foreign Wars told The Freeman today he had received word from Theodore Connell, VFW national junior vice commander that the meeting was scheduled for Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

To Inspect Facilities

Congressman Teague will inspect the facilities at Castle Point and meet with leaders of veteran's groups for a discussion of the matter.

Senators Jacob J. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York and Congressman J. Ernest Wharton of the 29th Congressional District were also invited to attend the conference.

Congressman Wharton attended the March 27th conference and toured the hospital at that time.

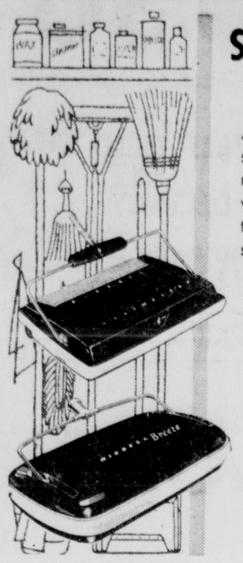

Francis Magurno, Ninth District commander of the American Legion embracing Ulster and Dutchess Counties has also been notified of the session.

Babiarz pointed out that all veteran's organizations are welcome to attend the conference and make their views known to Congressman Teague.

Promised Support

Following the March 27th session Congressman Wharton

Ticket Investigation

NEW YORK (AP) — An attempt to ease some of the jam over buying tickets for Broadway shows has been started by Actors Equity, the union of performers. Equity's target is the block of choice seats for each performance which are allotted to members of the production staff and cast. Some of the tickets turn up in the hands of scalpers. Equity said it intends to ascertain the precise way in which the locations are handled and what legal infractions may be involved.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —Spring is acting more like spring again.

Auto dealers say they've sighted a spring pickup in car sales—something they haven't seen for several years.

The total of the unemployed has dropped — as it should in the spring but badly muffed last year.

And consumers, notably the ladies, are spending more.

The good news about the return of an old-fashioned spring comes from several sources and some of them could be suspected of a tinge of wishful thinking and maybe of propaganda. But mostly they add up to a pleasant spring song indeed.

Auto dealers say they haven't seen a sales pickup in the spring since the auto makers stopped bringing the new models out in late winter and started offering them before the first frost instead.

The administration is jubilant because unemployment in March scored one of its biggest drops for the season in several years. But labor leaders stress that the total still is higher than is deemed normal.

More Outdoor Jobs

Part of the march of men back to work is due to the general business recovery and to the opening up of outdoor jobs. Part is due to the spurt in steel output due to users worrying about a steel strike this summer — and that, too, is part of the spring pattern in those years when a new labor contract is coming up. And part of the March gain in employment is that the early Easter led merchants to hire extra clerks.

Merchants report contentedly that women behaved like women in the spring and bought a lot of finery for their children and themselves.

Men's wear dealers are less jubilant. They report that men are following their usual pattern. Most apparently are putting off buying summer suits until hot weather makes their winter duds uncomfortable.

Spring Spending Up

But consumer spending as a whole is following a springlike trend. The Commerce Department says it is now running at a 300 billion dollar annual clip, up 4 billion from the winter months.

And the sap of confidence is rising in the veins of businessmen themselves. The department says that spending for new plant and equipment is rising more than it at first expected.

One thing's for sure. It's a lot better spring than last year. More like the good old days.

Of course, there's one bad habit showing up, too. In the spring various governments often raise taxes. And this year, they're as springlike as ever.

Health for All

'Play Ball!'

The umpire's cry "Play Ball!" will echo throughout the land this week. April brings baseball as surely as it brings showers and new hats. And thousands of boys of all ages trot joyfully out on the diamond determined to knock one into the stands. Millions more, just as joyfully, prepare to watch.

Even if you count all the Little Leaguers and Middle Sized Leaguers and Police Athletic Leaguers, the spectators of baseball far outnumber the players. Many a man who hasn't held a bat since grade school days can quote batting averages back to Shoeless Joe Jackson. There are even experts who are willing to tell Casey Stengel how to manage the Yankees although they have never set foot on home plate.

The fact is that the Great American Game, as far as most adults are concerned is watching baseball, not playing it. It may be entertainment, but it's not a sport that builds good health. Back in the old days, watching baseball was at least an outdoor sport. Today it's largely practised in front of the television or radio set. This not only eliminates fresh air but also the exercise gained from jumping up and screaming at the umpire.

As a step toward improving the health of the nation, how about starting the Middle Aged League? These are the boys — and girls too — who need to be encouraged to exercise. The coaches, possibly drawn from Little League player ranks, would have to guard against developing too much competitive spirit. Sliding into second might have to be ruled out in the over-40 clubs. Otherwise, as some outstanding Big League players over 40 have demonstrated, baseball is not necessarily a youngster's game. Middle Aged Leaguers will improve their health, not to mention their figures, and have fun doing it. Let's play ball!

Ticket Investigation

NEW YORK (AP) — An attempt to ease some of the jam over buying tickets for Broadway shows has been started by Actors Equity, the union of performers. Equity's target is the block of choice seats for each performance which are allotted to members of the production staff and cast. Some of the tickets turn up in the hands of scalpers. Equity said it intends to ascertain the precise way in which the locations are handled and what legal infractions may be involved.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —Spring is acting more like spring again.

Auto dealers say they've sighted a spring pickup in car sales—something they haven't seen for several years.

The total of the unemployed has dropped — as it should in the spring but badly muffed last year.

And consumers, notably the ladies, are spending more.

The good news about the return of an old-fashioned spring comes from several sources and some of them could be suspected of a tinge of wishful thinking and maybe of propaganda. But mostly they add up to a pleasant spring song indeed.

Auto dealers say they haven't seen a sales pickup in the spring since the auto makers stopped bringing the new models out in late winter and started offering them before the first frost instead.

The administration is jubilant because unemployment in March scored one of its biggest drops for the season in several years. But labor leaders stress that the total still is higher than is deemed normal.

More Outdoor Jobs

Part of the march of men back to work is due to the general business recovery and to the opening up of outdoor jobs. Part is due to the spurt in steel output due to users worrying about a steel strike this summer — and that, too, is part of the spring pattern in those years when a new labor contract is coming up. And part of the March gain in employment is that the early Easter led merchants to hire extra clerks.

Merchants report contentedly that women behaved like women in the spring and bought a lot of finery for their children and themselves.

Spring Spending Up

But consumer spending as a whole is following a springlike trend. The Commerce Department says it is now running at a 300 billion dollar annual clip, up 4 billion from the winter months.

And the sap of confidence is rising in the veins of businessmen themselves. The department says that spending for new plant and equipment is rising more than it at first expected.

One thing's for sure. It's a lot better spring than last year. More like the good old days.

Of course, there's one bad habit showing up, too. In the spring various governments often raise taxes. And this year, they're as springlike as ever.

Health for All

'Play Ball!'

The umpire's cry "Play Ball!" will echo throughout the land this week. April brings baseball as surely as it brings showers and new hats. And thousands of boys of all ages trot joyfully out on the diamond determined to knock one into the stands. Millions more, just as joyfully, prepare to watch.

Even if you count all the Little Leaguers and Middle Sized Leaguers and Police Athletic Leaguers, the spectators of baseball far outnumber the players. Many a man who hasn't held a bat since grade school days can quote batting averages back to Shoeless Joe Jackson. There are even experts who are willing to tell Casey Stengel how to manage the Yankees although they have never set foot on home plate.

The fact is that the Great American Game, as far as most adults are concerned is watching baseball, not playing it. It may be entertainment, but it's not a sport that builds good health. Back in the old days, watching baseball was at least an outdoor sport. Today it's largely practised in front of the television or radio set. This not only eliminates fresh air but also the exercise gained from jumping up and screaming at the umpire.

As a step toward improving the health of the nation, how about starting the Middle Aged League? These are the boys — and girls too — who need to be encouraged to exercise. The coaches, possibly drawn from Little League player ranks, would have to guard against developing too much competitive spirit. Sliding into second might have to be ruled out in the over-40 clubs. Otherwise, as some outstanding Big League players over 40 have demonstrated, baseball is not necessarily a youngster's game. Middle Aged Leaguers will improve their health, not to mention their figures, and have fun doing it. Let's play ball!

DIXIECRATS ARE RISING

The Dixiecrats, who in 1948 bolted the Democrats and ran their own presidential ticket, are on the march again. The Alabama Democratic executive committee has voted that the state's presidential electors need no longer promise to vote for the national nominee. Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi have already taken similar action, and there is a movement in Texas to do the same thing.

The aim is to keep the Los Angeles convention from favoring advanced civil rights legislation. If the Dixiecrats got enough electoral votes to keep either the Republicans or the Democrats from getting a majority, the House of Representatives would have to choose the president, as it did in 1800 and 1824.

If the election were thrown into the House and that body was deadlocked, it would have a profoundly unfortunate effect on our world position. This is not a very likely outcome, but the possibility does exist. It is a possibility that cooler heads in the South ought to consider very seriously before they push too hard for purely regional goals.

BELTS THAT SAVE LIVES

Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, dramatized one facet of the traffic safety problem when he ordered seat belts installed in his department's staff automobiles. His action was prompted by a Cornell University report which concludes that perhaps 5,500 lives could be saved annually if seat belts were generally used.

The report from Cornell, which has pioneered in traffic safety research, also suggests that if seat belts were standard equipment major injuries could be reduced by about one-third. Whether or not this and the estimate on possible saving of life err on the side of optimism, there is little doubt that universal use of seat belts would substantially reduce the toll of death and injury.

Seat belts are no guarantee against disaster. Some research even suggests that in certain accident situations a belt can do more harm than good. But the heavy weight of evidence indicates that properly designed crash belts are effective. Now, if only the manufacturers would start installing such belts as standard equipment.

CAVE-DIGGING FEVER

To a boy, an earth or clay bank has two obvious purposes: you climb it, or you dig a cave in it. If the boy and his friends become victims of cave-digging fever, watch out!

Boys usually are not content to scoop a shallow cave in the face of a bank. They prefer something deeper, more mysterious—preferably a cavern that can be reached only through a belly-crawling tunnel. The amount of labor they will perform to achieve this would keep a lawn neatly cut all summer long.

The trouble is that caves, especially caves in sandy soil, have a way of collapsing. When they do, boyish fun can become tragedy in an instant.

About the only sure way to keep boys from digging caves is to forbid it, and make the order stick. Parents who don't want to go that far can at least reduce the chances of disaster—by stressing the hazards, by insisting on safety precautions. Cave-digging, in short, is a dangerous game. When boys are allowed to play it, they need adult guidance.

BACK TO EARTH

A buck private in that multitudinous army, the soon-to-be-graduates on the lookout for a job, was attracted to a news item which noted that a certain tight-rope walker "is paid $650 a week to take two 10-minute strolls across a cable that is 50 feet above ground." This, the student decided, is for me: Easy work, big pay.

He was about to offer his services to the circus when he read the rest of the story. It noted that to earn his pay the tight-rope walker was expected to "hop, skip, jump, rope-skip, ride a bicycle, sit on a chair, and appear to be throwing his life away."

It is well known that no young man worthy of his salt would want even to appear to be throwing his life away. Our student's tight-rope career, begun in such a blaze of aspiration, is a thing of memory. He's still looking for a job—any job, so long as it's on the ground. Which is what his ideas on wages are closer to, now.

'These Days'

THE FLOWERS OF SPRING

Apparently the Senate went all agog with Spring, tra-la, etc. The subject under discussion was the national flower and according to Senator Allott of Colorado ". . . Various proposals for designation of our national flower are springing forth like shoots after a wet Spring. They threaten to overrun other, even more vital issues."

The Senator faced this very trying situation:

"I have nothing but the deepest of respect for my midwestern friends who champion the corn tassel. There is no great personal objection on my part to the reproductive significance of this fertile portion of that grand vegetable . . ."

To me, as a city slicker, this was, indeed, novel. I never knew before that corn had a flower. I just thought nature put tassels there to look fancy. I knew what the silk of the corn was for. It was for kids to wrap in newspaper and to smoke when nobody was looking.

Still and all, it depends upon where you come from. If you're a New Yorker, you eat corn in the Summertime, covered with butter and salt and pepper; if you come from Iowa, you eat corn meal mush covered with rich honey and corn bread with globs of yellow butter; if you come from the South, you eat hominy which they say is made from corn although the resemblance is coincidental. Finally, if you come from Kentucky, the corn is whiskey and is called bourbon.

But does that make the tassel the national flower? Well, Senator Allott did not beg the question. In the "spirit of Webster, Clay and Calhoun," he offered the carnation as the national flower.

The reason why the carnation is superior to the corn tassel, according to Senator Allott, is that it offers no problems, no thorns, no foliage drop-off, virtually no allergic effects. Of course, the corn tassel can be symbolic of many problems and allergies, including the possibility of the intemperate putting a bun on, as the expression goes. I cannot avoid quoting the Senator's grand peroration on the carnation:

"In selecting something so beautiful as a national flower should be, let us cultivate the good which makes America. Let us not mock the flower or mimic other nations. Let us not quarrel over such matters. Let us unite behind the carnation. Let us resolve this floral dispute by forging the second 'great compromise.' "

My good friend, Senator Dirksen, went historical on the subject and quoteth concerning the War of the Roses between the Houses of York and Lancaster in jolly old England. But we need not concern ourselves with such ancient matters. Let us stick to horticulture.

Senator Keating of New York, who is new to the Senate, had been sent a carnation by Senator Allott, for which the learned gentleman from New York thanked the distinguished gentleman from Colorado. Senator Keating, however, was for neither the carnation nor the corn tassel. His favorite is the rose, which according to the learned Senator from New York has been on this continent 33,000,000 years, which makes it native indeed. He said, in fact, that fossils of the ancient rose were found in Colorado which should have an enormous influence on the Senator from that state, as Senators are supposed to favor whatever comes from their own state. This is the way the game is played.

Senator Allott replied that he was without antagonism to the beautiful and fragrant rose but five other countries had adopted the rose as their national flower. That, indeed, does present a serious quandary. Shall the United States imitate other countries? Have we become so lowly that we must imitate foreigners even as regards our flowers?

At this point, I rest my essay into horticulture, except to point out that Senator Morton of Kentucky who ought to know about corn, informed the Senate that the corn tassel is only the male part of the flower. Senator Paul Douglas, who is a profound scholar in the field of economics and is not to be diverted by the trivialities of beauty and sex, announced his undying devotion to the corn tassel.

Trachoma Is One More Dread Disease on the Way Out

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

It is easy to forget how much progress has been made in the conquest of disease, since we still have many unsolved problems and what appear to be new ones are constantly arising.

However, once in a while I should like to devote a discussion to a disorder which is on its way out. One such is what was once a tragic cause of suffering and blindness, known as trachoma.

The eye disease formerly caused a great deal of trouble among American Indians and was common among the residents of the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky and the farmers of Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota. At last reports it is still the chief cause of blindness in some parts of the Middle East.

The first signs of trachoma are similar to those of any other acute inflammation of the outer part of the eye. The eye appears inflamed and thickened. Little blisterlike bodies appear around the edges within a few days.

In three or four weeks the thickening and other signs become typical of trachoma and are easy to distinguish from other inflammations of the eye.

The cause of this condition is a virus, which unlike ordinary germs, is too small to see under the microscope. Among the other symptoms, pain and sensitiveness to light may be severe.

In the late stages of this dangerous disease the eyelid tends to drop down and the lids may become deformed. The disease causes scarring of some of the tender tissues of the eye. This is what causes the blindness.

A correct and early diagnosis is of vital importance. Many treatments which are useful in other eye diseases, however, are not satisfactory for trachoma.

Some years ago the treatment consisted in painful and lengthy scraping off of the diseased tissues. Even today, however, if the condition has lasted for a long time, surgery may be necessary.

But the improved outlook for the sufferer from trachoma comes from the use of the sulfa drugs or antibiotics. This is one of the few virus diseases which respond to such preparations. Several of them, whether used locally, by injection, or by mouth, are highly effective in the early stages of the disease.

By the use of these preparations, and by recognizing trachoma as an infectious disease spread from person to person, it is becoming a constantly less important cause of blindness and should soon be eliminated entirely.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A plan to establish an "Order of the United States" to honor a score of Americans for outstanding achivements of the year is being considered here.

It is one phase of a much broader program to promote a greater appreciation of brainpower in the United States and to pay honor to scholars as real leaders of the country.

The award system proposed would be made equivalent to knighthood in England or the Legion of Honor in France.

The U. S. armed services now give the Distinguished Service Cross for exceptional military careers. The Distinguished Service Medal is awarded for exceptional contributions to government, beyond the call of duty.

The World Almanac lists some 300 civilian awards made by private organizations for everything from Atlantic City's Miss America to the Hollywood Oscars. But there is now no government recognition of intellectual achivement.

THE IDEA BACK OF ALL THIS comes from Dr. James R. Killian, special assistant to President Eisenhower for science and technology, and Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation.

What these two scientific leaders are really trying to do is accelerate public appreciation of learning, scientific and liberal arts education and, in general, "the pursuit of excellence."

This theme for a national campaign was inspired by the title of a recent Rockefeller Brothers Fund report on educational needs and future development of America.

In plainer language, there is a feeling that good students, great intellects and eggheads in general should be made heroes in America and not just laughed at.

Drs. Killian and Waterman took their idea to the Advertising Council to see if that public service organization would undertake national publicity to change U. S. thought patterns so as to build up respect for brains.

THE NEED FOR SUCH A reorientation of opinion is coupled with the need to educate more teachers and scientists in the United States. It is considered necessary for national survival to overcome the challenge of Russian higher education.

Under the auspices of the Stern Foundation, a conference on this subject was held recently at Princeton.

It produced a number of ideas. One was to award "letters" to high school graduates who stand at the top of the class, right along with the athletes. This is being tried in some cities now, with reported success.

Another was the proposal for an "order of the United States," to give 20 awards a year to people like Dr. Jonas Salk, developer of polio vaccine.

It was pointed out that in England, Dr. Salk would now be "Sir Jonas." In Russia he would be a Hero of the Soviet Union. In the United States he got a presidential citation, the Lions Club award, an insurance company's Criss award with $10,000 and much public acclaim, but no top U. S. honor—because there isn't any to give him.

THEODORE S. REPPLIER, president of Advertising Council who put forwerd the "Order of the United States" idea, thinks that each such award should carry a $10,000 prize. The 20 awards would cost $200,000 a year. This would be cheap for the results, if it was an incentive for great achievement.

Mr. Repplier's idea is that the "pursuit of excellence" theme would have to be promoted at the top. If the thinking of from 2 to 10 per cent of the people could be changed, the campaign might be considered effective. A 10-year campaign might be necessary for this result.

Advertising Council has not yet decided whether it will tackle this new assignment, but it is being considered. In the past, Advertising Council has conducted campaigns for better schools, aid to higher education, savings bonds, blood collection, traffic safety, forest fire prevention, "Peoples' Capitalism," increased registration for voting and greater financial support for political parties.

Once a campaign is accepted by Advertising Council, a volunteer advertising agency contributes its services and newspapers, magazines, broadcasters and other media co-operate in carrying the message to the public.

School Segregation by Sex Seen in High Court Ruling

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Segregation of men or women in schools controlled by state authority has just been upheld, in effect, by Supreme Court of the United States. Two white women were denied enrollment in an all-male state college in Texas.

This ruling would not have occasioned any surprise five years ago, because the states previously were allowed to use their own discretion in deciding what pupils should be admitted to public educational institutions.

But, in view of the fact that the Supreme Court in 1954 said that discrimination on account of race or color could produce a feeling of "inferiority" and that mixed classes are beneficial from an educational standpoint the query now is whether women haven't just as much right to use that argument with respect to discrimination against them because of sex. In fact, in appealing the current case to the Supreme Court, the two women cited the 1954 decision and argued that a woman is a "person" just as much as is a Negro. They pointed out that the Fourteenth Amendment says "all persons born or naturalized in the United States" are citizens.

Nineteenth Amendment Cited

"Are women people?" was the heading of a weekly column by the late Alice Duer Miller, famous novelist, more than forty years ago in what was then the New York Tribune. The question was finally answered by the adoption in 1920 of the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which declares:

"The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

Many of us true liberals—or "progressives," as we were known in those days — had not thought an amendment was necessary because the Fourteenth Amendment had already forbidden the states to deny the "equal protection of the laws" and had said the "privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States" cannot be abridged by any state. Certainly women were entitled to be classified as citizens.

But, since neither voting nor sex nor color nor education was mentioned in the Fourteenth Amendment, the Supreme Court of the United States by its decisions indicated that these subjects would have to be treated separately in other amendments. In fact, the Fifteenth Amendment—which declares that voting rights shall not be denied or abridged on account of race or color—was adopted a year later than the Fourteenth because it was desired by Congress to make clear that voting rights, usually prescribed by the states, should not be abridged because of race or color.

So, inasmuch as there was no tendency in those days to rely on the Supreme Court to amend the Constitution to give women the "equal protection of the laws" in respect to voting rights, even though they are citizens, many of us enthusiastically supported the adoption of the Nineteenth Amendment that would at last — as we thought — put women on a basis of equality with men.

But the Supreme Court this week has dashed our hopes once more. Evidently, because discrimination in educational institutions of a public character by reason of sex was not mentioned in the Fourteenth Amendment, it will be necessary to seek a new amendment that will forbid the exclusion of any female citizen from such schools.

It is, to be sure, the principle of the thing which is bothersome. Many women prefer to go to separate schools — in fact, some believe their opportunities for an education are much better when what they consider the lower intelligence quotient of the male sex is not present in the classroom. But even those women who may feel that way about their superiority will not relish any court ruling which says, in effect, that they can be barred by law from associating in the schoolroom with members of the opposite sex. They have never believed that any physical characteristic should diminish their rights as citizens.

There may be some men, too, who will object to the discrimination and who would prefer desegregation of the sexes. But the Supreme Court has spoken, and its decisions and rulings must be obeyed, for they are "the law of the land." These are days, moreover, when the Supreme Court as an institution must not be "undermined." Indeed, there have recently been outcries that the rulings of the highest court must not even be subjected to severe criticism.

So the alternative is to abide by the ruling and try for a constitutional amendment which will give women the equality they had long thought they already possessed as citizens. But they must be careful not to agitate too vigorously, lest they be charged with "massive resistance."

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, April 8 — One night of late, Jess Krueger, a veteran of 50 years in that which he still unabashedly calls "the newspaper game," broke through the service of some garrulous gar's of the same background to claim the floor for a memoir. He then descanted about as follows:

In the office of the Chicago American, a loft building on West Madison Street, about November, 1904, a stranger hit the city desk for a job and was turned away by Jim Bicket, a baldish, figety man with a habit of marking blue lines on his scalp with his copy pencil. A few days later the man was back and Bicket, not looking up, poked a clipping at him on the end of his long shears and said: "Get me a picture of this girl!"

Mr. Bicket did not expect him back. All the papers in town, eight of them at the time, had been using standard wiles and ruses of a time when picture-chasing was one of the most important activties of our journalism. We chased pictures by sneaking into houses through open windows and unlocked doors, by masquerading as gas-meter readers and assessors of household furniture, which then was somewhat sketchily taxed, by starting commotions in the alley and drawing the household out onto the back porch, and by canvassing all known friends of the families involved and all the photographers in town. The picture was almost as important as the story itself and the beatiful girl in this case had become involved in an experience which made her, for the moment, as important in the Chicago circulation as Kaiser Wilhelm would be 10 years later.

In about two hours, the young stranger was at Mr. Bicket's desk with a photo portrait of the girl, and the Chicago American office, in which uproar was normal, went stark, staring crazy. The artists left their boards over by the windows, Dean Cornwell, Karl Palenske and Fred Hoffman, all destined for fame, and joined the mad jamboree around the puzzled young stranger. Louie, the consumptive office boy, joined in, a waif from New York who was always cadging quarters for cough medicine. The elevator boy, named Chicken Duffy, abandoned his mule-power lift. He was a fighter in stealthy productions held in barns and back rooms in Aurora, Peoria and Kewanee.

Amid all this, Mr. Bicket almost forgot to put the picture in the paper, but bethought himself in time to scoop the town in a coup which, in actual fact, has come down the ages as a classical if paltry triumph. When the madhouse had calmed down to its wonted fanaticism, Mr. Bicket took the new man into his private office to get his name for the payroll and to ask him, under seal of confidence, how he had got the picture. If he had found it necessary to murder or burgle, Mr. Bicket would not insist on knowing, but in view of prolonged failure by so many dedicated men unhampered by dictates of decency, he would just like to know for his own information.

"No objection at all," the young man said. "I walked up to the door, rang the bell, told the lady who I was and asked for it and she gave it to me."

Mr. Bicket put him on the payroll for $25 a week and two weeks later the new hand brought down his family from Minneapolis and began to hew out a career, which, as Mr. Krueger and others have agreed, is still honored as one of the greatest in the aspects of our journalism which prevailed among us before Afghanistanism and cosmic celebration set in.

Mr. Krueger and the other Pickwickians present rose and quietly toasted Arthur James Pegler, who still writes letters of great beauty and spirit on his prehistoric double-deck Smith Premier Invisible with a ribbon as wide as a bathmat, at his palace of retirement in Rancho Toda La Vista outside Tucson.

"Did he get a bonus for that?" Mr. Krueger asked.

"No," I said. "As a matter of fact he got fired. About 1913, in one of those flings at literature which reporters were always trying, he wrote a fiction version called 'That Hahnheimer Story, which he sold to adventure, or Argosy, for $50. Jim Bicket and Moe Koenigsberg, the managing editor at the time of the coup, were grossly offended by the graphic and faithful portrayals of their features and antics and so, nine years afterward, Bicket canned him."

DIXIECRATS ARE RISING

The Dixiecrats, who in 1948 bolted the Democrats and ran their own presidential ticket, are on the march again. The Alabama Democratic executive committee has voted that the state's presidential electors need no longer promise to vote for the national nominee. Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi have already taken similar action, and there is a movement in Texas to do the same thing.

The aim is to keep the Los Angeles convention from favoring advanced civil rights legislation. If the Dixiecrats got enough electoral votes to keep either the Republicans or the Democrats from getting a majority, the House of Representatives would have to choose the president, as it did in 1800 and 1824.

If the election were thrown into the House and that body was deadlocked, it would have a profoundly unfortunate effect on our world position. This is not a very likely outcome, but the possibility does exist. It is a possibility that cooler heads in the South ought to consider very seriously before they push too hard for purely regional goals.

BELTS THAT SAVE LIVES

Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, dramatized one facet of the traffic safety problem when he ordered seat belts installed in his department's staff automobiles. His action was prompted by a Cornell University report which concludes that perhaps 5,500 lives could be saved annually if seat belts were generally used.

The report from Cornell, which has pioneered in traffic safety research, also suggests that if seat belts were standard equipment major injuries could be reduced by about one-third. Whether or not this and the estimate on possible saving of life err on the side of optimism, there is little doubt that universal use of seat belts would substantially reduce the toll of death and injury.

Seat belts are no guarantee against disaster. Some research even suggests that in certain accident situations a belt can do more harm than good. But the heavy weight of evidence indicates that properly designed crash belts are effective. Now, if only the manufacturers would start installing such belts as standard equipment.

CAVE-DIGGING FEVER

To a boy, an earth or clay bank has two obvious purposes: you climb it, or you dig a cave in it. If the boy and his friends become victims of cave-digging fever, watch out!

Boys usually are not content to scoop a shallow cave in the face of a bank. They prefer something deeper, more mysterious—preferably a cavern that can be reached only through a belly-crawling tunnel. The amount of labor they will perform to achieve this would keep a lawn neatly cut all summer long.

The trouble is that caves, especially caves in sandy soil, have a way of collapsing. When they do, boyish fun can become tragedy in an instant.

About the only sure way to keep boys from digging caves is to forbid it, and make the order stick. Parents who don't want to go that far can at least reduce the chances of disaster—by stressing the hazards, by insisting on safety precautions. Cave-digging, in short, is a dangerous game. When boys are allowed to play it, they need adult guidance.

BACK TO EARTH

A buck private in that multitudinous army, the soon-to-be-graduates on the lookout for a job, was attracted to a news item which noted that a certain tight-rope walker "is paid $650 a week to take two 10-minute strolls across a cable that is 50 feet above ground." This, the student decided, is for me: Easy work, big pay.

He was about to offer his services to the circus when he read the rest of the story. It noted that to earn his pay the tight-rope walker was expected to "hop, skip, jump, rope-skip, ride a bicycle, sit on a chair, and appear to be throwing his life away."

It is well known that no young man worthy of his salt would want even to appear to be throwing his life away. Our student's tight-rope career, begun in such a blaze of aspiration, is a thing of memory. He's still looking for a job—any job, so long as it's on the ground. Which is what his ideas on wages are closer to, now.

'These Days'

THE FLOWERS OF SPRING

Apparently the Senate went all agog with Spring, tra-la, etc. The subject under discussion was the national flower and according to Senator Allott of Colorado ". . . Various proposals for designation of our national flower are springing forth like shoots after a wet Spring. They threaten to overrun other, even more vital issues."

The Senator faced this very trying situation:

"I have nothing but the deepest of respect for my midwestern friends who champion the corn tassel. There is no great personal objection on my part to the reproductive significance of this fertile portion of that grand vegetable . . ."

To me, as a city slicker, this was, indeed, novel. I never knew before that corn had a flower. I just thought nature put tassels there to look fancy. I knew what the silk of the corn was for. It was for kids to wrap in newspaper and to smoke when nobody was looking.

Still and all, it depends upon where you come from. If you're a New Yorker, you eat corn in the Summertime, covered with butter and salt and pepper; if you come from Iowa you eat corn meal mush covered with rich honey and corn bread with globs of yellow butter; if you come from the South, you eat hominy which they say is made from corn although the resemblance is coincidental. Finally, if you come from Kentucky, the corn is whiskey and is called bourbon.

But does that make the tassel the national flower? Well, Senator Allott did not beg the question. In the "spirit of Webster, Clay and Calhoun," he offered the carnation as the national flower.

The reason why the carnation is superior to the corn tassel, according to Senator Allott, is that it offers no problems, no thorns, no foliage drop-off, virtually no allergic effects. Of course, the corn tassel can be symbolic of many problems and allergies, including the possibility of the intemperate putting a bun on, as the expression goes. I cannot avoid quoting the Senator's grand peroration on the carnation:

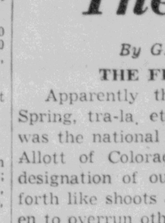

"In selecting something so beautiful as a national flower should be, let us cultivate the good which makes America. Let us not mock the flower or mimic other nations. Let us not quarrel over such matters. Let us unite behind the carnation. Let us resolve this floral dispute by forging the second 'great compromise.'"

My good friend, Senator Dirksen, went historical on the subject and quoteth concerning the War of the Roses between the Houses of York and Lancaster in jolly old England. But we need not concern ourselves with such ancient matters. Let us stick to horticulture.

Senator Keating of New York, who is new to the Senate, had been sent a carnation by Senator Allott, for which the learned gentleman from New York thanked the distinguished gentleman from Colorado. Senator Keating, however, was for neither the carnation nor the corn tassel. His favorite is the rose, which according to the learned Senator from New York has been on this continent 33,000,000 years, which makes it native indeed. He said, in fact, that fossils of the ancient rose were found in Colorado which should have an enormous influence on the Senator from that state, as Senators are supposed to favor whatever comes from their own state. This is the way the game is played.

Senator Allott replied that he was without antagonism to the beautiful and fragrant rose but five other countries had adopted the rose as their national flower. That, indeed, does present a serious quandary. Shall the United States imitate other countries? Have we become so lowly that we must imitate foreigners even as regards our flowers?

At this point, I rest my essay into horticulture, except to point out that Senator Morton of Kentucky who ought to know about corn, informed the Senate that the corn tassel is only the male part of the flower. Senator Paul Douglas, who is a profound scholar in the field of economics and is not to be diverted by the trivialities of beauty and sex, announced his undying devotion to the corn tassel.

Trachoma Is One More Dread Disease on the Way Out

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

It is easy to forget how much progress has been made in the conquest of disease, since we still have many unsolved problems and what appear to be new ones are constantly arising.

However, once in a while I should like to devote a discussion to a disorder which is on its way out. One such is what was once a tragic cause of suffering and blindness, known as trachoma.

The eye disease formerly caused a great deal of trouble among American Indians and was common among the residents of the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky and the farmers of Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota. At last reports it is still the chief cause of blindness in some parts of the Middle East.

The first signs of trachoma are similar to those of any other acute inflammation of the outer part of the eye. The eye appears inflamed and thickened. Little blisterlike bodies appear around the edges within a few days.

In three or four weeks the thickening and other signs become typical of trachoma and are easy to distinguish from other inflammations of the eye.

The cause of this condition is a virus, which unlike ordinary germs, is too small to see under the microscope. Among the other symptoms, pain and sensitiveness to light may be severe.

In the late stages of this dangerous disease the eyelid tends to drop down and the lids may become deformed. The disease causes scarring of some of the tender tissues of the eye. This is what causes the blindness.

A correct and early diagnosis is of vital importance. Many treatments which are useful in other eye diseases, however, are not satisfactory for trachoma.

Some years ago the treatment consisted in painful and lengthy scraping off of the diseased tissues. Even today, however, if the condition has lasted for a long time, surgery may be necessary.

But the improved outlook for the sufferer from trachoma comes from the use of the sulfa drugs or antibiotics. This is one of the few virus diseases which respond to such preparations. Several of them, whether used locally, by injection, or by mouth, are highly effective in the early stages of the disease.

By the use of these preparations, and by recognizing trachoma as an infectious disease spread from person to person, it is becoming a constantly less important cause of blindness and should soon be eliminated entirely.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A plan to establish an "Order of the United States" to honor a score of Americans for outstanding achivements of the year is being considered here.

It is one phase of a much broader program to promote a greater appreciation of brainpower in the United States and to pay honor to scholars as real leaders of the country.

The award system proposed would be made equivalent to knighthood in England or the Legion of Honor in France.

The U. S. armed services now give the Distinguished Service Cross for exceptional military careers. The Distinguished Service Medal is awarded for exceptional contributions to government, beyond the call of duty.

The World Almanac lists some 300 civilian awards made by private organizations for everything from Atlantic City's Miss America to the Hollywood Oscars. But there is now no government recognition of intellectual achivement.

THE IDEA BACK OF ALL THIS comes from Dr. James R. Killian, special assistant to President Eisenhower for science and technology, and Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation.

What these two scientific leaders are really trying to do is accelerate public appreciation of learning, scientific and liberal arts education and, in general, "the pursuit of excellence."

This theme for a national campaign was inspired by the title of a recent Rockefeller Brothers Fund report on educational needs and future development of America.

In plainer language, there is a feeling that good students, great intellects and eggheads in general should be made heroes in America and not just laughed at.

Drs. Killian and Waterman took their idea to the Advertising Council to see if that public service organization would undertake national publicity to change U. S. thought patterns so as to build up respect for brains.

THE NEED FOR SUCH A reorientation of opinion is coupled with the need to educate more teachers and scientists in the United States. It is considered necessary for national survival to overcome the challenge of Russian higher education.

Under the auspices of the Stern Foundation, a conference on this subject was held recently at Princeton.

It produced a number of ideas. One was to award "letters" to high school graduates who stand at the top of the class, right along with the athletes. This is being tried in some cities now, with reported success.

Another was the proposal for an "order of the United States," to give 20 awards a year to people like Dr. Jonas Salk, developer of polio vaccine.

It was pointed out that in England, Dr. Salk would now be "Sir Jonas." In Russia he would be a Hero of the Soviet Union. In the United States he got a presidential citation, the Lions Club award, an insurance company's Criss award with $10,000 and much public acclaim, but no top U. S. honor—because there isn't any to give him.

THEODORE S. REPPLIER, president of Advertising Council who put forwerd the "Order of the United States" idea, thinks that each such award should carry a $10,000 prize. The 20 awards would cost $200,000 a year. This would be cheap for the results, if it was an incentive for great achievement.

Mr. Repplier's idea is that the "pursuit of excellence" theme would have to be promoted at the top. If the thinking of from 2 to 10 per cent of the people could be changed, the campaign might be considered effective. A 10-year campaign might be necessary for this result.

Advertising Council has not yet decided whether it will tackle this new assignment, but it is being considered. In the past, Advertising Council has conducted campaigns for better schools, aid to higher education, savings bonds, blood collection, traffic safety, forest fire prevention, "Peoples' Capitalism," increased registration for voting and greater financial support for political parties.

Once a campaign is accepted by Advertising Council, a volunteer advertising agency contributes its services and newspapers, magazines, broadcasters and other media co-operate in carrying the message to the public.

School Segregation by Sex Seen in High Court Ruling

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Segregation of men or women in schools controlled by state authority has just been upheld, in effect, by Supreme Court of the United States. Two white women were denied enrollment in an all-male state college in Texas.

This ruling would not have occasioned any surprise five years ago, because the states previously were allowed to use their own discretion in deciding what pupils should be admitted to public educational institutions.

But, in view of the fact that the Supreme Court in 1954 said that discrimination on account of race or color could produce a feeling of "inferiority" and that mixed classes are beneficial from an educational standpoint the query now is whether women haven't just as much right to use that argument with respect to discrimination against them because of sex. When the madhouse had calmed down to its wonted fanaticism, Mr. Bicket took the new man into his private office to get his name for the payroll and to ask him, under seal of confidence, how he had got the picture. If he had found it necessary to murder or burgle, Mr. Bicket would not insist on knowing, but in view of prolonged failure by so many dedicated men unhampered by dictates of decency, he would just like to know for his own information.

"No objection at all," the young man said. "I walked up to the door, rang the bell, told the lady who I was and asked for it and she gave it to me."

Mr. Bicket put him on the payroll for $25 a week and two weeks later the new hand brought down his family from Minneapolis and began to hew out a career, which, as Mr. Krueger and others have agreed, is still honored as one of the greatest in the aspects of our journalism which prevailed among us before Afghanistanism and cosmic celebration set in.

Mr. Krueger and the other Pickwickians present rose and quietly toasted Arthur James Pegler, who still writes letters of great beauty and spirit on his prehistoric double-deck Smith Premier Invisible with a ribbon as wide as a bathmat, at his palace of retirement in Rancho Toda La Vista outside Tucson.

"Did he get a bonus for that?" Mr. Krueger asked.

"No," I said. "As a matter of fact he got fired. About 1913, in one of those flings at literature which reporters were always trying, he wrote a fiction version called 'That Hahnheimer Story, which he sold to adventure, or Argosy, for $50. Jim Bicket and Moe Koenigsberg, the managing editor at the time of the coup, were grossly offended by the graphic and faithful portrayals of their features and antics and so, nine years afterward, Bicket canned him."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — State College students here, hoping to put an end to such shenanigans, went on a one-hour togetherness binge Tuesday with these results:

Eighteen students piled atop a two-wheel motor scooter; 29 oozed into a bathtub; 61 girls drank from the same milkshake container at the same time — with straws.

Oh yes — the telephone booth. A bunch tangled themselves inside but nobody bothered to count 'em.

Oklahoma Goes Wet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahomans have kicked out prohibition, but they will have to wait at least two months before buying liquor legally.

Although Oklahomans voted for repeal Tuesday, it does not become effective until the vote is followed up by the state Legislature. This may take from 60 to 90 days.

Near Record for Daley

In other elections Tuesday, Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago polled a near recor dmajority in winning his second term, and Justice E. Harold Hallows won a full 10-year term on the Wisconsin Supreme Court in a close, non-partisan election.

Oklahoma's action left Mississippi the only state with full prohibition. With all but 13 of 3,234 precincts reporting, repeal carried 395,242 to 313,574.

Repeal came in the form of a constitutional amendment allowing sale of packaged liquor in private stores. Prohibition has been in the Oklahoma constitution since the state entered the union 51 years ago.

The Legislature now must validate the amendment and repeal all anti-whisky laws before the legal sale of packaged liquor can begin.

County Option Beaten

Besides repealing statewide prohibition, Oklahomans voted down a proposal to give counties option to keep prohibition in their own boundaries. This was defeated 467,928 to 221,520.

Mayor Daley, a Democrat, received 71.36 per cent of the total ballot in defeating Republican Timoty Sheehan, a former congressman. The final unofficial vote: Daley 777,696, Sheehan 312,-182.

That was the biggest majority bulge in a Chicago mayoral election since 1935, when Edward J. Kelly and his Democratic ticket won 75.8 per cent of the vote.

In Wisconsin, Hallows, first appointed to the court a year ago, defeated Stewart G. Honeck in a tight race decided by the vote in Milwaukee County. Hallows had 268,959 and Honeck 258,300 with 3,013 of the state's 3,428 precincts in.

GOP Wins Three

Meanwhile, Republicans and Democrats continued their argument over the significance of the Michigan election Monday. Republicans won three state education posts for their first statewide victories since 1955. The Democrats won nine education races and the two contests for the State Supreme Court.

Jump From Train Fatal

LINDENHURST, N. Y. (AP)—Peter Brucato, 37, of Lindenhurst, was fatally injured when he jumped from a Long Island Rail Road train while on his way home Tuesday night.

Police said he jumped off an eastbound train without waiting for it to stop at the station.

Archbishop Dies

ATHENS (AP) — Roman Catholic Archbishop Marius Macrionites of Athens died early today of injuries received in an automobile accident April 2.

Ex-Solon Recognized

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP)—A report that Usher Burdick, 80, former North Dakota Republican congressman, might be missing was erased Tuesday night when the touring rancher was recognized here by a salesman acquaintance.

Wes Wahlin, 41, of St. Cloud, said he had seen Burdick as their cars halted for a stop sign. Burdick joined him shortly afterward for a cup of coffee before continuing his long drive from Washington, Wahlin added.

Burdick told the salesman that he had lost some horses from his Williston, N.D., ranch and was returning there to try to identify some that had been found.

Mayor's Sprinkler

men's Association, noting a proposal to create the rank of lieutenant in the fire department, in a letter, urged that "If more officers are needed, let four extra officers be made to fill the need, but hold and maintain, all that exist, plus the department personnel: one chief, three deputies, six captains, three dispatchers and 34 firemen.

7 Captains Desired

The association asks that if the office of lieutenant is created let the rank of captain prevail for seven, instead of three as planned.

It has been proposed that the department have a chief, three deputies, three captains, four lieutenants, two dispatchers, one secretary and 34 firemen.

Reasons for proposing the change, the letter noted, are unknown. It was noted that the duties of a lieutenant would be about the same as those of a captain, and the association feels that the change is unwarranted.

Alderman Lawrence Woerner (D) Fourth Ward, complained of lack of a reply from New York Central Railroad officials after requests for better protection on grade crossings in his ward, and Supervisor Joseph J. Turck, (D) of the ward, granted privilege of the floor, also made a plea for action.

Turck suggested action by Mayor Radel in the effort to get results, and William K. Bodenweber, citing past experiences with the railroad men, said "you might just as well talk to that wall as talk to them."

Proposes Legal Action

Bodenweber proposed that the railroad officials hear from Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly on the crossing problem, and that they be demanded on legal grounds to take action. "There is not one good grade crossing in the city," he said, and the railroad seeks tax relief from municipalities.

Alderman Hastings asked that crossings in his ward be listed when the request is made. Better protection at the crossings is sought because of increased movement over the railroad downtown since the cement plant began operating in the Steep Rocks area. Supervisor Turck also cited a dangerous sidewalk condition on Delaware Avenue, which, he held, the railroad should consider its responsibility.

The city clerk's office was asked to notify the railroad officials of their lack of response.

Gardiner Won't

gard to purchase of road oil through State contract. Last year the town saved over $4,550 through purchasing road oil under that plan.

Prices for the 1959 season for road oil, Majestic reported, would be 11.81 cents per gallon for asphalt cutback; 11.96 per gallon for asphalt emulsion. These prices are for heated, hauled and applied oil. Gallonage is paid for at the unheated stage.

A resolution similar to that adopted by the Gardiner Town Board last evening in relation to "no business" with firms or individuals who decline to give testimony before a grand jury, was presented to the Rosendale Town Board Monday night but failed to get a second and was tabled.

The Kingston City Board of Public Works asked for and received a list of firms, officials of which refused answers to the special grand jury probing alleged kickbacks in Ulster County, for the purpose of avoiding them in business transactions.

Family of Rowan Will Testify in Probe of Death

Members of the family of Vincent G. Rowan will be among 25 witnesses to appear before a Rensselaer County Grand Jury which today began an investigation into the death of Rowan at his Troy home on November 7, 1958, the day after he had appeared before the Ulster County "kickback" grand jury here.

'Cooperative' Here

A prior office manager of the Frank Buckley firm, which sold snow removal equipment in Ulster County, Rowan had appeared several times in Kingston during the probe and the day previous to his death had testified at length before the special grand jury. He was described by Special Assistant Attorney General Bernard Tompkins, in charge of the local probe, as a "very cooperative witness," when he appeared before the grand jury.

In February the "suicide" verdict was questioned and District Attorney John T. Casey of Rensselaer County announced the case would be reopened and a grand jury investigation instituted. At that time it was stated that attemps to ge Rowan to "testify falsely" had been made and it was alleged one of the meetings had been held in October in an Albany hotel at which session a Kingston resident had been present.

May Take Week

Assistant District Attorney John E. S. Burke, reports 20 witnesses have been subpoenaed for appearance at the Rensselaer County Grand Jury investigation which may take a week to complete.

Among those who will appear are Rowan's mother, Mrs. Vincent P. Rowan of Troy. Others who are expected to be called include Mrs. Alfred Bragoli of Cortland, Rowan's sister; Dr. Alfred Bragoli, her husband, and Donald LaDieu, 12, her son.

Rowan on November 6, 1958, was before the grand jury here for some time giving testimony. After his testimony he appeared nervous and on his return to Troy was accompanied by Paul Kirby, a former FBI agent who is associated with the investigation staff of Special Prosecutor Tompkins, who was sent to Troy with Rowan to reassure him. Kirby stayed at the Rowan home for some time and left after being assured by Rowan he was all right.

Reuter, Family for Probe

At the Edwin W. Ashby perjury trial here, there was testimony offered that Rowan had received numerous telephone calls at his home, especially following his visits to Kingston where he had been questioned in regard to the local "kickback" probe. None was received on the night Rowan returned home after his appearance before the grand jury.

Doubt as to the case being one of suicide has been expressed by members of the Rowan family and also Former Investigations Commissioner Arthur L. Reuter, who suggested reopening the case for a complete investigation.

Calderwood Home

reason shortly before 3 p. m. The force of the blast ripped out a partition of the kitchen and flames raced through the frame house as calls were sent for Mt. Marion and Ruby Fire companies. Fire Chief Robert Dachenhausen was in command of firemen as they battled the flames to gain control of the fire.

The entire interior of the residence was completely gutted and furnishings were destroyed.

Others at School

Mrs. Lifer said today she left her daughter, Ellen, in the care of Mrs. Calderwood while she took another child to a doctor's office.

Three other children of Mr. and Mrs. Calderwood were at school when the fire occurred. They were, Judith, Gwendolyn and Roberta. Mr. Calderwood was not at home at the time of the explosion.

Mr. and Mrs. Calderwood and their four children were cared for last night at the homes of friends.

Warringers Offer Home

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Warringer, of 18 John Street, Saugerties, offered the family five rooms in their home until they obtain another place to live. Neighbors and friends and members of Trinity Episcopal Church, Saugerties, offered clothing and furnishings to the family made homeless by yesterday's fire.

Today, efforts were made to salvage some of the appliances from the debris. No estimate of the loss was immediately available.

Frank Rebollo, youth secretary at the YMCA, who went to the site of the fire to salvage articles, said the Calderwood family could use clothing or whatever anybody might care to give in the way of help. It can be donated through the YMCA, he advised. Mr. Calderwood is a member of the boys committee of the organization.

Blast Damages Home

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — A violent explosion Tuesday night damaged the home of the first Negro family in suburban Collins Park.

The explosion was in the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rayfield and their daughter Geraldine, 14. They were not at home.

The blast badly damaged the kitchen and dining room. The Rayfields moved in with friends in Wilmington until repairs are made.

State police said today there "is a strong probability the explosion was caused by a bomb."

The Rayfields moved into the $12,500 home on Feb. 23. In the first week there were demonstrations by neighbors. Rocks were thrown and several arrests were made.

Grand Jury Will Hear Natoli on Assault Charge

Joseph Natoli, 42, RD 2, Box 79, Sawkill, Tuesday night waived preliminary hearing before City Judge Aaron E. Klein when he appeared on a second degree assault charge. The case was referred to the Ulster County grand jury.

Natoli and Philip Krajewski, 50, of 11 Downs Street, were arrested on counter charges of third degree assault as the aftermath of a reported fight at a service station near the East Chester Street By-pass the night of March 8. Krajewski suffered a nose injury which necessitated treatment at Kingston City hospital.

Subsequently an information was made charging Natoli with second degree assault and on motion of Assistant District Attorney John E. Gotelli, the third degree assault charge lodged against Natoli was withdrawn.

Gotelli made a motion Tuesday night to refer the third degree assault charge pending against Krajewski to the grand jury for investigation along with the second degree assault charge against Natoli. The motion was granted by Judge Klein.

Natoli was paroled in custody of Attorney Thomas F. Saccoman pending outcome of the grand jury investigation.

Van Kleeck Pleads Guilty, Sentence Coming April 10th

Harry F. Van Kleeck, Kingston, charged with entrance to the Bob Steele premises on Albany Avenue Extension last December 20, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry Wednesday afternoon in County Court.

Indicted on a burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry charge, Van Kleeck entered the plea to the misdemeanor count after the prosecution had completed its case. Imposition of sentence was postponed until April 10, at 2 p. m. George T. Rea Jr., appeared as counsel for defendant and District Attorney Raymond J. Mino presented the case for The People.

It was alleged Van Kleeck drove a car to the Steele premises, parked it at the rear and entered the building through a rear window. While in the premises a burglar alarm connected to the sheriff's office was set off and deputies and state police, accompanied by Steele, found Van Kleeck in the place when they arrived.

Court recessed until 2 p. m. today after Van Kleeck enetered his plea. A regular special term of County Court was held this morning by Judge Louis G. Bruhn.

Two Persons Hurt As Car Hits Tree

Two persons were treated at Kingston Hospital late Tuesday afternoon when a car operated by Charles Snyder, 41, of Lake Katrine, went out of control on the Old King's Highway (County Highway 41) in Mt. Marion and struck a tree.

Snyder suffered a lacerated lower lip, multiple lacerations of the face and right leg and possible fractured ribs.

A passenger, Christian Shaler of Ruby, received a lacerated forehead and hand.

Theye were taken to the hospital by Fatum ambulance. Time of the mishap was 6:45 p. m.

Troopers Joseph Ventriglia and R. E. Spreen of the Kingston state police reported that Snyder was proceeding south about four-fifths of a mile north of the Sawkill Road when the vehicle went off the west side of the highway and struck a tree.

Majestic . . .

Tuesday evening and one tabled by the Town Board of Rosendale on Monday.

Majestic, who has advocated purchasing through the state contract plan, alleges his town saved over $4,500 on road oil alone last year through use of the state contract plan.

In submitting the resolution on county-wide purchasing through the state contract plan, Majestic calls attention of Chairman Charles Relyea to the 1959 county budget which he states "is higher than any previous budget in the history of Ulster County."

Majestic proposes the following resolution "in the interest of economy:"

"That Ulster County Board of Supervisors direct all its departments within the county, including the highway departments to make full use of state purchasing power available through the Division of Standard and Purchase in New York State."

Council Approves

tails must be settled before such projects can be voted on. He asked if the situation would mean an expenditure of more money, and if the project would be delayed "another two or three months."

Alderman Bodenweber said when aldermen inspected the site, it was "pretty much winter" and he couldn't see how work could be started then." Lack of decision on the pumping station site, he said, probably was an oversight, but the main thing was to keep the project going.

What About Right-of-Way?

Alderman Ryan emphasized that no one was deliberately holding up the project. No one was "crooked" about it, he said, Perry noted that all right-of-way details had not been settled, and Ryan said, that the city's right of eminent domain could prevail in acquiring the land, and he felt sure residents of the area would not be penalized with extra costs.

Mayor Radel in a letter on the 11th Ward sewer problem said the line was in an apparent "blocked or crushed condition" which was brought to light in the past few days. It was impossible at once, he said, to determine the "full extent of damage or the cost of replacement," but he said immediate replacement was necessary.

Authorized by BPW

The mayor said he was authorized by the Board of Public Works to proceed with the project to clean and replace the pipes wherever necessary, and he asked permission of the aldermen to continue and supply detailed information as soon as it is available.

Kingston Wired Television Co., the third concern granted a television cable service franchise, was represented by Attorney James J. Murray of Ellenville. Reports last month indicated that the other two holding franchises, Kingston Cablevision, Inc., and the Kingston Video Antenna Corp., with which Walter Reade, theatre magnate is said to be associated, are in a legal tilt.

Get Traffic Code Copies

Mayor Radel forwarded for consideration of the Council's laws and rules and traffic committees, copies of a traffic code compiled by Lt. Kenneth E. Weidenborner, of the state police when he assisted with reorganization of the police department. It was referred to the committees and the corporation counsel.

The latter and the city judge, he noted, have been given copies for study.

A claim for $100,000 for injuries suffered in a fall last March 12 near the city barn, Hasbrouck Avenue, was filed by Esther Every, of 170 Downs Street, through her attorney, Sherwood E. Davis. She claims she suffered a broken left arm and other injuries when she fell on ice formed in the area by melting snow from the barn roof.

Edward Wiederspeil, of Weidy's Furniture, Route 28, filed one of $571 because of damage to a truck when it hit a tree branch near 350 Washington Avenue last Jan. 5.

Claims Approved

On recommendation of Corporation Counsel Kelly a claim of $139.29 was authorized paid to Julius Tellier, 21 Shufeldt Street, for property damage due to a sewer condition, and another for $54 for damage due to a backed up sewer was filed by Anthony Hines, 67 Garden Street.

After approval by the laws and rules committee the aldermen authorized a business zone designation for the property of Alan R. L. Erskine at Wall and Pearl Streets. The proposal was unopposed at public hearing. A building to house professional offices will be erected on the site.

To Study Permits

After a complaint by Alderman Hastings of a condition in his ward involving a special assessment, the aldermen decided to meet with the planning board to determine how building permits which lead to later controversy are issued in the first instance.

Hastings suggested inviting members of the planning board to meet with the aldermen, and Alderman Sass proposed that the council as a body meet with the board.

Trips Approved

Fire Chief James M. Brett was authorized to attend the New York State Fire Chiefs' Conference in Saratoga Springs, June 7 through 10 and the International Association of Fire Chiefs Conference, Grand Rapids, Mich., Auug. 31 through Sept. 3.

Dr. L. Papadakis, of the city laboratory staff, was granted permission to attend sessions of the International Academy of Pathology in Boston, April 20 through 25, and L. B. Harrington and Miss Mary K. Wiseman, of the laboratory, were authorized to attend a session of the New York State Medical Society and Blood Bank at Buffalo May 12.

Traffic Zone for Buses

A traffic zone for exclusive use of city buses was authorized for an area on North Front Street between Wall and Fair Street. This, it was noted, would eliminate roundabout travel over Crown, John and North Front Streets.

Traffic committee reports were adopted to restrict parking on parts of West Union, Prince, Cornell, Wall, North Front and Andrew Streets, and Linderman Avenue. Flashing type traffic signals were approved for Abeel and Ravine Streets and Greenkill and Clinton Avenues. They have been installed.

Alderman Davis, 13th Ward, in proposing the widening of a narrow section of Abeel Street, said it could be done by filling in the opening between the street and the railroad bridge abutment on the southeast side, and the resetting of utility poles.

Present width of the street in the area he said is less than 17 feet and it is only 19 feet under the bridge.

Asks for Water Relief

The aldermen also asked that "in conjunction with these repairs, Abeel Street in the area between Bernard Street, and the property of Kenneth Riggins at 465 Abeel Street," be considered for reducing the crown of the road to permit drainage away from properties on the westerly side of the street.

Conditions existing on the street for years, he held, will become more acute "with the opening of the bridge at Eddyville." He asked for a reply on the resolution before the next regular council meeting.

Oklahoma Goes Wet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahomans have kicked out prohibition, but they will have to wait at least two months before buying liquor legally.

Although Oklahomans voted for repeal Tuesday, it does not become effective until the vote is followed up by the state Legislature. This may take from 60 to 90 days.

Near Record for Daley

In other elections Tuesday, Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago polled a near recor dmajority in winning his second term, and Justice E. Harold Hallows won a full 10-year term on the Wisconsin Supreme Court in a close, non-partisan election.

Oklahoma's action left Mississippi the only state with full prohibition. With all but 13 of 3,234 precincts reporting, repeal carried 395,242 to 313,574.

Repeal came in the form of a constitutional amendment allowing sale of packaged liquor in private stores. Prohibition has been in the Oklahoma constitution since the state entered the union 51 years ago.

The Legislature now must validate the amendment and repeal all anti-whisky laws before the legal sale of packaged liquor can begin.

County Option Beaten

Besides repealing statewide prohibition, Oklahomans voted down a proposal to give counties option to keep prohibition in their own boundaries. This was defeated 467,928 to 221,520.

Mayor Daley, a Democrat, received 71.36 per cent of the total ballot in defeating Republican Timoty Sheehan, a former congressman. The final unofficial vote: Daley 777,696, Sheehan 312,182.

That was the biggest majority bulge in a Chicago mayoral election since 1935, when Edward J. Kelly and his Democratic ticket won 75.8 per cent of the vote.

In Wisconsin, Hallows, first appointed to the court a year ago, defeated Stewart G. Honeck in a tight race decided by the vote in Milwaukee County. Hallows had 268,959 and Honeck 258,300 with 3,013 of the state's 3,428 precincts in.

GOP Wins Three

Meanwhile, Republicans and Democrats continued their argument over the significance of the Michigan election Monday. Republicans won three state education posts for their first statewide victories since 1955. The Democrats won nine education races and the two contests for the State Supreme Court.

Ex-Solon Recognized

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP)—A report that Usher Burdick, 80, former North Dakota Republican congressman, might be missing was erased Tuesday night when the touring rancher was recognized here by a salesman acquaintance.

Wes Wahlin, 41, of St. Cloud, said he had seen Burdick as their cars halted for a stop sign. Burdick joined him shortly afterward for a cup of coffee before continuing his long drive from Washington, Wahlin added.

Burdick told the salesman that he had lost some horses from his Williston, N.D., ranch and was returning there to try to identify some that had been found.

Mayor's Sprinkler

men's Association, noting a proposal to create the rank of lieutenant in the fire department, in a letter, urged that "If more officers are needed, let four extra officers be made to fill the need, but hold and maintain, all that exist, plus the department personnel: one chief, three deputies, six captains, three dispatchers and 34 firemen.

7 Captains Desired

The association asks that if the office of lieutenant is created let the rank of captain prevail for seven, instead of three as planned.

It has been proposed that the department have a chief, three deputies, three captains, four lieutenants, two dispatchers, one secretary and 34 firemen.

Reasons for proposing the change, the letter noted, are unknown. It was noted that the duties of a lieutenant would be about the same as those of a captain, and the association feels that the change is unwarranted.

Alderman Lawrence Woerner (D) Fourth Ward, complained of lack of a reply from New York Central Railroad officials after requests for better protection on grade crossings in his ward, and Supervisor Joseph J. Turck, (D) of the ward, granted privilege of the floor, also made a plea for action.

Turck suggested action by Mayor Radel in the effort to get results, and William K. Bodenweber, citing past experiences with the railroad men, said "you might just as well talk to that wall as talk to them."

Proposes Legal Action

Bodenweber proposed that the railroad officials hear from Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly on the crossing problem, and that they be demanded on legal grounds to take action. "There is not one good grade crossing in the city," he said, and the railroad seeks tax relief from municipalities.

Alderman Hastings asked that crossings in his ward be listed when the request is made. Better protection at the crossings is sought because of increased movement over the railroad downtown since the cement plant began operating in the Steep Rocks area. Supervisor Turck also cited a dangerous sidewalk condition on Delaware Avenue, which, he held, the railroad should consider its responsibility.

The city clerk's office was asked to notify the railroad officials of their lack of response.

Gardiner Won't

gard to purchase of road oil through State contract. Last year the town saved over $4,550 through purchasing road oil under that plan.

Prices for the 1959 season for road oil, Majestic reported, would be 11.81 cents per gallon for asphalt cutback; 11.96 per gallon for asphalt emulsion. These prices are for heated, hauled and applied oil. Gallonage is paid for at the unheated stage.

A resolution similar to that adopted by the Gardiner Town Board last evening in relation to "no business" with firms or individuals who decline to give testimony before a grand jury, was presented to the Rosendale Town Board Monday night but failed to get a second and was tabled.

The Kingston City Board of Public Works asked for and received a list of firms, officials of which refused answers to the special grand jury probing alleged kickbacks in Ulster County, for the purpose of avoiding them in business transactions.

Family of Rowan Will Testify in Probe of Death

Members of the family of Vincent G. Rowan will be among 25 witnesses to appear before a Rensselaer County Grand Jury which today began an investigation into the death of Rowan at his Troy home on November 7, 1958, the day after he had appeared before the Ulster County "kickback" grand jury here.

'Cooperative' Here

A prior office manager of the Frank Buckley firm, which sold snow removal equipment in Ulster County, Rowan had appeared several times in Kingston during the probe and the day previous to his death had testified at length before the special grand jury. He was described by Special Assistant Attorney General Bernard Tompkins, in charge of the local probe, as a "very cooperative witness," when he appeared before the grand jury.

In February the "suicide" verdict was questioned and District Attorney John T. Casey of Rensselaer County announced the case would be reopened and a grand jury investigation instituted. At that time it was stated that attemps to ge Rowan to "testify falsely" had been made and it was alleged one of the meetings had been held in October in an Albany hotel at which session a Kingston resident had been present.

May Take Week

Assistant District Attorney John E. S. Burke, reports 20 witnesses have been subpoenaed for appearance at the Rensselaer County Grand Jury investigation which may take a week to complete.

Among those who will appear are Rowan's mother, Mrs. Vincent P. Rowan of Troy. Others who are expected to be called include Mrs. Alfred Bragoli of Cortland, Rowan's sister; Dr. Alfred Bragoli, her husband, and Donald LaDieu, 12, her son.

Rowan on November 6, 1958, was before the grand jury here for some time giving testimony. After his testimony he appeared nervous and on his return to Troy was accompanied by Paul Kirby, a former FBI agent who is associated with the investigation staff of Special Prosecutor Tompkins, who was sent to Troy with Rowan to reassure him. Kirby stayed at the Rowan home for some time and left after being assured by Rowan he was all right.

Reuter, Family for Probe

At the Edwin W. Ashby perjury trial here, there was testimony offered that Rowan had received numerous telephone calls at his home, especially following his visits to Kingston where he had been questioned in regard to the local "kickback" probe. None was received on the night Rowan returned home after his appearance before the grand jury.

Doubt as to the case being one of suicide has been expressed by members of the Rowan family and also Former Investigations Commissioner Arthur L. Reuter, who suggested reopening the case for a complete investigation.

Calderwood Home

reason shortly before 3 p. m. The force of the blast ripped out a partition of the kitchen and flames raced through the frame house as calls were sent for Mt. Marion and Ruby Fire companies. Fire Chief Robert Dachenhausen was in command of firemen as they battled the flames to gain control of the fire.

The entire interior of the residence was completely gutted and furnishings were destroyed.

Others at School

Mrs. Lifer said today she left her daughter, Ellen, in the care of Mrs. Calderwood while she took another child to a doctor's office.

Three other children of Mr. and Mrs. Calderwood were at school when the fire occurred. They were, Judith, Gwendolyn and Roberta. Mr. Calderwood was not at home at the time of the explosion.

Mr. and Mrs. Calderwood and their four children were cared for last night at the homes of friends.

Warringers Offer Home

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Warringer, of 18 John Street, Saugerties, offered the family five rooms in their home until they obtain another place to live. Neighbors and friends and members of Trinity Episcopal Church, Saugerties, offered clothing and furnishings to the family made homeless by yesterday's fire.

Today, efforts were made to salvage some of the appliances from the debris. No estimate of the loss was immediately available.

Frank Rebollo, youth secretary at the YMCA, who went to the site of the fire to salvage articles, said the Calderwood family could use clothing or whatever anybody might care to give in the way of help. It can be donated through the YMCA, he advised. Mr. Calderwood is a member of the boys committee of the organization.

Blast Damages Home

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — A violent explosion Tuesday night damaged the home of the first Negro family in suburban Collins Park.

The explosion was in the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rayfield and their daughter Geraldine, 14. They were not at home.

The blast badly damaged the kitchen and dining room. The Rayfields moved in with friends in Wilmington until repairs are made.

State police said today there "is a strong probability the explosion was caused by a bomb."

The Rayfields moved into the $12,500 home on Feb. 23. In the first week there were demonstrations by neighbors. Rocks were thrown and several arrests were made.

Grand Jury Will Hear Natoli on Assault Charge

Joseph Natoli, 42, RD 2, Box 79, Sawkill, Tuesday night waived preliminary hearing before City Judge Aaron E. Klein when he appeared on a second degree assault charge. The case was referred to the Ulster County grand jury.

Natoli and Philip Krajewski, 50, of 11 Downs Street, were arrested on counter charges of third degree assault as the aftermath of a reported fight at a service station near the East Chester Street By-pass the night of March 8. Krajewski suffered a nose injury which necessitated treatment at Kingston City hospital.

Subsequently an information was made charging Natoli with second degree assault and on motion of Assistant District Attorney John E. Gotelli, the third degree assault charge lodged against Natoli was withdrawn.

Gotelli made a motion Tuesday night to refer the third degree assault charge pending against Krajewski to the grand jury for investigation along with the second degree assault charge against Natoli. The motion was granted by Judge Klein.

Natoli was paroled in custody of Attorney Thomas F. Saccoman pending outcome of the grand jury investigation.

Van Kleeck Pleads Guilty, Sentence Coming April 10th

Harry F. Van Kleeck, Kingston, charged with entrance to the Bob Steele premises on Albany Avenue Extension last December 20, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry Wednesday afternoon in County Court.

Indicted on a burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry charge, Van Kleeck entered the plea to the misdemeanor count after the prosecution had completed its case. Imposition of sentence was postponed until April 10, at 2 p. m. George T. Rea Jr., appeared as counsel for defendant and District Attorney Raymond J. Mino presented the case for The People.

It was alleged Van Kleeck drove a car to the Steele premises, parked it at the rear and entered the building through a rear window. While in the premises a burglar alarm connected to the sheriff's office was set off and deputies and state police, accompanied by Steele, found Van Kleeck in the place when they arrived.

Court recessed until 2 p. m. today after Van Kleeck enetered his plea. A regular special term of County Court was held this morning by Judge Louis G. Bruhn.

Two Persons Hurt As Car Hits Tree

Two persons were treated at Kingston Hospital late Tuesday afternoon when a car operated by Charles Snyder, 41, of Lake Katrine, went out of control on the Old King's Highway (County Highway 41) in Mt. Marion and struck a tree.

Snyder suffered a lacerated lower lip, multiple lacerations of the face and right leg and possible fractured ribs.

A passenger, Christian Shaler of Ruby, received a lacerated forehead and hand.

Theye were taken to the hospital by Fatum ambulance. Time of the mishap was 6:45 p. m.

Troopers Joseph Ventriglia and R. E. Spreen of the Kingston state police reported that Snyder was proceeding south about four-fifths of a mile north of the Sawkill Road when the vehicle went off the west side of the highway and struck a tree.

Majestic . . .

Tuesday evening and one tabled by the Town Board of Rosendale on Monday.

Majestic, who has advocated purchasing through the state contract plan, alleges his town saved over $4,500 on road oil alone last year through use of the state contract plan.

In submitting the resolution on county-wide purchasing through the state contract plan, Majestic calls attention of Chairman Charles Relyea to the 1959 county budget which he states "is higher than any previous budget in the history of Ulster County."

Majestic proposes the following resolution "in the interest of economy:"

"That Ulster County Board of Supervisors direct all its departments within the county, including the highway departments to make full use of state purchasing power available through the Division of Standard and Purchase in New York State."

Council Approves

tails must be settled before such projects can be voted on. He asked if the situation would mean an expenditure of more money, and if the project would be delayed "another two or three months."

Alderman Bodenweber said when aldermen inspected the site, it was "pretty much winter" and he couldn't see how work could be started then." Lack of decision on the pumping station site, he said, probably was an oversight, but the main thing was to keep the project going.

What About Right-of-Way?

Alderman Ryan emphasized that no one was deliberately holding up the project. No one was "crooked" about it, he said, Perry noted that all right-of-way details had not been settled, and Ryan said, that the city's right of eminent domain could prevail in acquiring the land, and he felt sure residents of the area would not be penalized with extra costs.

Mayor Radel in a letter on the 11th Ward sewer problem said the line was in an apparent "blocked or crushed condition" which was brought to light in the past few days. It was impossible at once, he said, to determine the "full extent of damage or the cost of replacement," but he said immediate replacement was necessary.

Authorized by BPW

The mayor said he was authorized by the Board of Public Works to proceed with the project to clean and replace the pipes wherever necessary, and he asked permission of the aldermen to continue and supply detailed information as soon as it is available.

Kingston Wired Television Co., the third concern granted a television cable service franchise, was represented by Attorney James J. Murray of Ellenville. Reports last month indicated that the other two holding franchises, Kingston Cablevision, Inc., and the Kingston Video Antenna Corp., with which Walter Reade, theatre magnate is said to be associated, are in a legal tilt.

Get Traffic Code Copies

Mayor Radel forwarded for consideration of the Council's laws and rules and traffic committees, copies of a traffic code compiled by Lt. Kenneth E. Weidenborner, of the state police when he assisted with reorganization of the police department. It was referred to the committees and the corporation counsel.

The latter and the city judge, he noted, have been given copies for study.

A claim for $100,000 for injuries suffered in a fall last March 12 near the city barn, Hasbrouck Avenue, was filed by Esther Every, of 170 Downs Street, through her attorney, Sherwood E. Davis. She claims she suffered a broken left arm and other injuries when she fell on ice formed in the area by melting snow from the barn roof.

Edward Wiederspeil, of Weidy's Furniture, Route 28, filed one of $571 because of damage to a truck when it hit a tree branch near 350 Washington Avenue last Jan. 5.

Claims Approved

On recommendation of Corporation Counsel Kelly a claim of $139.29 was authorized paid to Julius Tellier, 21 Shufeldt Street, for property damage due to a sewer condition, and another for $54 for damage due to a backed up sewer was filed by Anthony Hines, 67 Garden Street.

After approval by the laws and rules committee the aldermen authorized a business zone designation for the property of Alan R. L. Erskine at Wall and Pearl Streets. The proposal was unopposed at public hearing. A building to house professional offices will be erected on the site.

To Study Permits

After a complaint by Alderman Hastings of a condition in his ward involving a special assessment, the aldermen decided to meet with the planning board to determine how building permits which lead to later controversy are issued in the first instance.

Hastings suggested inviting members of the planning board to meet with the aldermen, and Alderman Sass proposed that the council as a body meet with the board.

Trips Approved

Fire Chief James M. Brett was authorized to attend the New York State Fire Chiefs' Conference in Saratoga Springs, June 7 through 10 and the International Association of Fire Chiefs Conference, Grand Rapids, Mich., Auug. 31 through Sept. 3.

Dr. L. Papadakis, of the city laboratory staff, was granted permission to attend sessions of the International Academy of Pathology in Boston, April 20 through 25, and L. B. Harrington and Miss Mary K. Wiseman, of the laboratory, were authorized to attend a session of the New York State Medical Society and Blood Bank at Buffalo May 12.

Traffic Zone for Buses

A traffic zone for exclusive use of city buses was authorized for an area on North Front Street between Wall and Fair Street. This, it was noted, would eliminate roundabout travel over Crown, John and North Front Streets.

Traffic committee reports were adopted to restrict parking on parts of West Union, Prince, Cornell, Wall, North Front and Andrew Streets, and Linderman Avenue. Flashing type traffic signals were approved for Abeel and Ravine Streets and Greenkill and Clinton Avenues. They have been installed.

Alderman Davis, 13th Ward, in proposing the widening of a narrow section of Abeel Street, said it could be done by filling in the opening between the street and the railroad bridge abutment on the southeast side, and the resetting of utility poles.

Present width of the street in the area he said is less than 17 feet and it is only 19 feet under the bridge.

Asks for Water Relief

The aldermen also asked that "in conjunction with these repairs, Abeel Street in the area between Bernard Street, and the property of Kenneth Riggins at 465 Abeel Street," be considered for reducing the crown of the road to permit drainage away from properties on the westerly side of the street.

Conditions existing on the street for years, he held, will become more acute "with the opening of the bridge at Eddyville." He asked for a reply on the resolution before the next regular council meeting.

Local Death Record

Speaker Praises Leaders, Workers For Campaign Role

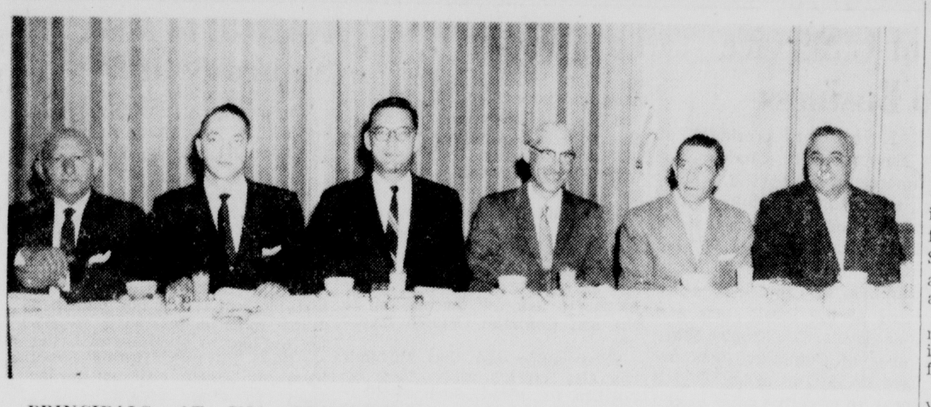

Bernard Ross, prominent New York attorney, addressed the United Jewish Welfare Fund Campaign Workers' Breakfast, Sunday, April 5, at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Ross complimented the campaign leaders and workers for their youth, enthusiasm and devotion to this year's campaign.

Arthur P. Motzkin, campaign chairman, urged that workers start soliciticing immediately, in order that a fast and efficient campaign can be run.

Ross urged the Kingston Jewish community to do its share in assisting the refugee Jews from East Europe, in getting into and settling in Israel. He emphasized that the people of the State of Israel are taxing themselves heavily in order to pay for the basic necessities such as food, clothing, housing and medical care required by the new arrivals. He described the welfare work of the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee in North Africa in providing the Jewish children with their one hot daily meal.

Members of the 1959 Campaign Cabinet include: Arthur P. Motzkin, general chairman; Danial Balsam, Herman J. Eaton, Arthur B. Ewig, Maurice Goldberg, Joseph Honig, Alfred Horowitz, Richard Kalish, Herman G. Rafalowsky, Norman Rafalowsky, Benjamin Schecter, Ben Silverman and Abraham Streifer.

Suffrage was extended to women in Norway in 1907.

Want to be happy at 60?

Then you'd better start preparing for a happy old age in your forties. That's the advice of Dr. Smiley Blanton who has written a book addressed to the middle-aged called "Now or Never."

Doctor Blanton lists several good reasons why a person should begin in his forties to lay the foundation for a happy old age.

The first reason is that in the years between 40 and 50 a person is at an age where "change and personality expansion are still wholly possible."

By age 40, too, a person should be able to see himself clearly, knowing his own strengths and weaknesses and what he wants out of life. Knowing that his personal characteristics will become accentuated as he grows older, it is high time for him to develop his assets and weed out as many of his faults as possible.

"For many people," says Doctor Blanton, "quite literally this decade is the last chance. It is almost useless to point out to a person in his sixties changes that he should make in his state of mind or his way of life. It is too late."

So if you are in your forties you shouldn't just be coasting along, trying to feel a little younger than your years, shutting your eyes to old age which is just around the corner.

You should be figuring out what you want to do and accomplish in the years ahead. You should be making new friends and strengthening old friendships.

You should be learning new skills and developing new interests. You should be trying to overcome the faults that lead to unhappiness and frustration.

You should be living as full a life as possible, instead of limiting yourself to a dull routine.

Ask More Aid, Jobs

Labor Unions Stage Giant Jobless Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor staged a giant rally in the nation's capital today to dramatize the plight of the unemployed. Its slogan: "Wake up Washington."

Over 5,000 delegates, many without jobs, filled the National Guard Armory, biggest hall in the capital, in a mass demand for more government jobless aid and job-making moves.

Problem Remains: Meany

George Meany, president of the sponsoring AFL - CIO, drew applause when he minimized Tuesday's government announcement of a nearly 400,000 drop in March in the idle total. Meany maintained the nation still has a desperate problem with 4,362,000 still unemployed.

Listening to glowing accounts of economic improvement from President Eisenhower's administration, Meany said, "you would think the sky is full of bluebirds —that everything is going to be all right. Well of course if we had a little salt we might eat some of those statistics."

The throng waved such signs as "Wake up Washington," "30 for 40"—meaning 30 hours a week of work for the present 40 hours pay, and "Put America Back to Work."

There were also signs depicting a teed-up golf ball and golf club, and saying "On to Augusta." Eisenhower went to Augusta Tuesday for a golfing vacation.

Lucy Monroe Sings

Lucy Monroe, the soprano whose rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner" has opened many political conventions and World Series baseball games, sang the national anthem at the opening.

Meany, in introducing her, reminded the audience she is a union member.

The Very Rev. George Higgins, director of the Social Action Department, National Catholic Welfare Conference, gave the invocation, saying in part:

"Give us this day our daily bread. May we receive it without envy of injustice."

Illness Hits Many

There were complaints from Ohio and Michigan delegations of illness, blamed by them on turkey dinners they had Tuesday night on railroad dining cars.

Ralph Shadley of Lima, Ohio, said about half a 600-man delegation on a Toledo-Washington train became ill with stomach cramps. About 30 on a Detroit-Washington train were reported to have been sick.

Most of those affected were able to attend the conference.

Meany urged the administration and Congress to embark on a broad public works and economic aid program, not as a spending plan but as what he called a sound investment toward the nation's future.

"It is a safe and sound investment," Meany said. "For the most part the funds invested by the government will be reimbursable. Whatever expenditures are entailed will be more than made up by a tremendous upsurge in tax revenues."

Mitchell to Talk

More than 5,000 delegates were expected at the National Guard Armory, biggest hall in the nation's capital. They represent both union officials and unemployed workers drawn from major employment areas in the East and Midwest.

Besides Meany the program called for addresses from Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, speaking for the Eisenhower administration; Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, and Auto Union chief Walter Reuther, who promoted the rally.

Lions Are Told Of Club History, Governor Duties

Patrick Mataraza, district governor of Lions International, addressed the Kingston Lions Club Tuesday on the history of Lionism in this area and the duties of a district governor.

He said his cabinet numbers 13 men who meet three times a year to discuss the weak and strong points in the district, pointing out that due to this continuing self-appraisal the number of clubs in New York State will increase to 500 more than 25,000 members.

"In these clubs a prime objective is to extend the hand of friendship to those less fortunate than we," he said.

He asked, What does the Lion himself get from this? He answered by saying that in making the community a better place to live the individual Lion receives a satisfaction money cannot buy.

He submitted a full report on the sight conservation work in New York State in 1958:

A total of 6,671 eye examinations; 2,351 pairs of glasses; 84 eye operations; six seeing-eye dogs; 181 white canes; 20 Braille writers; 23 Braille typers;, 105 talking book machines, and 2,993 visits to the blind.

Mataraza said a total of $126,009 was spent in this state in 1958 on sight conservation.

On behalf of Lions International he congratulated the Kingston Lions Club for its share in the work.

He said there are three basic words in Lionism — Attitudes, Thoughts and Results.

"Lionism is comparable to TNT," he said, "except that we interpret it today, not tomorrow."

Puzzled About Nixon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman says he's puzzled why Vice President Richard M. Nixon seems to have dropped out of the news recently, but:

"I hope they (the Republicans) don't bury him until after the next election. He'll be the easiest to lick."

The former chief executive, now 74, declined at a luncheon meeting Tuesday to indicate whom he will back as the Democratic nominee in 1960.

Rash of Gov't

That investigation was ordered after reports of land grabs. In these, public officials allegedly helped real estate operators purchase, at bargain prices, land the county had taken for tax delinquency. One man has gone to jail in the probe and others face prosecution.

Charges also were brought in Suffolk County in connection with alleged attempts to extort money from contractors by using threats of political reprisals.

In Ulster County, the commissioner of jurors was convicted of perjury after he testified before a grand jury investigating alleged kickbacks to county officials in purchases of road equipment.

Utica Probe Continues

A special state investigation is continuing into crime and vice in Utica.

An official of the New York City Real Estate Bureau admitted taking $30,000 in bureau funds.

An investigator in the city's Welfare Department was switched to duty in the suburbs after he told newsmen of cheating and waste in welfare payments.

Police associations, civil service organizations and other groups of government employes point out that the number of police and other public servants involved in scandals are only a relative handful of the hundreds of thousands of public officials in the state.

In New York City, for example, police officials say that the prominence given a dozen lawbreakers who are members of the force should not obscure the fact that there are nearly 20,000 other policemen evidently performing their duties honestly and properly.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors were on the upside in an uneven stock market early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Leading stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point. Quite a few were unchanged. Some wider moves were made by selected issues.

Ford touched a new high for the year after it returned to the 60-cent dividend after recent 40-cent payouts. The stock opened at 62 on a block of 8,000 shares and improved slightly in active dealings.

Rohm & Haas a 22-point gainer Tuesday, was down about 8 on profit taking.

Warner-Lambert spurted about 4 and Polaroid around 2.

Foster-Wheeler eased and North American Aviation was up a fraction.

Blocks of 4,500 and 10,000 shares of Aluminium Ltd. changed hands at 28¼, off ⅜. Chrysler's price held steady.

U.S. government bonds were slightly lower.

C of C Service To Business

H. Kaye Kerr, president of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce, released the following statement outlining how Chambers of Commerce serve business at every level of government.

Chambers of Commerce serve business at the local, state and national levels. The Empire State Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1946 in order to give business an effective voice at the State Capitol.

At the time of its organization, business was pretty much taken for granted. Government-imposed costs of doing business were high and getting higher each year. In a relatively short time the government's attitude toward business has been reversed. It is now recognized by both the executive and the legislative branches of government—by Republicans and Democrats alike—that unnecessary government - imposed costs adversely affect the creation of job opportunities in New York State. A new official policy was established last year with the adoption of the business climate resolution.

Both political parties at their pre-campaign conventions adopted resolutions pledging support of the business climate resolution. It is significant that for the first time when new major tax sources were being sought, no new or higher taxes have been imposed upon business. This is recognition of the fact that business already provides more than its share of State revenue and provides the jobs which form the basis of our economy.

The Empire State Chamber of Commerce is one of the most recently organized state chambers of commerce. The Ohio State Chamber of Commerce is the oldest, organized in 1892.

The Empire State Chamber of Commerce is affiliated with the Council of State Chambers of Commerce in Washington. The Council serves as a national research office for member state chambers of commerce.

The Empire State Chamber of Commerce is a federation of local chambers of commerce and State-wide trade associations. Both local and state chambers of commerce are members of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The National Chamber was organized in 1912 at the request of President William Howard Taft. President Taft felt the need of a representative business organization to advise him on matters of government policy affecting business.

Chamber of Commerce Week will be celebrated in New York State on April 12 to 19 in recognition of the community services performed by local Chambers of Commerce.

Hot, Dry Summer

as reservoirs and wells might be as low as they were in the summer of 1957," he admonishes.

Last fall the prophet foresaw "some cold bad weather this winter." He predicted at that time numerous storms during the fall and winter of 1958—"but most storms will be light." He anticipated less snow than in 1957. He also said that storms, most of which he expected in February and March, "will be more in the form of rain and sleet."

26 Inches of Rain

In this connection, the area had about 26 inches of rain during the period, October 1 to April 1, with 45¾ inches of snow. Last year during the same period we had approximately 60 inches of white stuff. Average temperature for the period was 29 degrees.

Shultis said it had been reported to him that four times as much sand as usual had been used on area highways during the winter and that the hospitals had been crowded with the victims of vehicular accidents due to slippery roads. A generous precipitation of sleet and freezing rain was part of the maestro's forecast.

Secession From

to consider the secession of New York City.

Sharkey charged that Upstate Republicans, through the Legislature, are "robbing us."

Isaacs said that the city was "squandering funds, wasting money and providing a haven for politicians."

"Austerity budget, my eye," he added, referring to Wagner's $2,173,133,999 budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year. "At no time, even in the days of Jimmy Walker, has the city been faced with such reckless financing."

Wagner lopped 32 million dollars from his budget when the state wouldn't give the city all the taxing powers it sought. That mean reducing or eliminating proposed raises for some 80,000 city employes. Employes have been protesting and threatening walkouts ever since.

One of the major disputes was Wagner's request for permission to legalize and tax off-track betting on horse races. The Legislature turned him down.

Late Water . . .

the city "without permission" from the council.

Alderman Ryan said the council's role in voting on such applications was to reimburse those who attended meetings and conventions.

Would Let Them Pay

"If we didn't approve this one," said Bodenweber, "I'd pretty nearly like to see it come out of their own pockets. They forgot to ask for permission at the last Common Council meeting."

Ryan suggested that through the city clerk's office they be notified to submit such applications at "an early enough date." Ryan also noted that through an "edict" of the Board there appeared to be a rebate problem in conjunction with installing some water meters. He noted that a request had been to determine if rebates can be made, and no reply has been received. He suggested that the board also be issued a reminder on that.

Changes Made

An ordinance aimed at regulation of the operation of photography businesses in the city, vetoed by Mayor Radel after its adoption late last year, was adopted with proposed changes last night.

The mayor vetoed it, he said, because it lacked a provision to cover persons or firms which might wish to start new businesses on a legitimate basis.

Under provisions of the ordinance itinerant photographers would be required to post a $2,000 bond and obtain the required license fee of $25. All licenses are to be issued by the city clerk.

Penalties Specified

Failure of itinerants to comply could mean a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50, imprisonment of not more than 60 days, or both. License fees would be paid in addition to penalties.

The mayor, in a letter, noted that it was now possible to give an earlier effective date for social security coverage. It can be done, he noted, by paying one quarter additional retroactive benefits. Coverage would then date back to March 16, 1956.

It is necessary to notify the State Department of Audit and Control immediately if an earlier effective date is sought locally, and action of the aldermen authorized him to explore the proposal further.

Pay Change Law Read

A first reading was given Local Law No. 1, 1959, which permits the paying of certain elective and appointed personnel of the city every second Friday instead of bi-monthly as formerly. It excepts the aldermen and alderman-at-large.

The adopted resolution favoring the housing of several county departments in the former Cornell building, Ferry Street, was offered by Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, and signed by Arthur Smith (D) Eighth Ward; Joseph Tomaseski (D) Sixth Ward; Lawrence Woerner (D) Fourth Ward; William G. Davis (L) 13th Ward, and Samuel J. Perry (R) Fifth Ward.

The resolution notes that since "the cost of constructing a new county building apparently would be excessive," consideration should be given to use space "which appears to be adequate" in the downtown building. It asked that the council go on record as favoring use of the building and that the "city clerk notify the Board of Supervisors of our action in this regard."

Pennies Would Be Out

The parking meter proposal left in committee would change meters on sections of Wall, Fair, John and North Front Streets, in the heart of the uptown business section so that the cost of parking would be five cents for the first half hour and another five cents for the second half. Only nickels, and no pennies would be used in the meters.

Council President Kaye named Alderman Donald M. Hastings, William G. Davis, and Clark W. Myers, as the committee to assist with plans for observance of Memorial Day.

Mayor Radel explained in a letter to Kaye that he had been advised by James M. Krom, secretary of the Kingston Veterans Association, that the parade and services would be under direction of Kingston Post 150 American Legion with Past Commander William F. Hanley as general chairman. He is to be assisted by Thomas Bohan and the Rev. Clarence E. Brown. John R. Mayone is again to be parade chairman.

NARCE to Meet Saturday at 2

The regularly monthly meeting of the Ulster County Chapter 461, National Association of Retired Civil Employes, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue.

Mrs. Ruth Cipolli, publicity chairman said today in urging our "senior citizens" to join the local unit that inflation is a "detestable evil which has punished many folks endeavoring to enjoy the decent standard of living on fixed incomes. Unfair blows have hit senior citizens harder than any other group.

"The aged, sick and disabled retirees and widows labored most of their lives to assure security in their old age. Now they are forced to keep abreast of living expenses from their 49-cent annuity dollar.

"This creeping inflation shows that the cost of hospital care jumped from $16 a day in 1950 to $23.24 in 1958.

"We must give this evil our serious consideration through organized efforts. This is what NARCE is doing, fighting the enemy 'inflation,' pulling together to help in the future; therefore, to increase your annuity we must increase the strength of NARCE by memberships in the outstanding members who have not joined with us. Won't you be one of us, fighting for a good cause?"

Traffic Violators Give Guilty Pleas

Several motorists pleaded guilty to traffic violations Tuesday night when they appeared before City Judge Aaron E. Klein.

Richard Wenzel, 18, of Port Ewen was fined $15 on a speeding charge and $5 for driving an automobile after dark in violation of his junior operator's license.

David Snoddy, 22, of Brooklyn, pleaded guilty to speeding and paid a $15 fine. William A. Seabury, of Ulster Park, pleaded guilty to passing a red traffic light. He was fined $5.

J. S. Ostrowsky, of Lake Katrine; Donald Brooks, of 59 Hanratty Street, and Richard Ferraris, RD 2, Montgomery, each pleaded guilty to speeding and paid fines of $15.

Frank Tedesco, of West Park, pleaded guilty to having no inspection certificate. He received a suspended sentence.

Opposition Is

effects of such construction can be publicly discussed.

It is expected the contract may be ready for letting in the fall. The contract will not be one of those let at spring lettings, it was disclosed at the hearing Tuesday.

The project begins at a point about a half-mile east of the Route 42 intersection in Shandaken and runs southeastward to about a half-mile west of the Route 214 intersection in Phoenicia.

Ladies Ticket Is No Joke -- They Elect Four

FULTON, Kan. (AP)—The men of Fulton thought the Ladies Citizens ticket was the funniest joke in town—until Tuesday.

That's when women won control of the town government.

The voters turned out in record numbers (total vote 88) and elected Mabel Austin, 72, mayor. Three Ladies Citizens, candidates were elected to the five-member City Council.

"Thy (the men) were joking and kidding us about it when we first started talking about running for office," Miss Austin said.

"We just wanted to show the men we could do it."

Miss Austin, a retired employe of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, defeated Mayor Howard Post, a grocer, 46 votes to 35.

Elected to the council were Margaret Delano, who admits to being older than 70; Esther Watson, 65, and Lois Erie, 40.

A record vote apparently contributed to the ladies' victory.

"We haven't had this many voters out in history," said City Clerk Howard Coleman.

Fulton is 85 miles south of Kansas City on U.S. Highway 69. It has a population of 231.

Miss Austin said she and her colleagues have "several things we'd like to do."

"We'd like to try to do something about getting people to keep their dogs out of other yards and gardens," she said. "Some people have said this town is going to the dogs.

"We like to think it went to the women."

Electric Output Dips

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's production of electricity decreased slightly last week but ran 11.4 per cent ahead of the year-ago week, Edison Electric Institute reported today.

Power output for the week amounted to 12,618,000,000 kilowatt hours compared with 12,709,000,000 the previous week, marking the third consecutive weekly decline. A year ago, output was 11,326,000,000.

Fire Destroys Cotton

NAGOYA, Japan (AP)—A four-hour fire on an American freighter outside this southern Japanese port today destroyed 450 tons of raw cotton valued at $111,111.

The Japanese Coast Guard said there were no casualties among crewmen of the 7,940-ton Hawaiian Retailer of the States Marine Line. The ship is en route to South Korea.

Connie to Tell Of Shooting, End Of Her Romance

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The ending of a 15-year backstreet romance in a post-midnight shooting will be told today by Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas.

An all-husband jury will hear the shapely defendant's version of how wealthy drug company executive Forest Teel died last July 31 in his white Cadillac.

Mrs. Nicholas, 44, was expected to support the defense contention that the handsome, sports-loving Teel was shot in a struggle over a gun as he beat her.

The prosecution claims it already has proved a case of first-degree murder—that Mrs. Nicholas killed Teel rather than lose him to a younger woman.

Everyone was left in suspense Tuesday as Judge Thomas J. Faulconer adjourned court immediately after the jury inspected a farewell letter Mrs. Nicholas wrote Teel but left unmailed nine days before the shooting.

The placid composure Mrs. Nicholas had presented during the trial vanished in tears as defense lawyer Charles W. Symmes read aloud the sorrowful two-page typewritten note.

"I know now that we can never go back and mean to one another the things that we have for the past 15 years," the letter said.

Introduction of the letter over prosecution objections was aimed at proving Mrs. Nicholas meant to commit suicide and had no intention of killing Teel.

Adenauer Says His Presidency Won't Alter Policy

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared tonight West German policy "will not be changed one iota for years to come" with his withdrawal to the less active role of president.

The presidency, he told a national audience, "is far more powerful than people generally believe."

Adenauer's agreement Tuesday to drop the chancellorship to seek the presidency, heretofore a post largely of prestige and protocol, caused repercussions not only in German politics but also in world capitals. East-West negotiations on Berlin and Germany are coming up this spring and summer.

Adenauer has been in the forefront of a hard policy of no bargaining without Soviet concessions, a policy that has run counter to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's advocacy of greater flexibility.

Ask More Aid, Jobs

Labor Unions Stage Giant Jobless Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor staged a giant rally in the nation's capital today to dramatize the plight of the unemployed. Its slogan: "Wake up Washington."

Over 5,000 delegates, many without jobs, filled the National Guard Armory, biggest hall in the capital, in a mass demand for more government jobless aid and job-making moves.

Problem Remains: Meany

George Meany, president of the sponsoring AFL - CIO, drew applause when he minimized Tuesday's government announcement of a nearly 400,000 drop in March in the idle total. Meany maintained the nation still has a desperate problem with 4,362,000 still unemployed.

Listening to glowing accounts of economic improvement from President Eisenhower's administration, Meany said, "you would think the sky is full of bluebirds —that everything is going to be all right. Well of course if we had a little salt we might eat some of those statistics."

The throng waved such signs as "Wake up Washington," "30 for 40"—meaning 30 hours a week of work for the present 40 hours pay, and "Put America Back to Work."

There were also signs depicting a teed-up golf ball and golf club, and saying "On to Augusta." Eisenhower went to Augusta Tuesday for a golfing vacation.

Lucy Monroe Sings

Lucy Monroe, the soprano whose rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner" has opened many political conventions and World Series baseball games, sang the national anthem at the opening.

Meany, in introducing her, reminded the audience she is a union member.

The Very Rev. George Higgins, director of the Social Action Department, National Catholic Welfare Conference, gave the invocation, saying in part:

"Give us this day our daily bread. May we receive it without envy of injustice."

Illness Hits Many

There were complaints from Ohio and Michigan delegations of illness, blamed by them on turkey dinners they had Tuesday night on railroad dining cars.

Ralph Shadley of Lima, Ohio, said about half a 600-man delegation on a Toledo-Washington train became ill with stomach cramps. About 30 on a Detroit-Washington train were reported to have been sick.

Most of those affected were able to attend the conference.

Meany urged the administration and Congress to embark on a broad public works and economic aid program, not as a spending plan but as what he called a sound investment toward the nation's future.

"It is a safe and sound investment," Meany said. "For the most part the funds invested by the government will be reimbursable. Whatever expenditures are entailed will be more than made up by a tremendous upsurge in tax revenues."

Mitchell to Talk

More than 5,000 delegates were expected at the National Guard Armory, biggest hall in the nation's capital. They represent both union officials and unemployed workers drawn from major employment areas in the East and Midwest.

Besides Meany the program called for addresses from Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, speaking for the Eisenhower administration; Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, and Auto Union chief Walter Reuther, who promoted the rally.

Lions Are Told Of Club History, Governor Duties

Patrick Mataraza, district governor of Lions International, addressed the Kingston Lions Club Tuesday on the history of Lionism in this area and the duties of a district governor.

He said his cabinet numbers 13 men who meet three times a year to discuss the weak and strong points in the district, pointing out that due to this continuing self-appraisal the number of clubs in New York State will increase to 500 more than 25,000 members.

"In these clubs a prime objective is to extend the hand of friendship to those less fortunate than we," he said.

He asked, What does the Lion himself get from this? He answered by saying that in making the community a better place to live the individual Lion receives a satisfaction money cannot buy.

He submitted a full report on the sight conservation work in New York State in 1958:

A total of 6,671 eye examinations; 2,351 pairs of glasses; 84 eye operations; six seeing-eye dogs; 181 white canes; 20 Braille writers; 23 Braille typers; 105 talking book machines, and 2,993 visits to the blind.

Mataraza said a total of $126,009 was spent in this state in 1958 on sight conservation.

On behalf of Lions International he congratulated the Kingston Lions Club for its share in the work.

He said there are three basic words in Lionism — Attitudes, Thoughts and Results.

"Lionism is comparable to TNT," he said, "except that we interpret it today, not tomorrow."

Puzzled About Nixon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman says he's puzzled why Vice President Richard M. Nixon seems to have dropped out of the news recently, but:

"I hope they (the Republicans) don't bury him until after the next election. He'll be the easiest to lick."

The former chief executive, now 74, declined at a luncheon meeting Tuesday to indicate whom he will back as the Democratic nominee in 1960.

Rash of Gov't

That investigation was ordered after reports of land grabs. In these, public officials allegedly helped real estate operators purchase, at bargain prices, land the county had taken for tax delinquency. One man has gone to jail in the probe and others face prosecution.

Charges also were brought in Suffolk County in connection with alleged attempts to extort money from contractors by using threats of political reprisals.

In Ulster County, the commissioner of jurors was convicted of perjury after he testified before a grand jury investigating alleged kickbacks to county officials in purchases of road equipment.

Utica Probe Continues

A special state investigation is continuing into crime and vice in Utica.

An official of the New York City Real Estate Bureau admitted taking $30,000 in bureau funds.

An investigator in the city's Welfare Department was switched to duty in the suburbs after he told newsmen of cheating and waste in welfare payments.

Police associations, civil service organizations and other groups of government employes point out that the number of police and other public servants involved in scandals are only a relative handful of the hundreds of thousands of public officials in the state.

In New York City, for example, police officials say that the prominence given a dozen lawbreakers who are members of the force should not obscure the fact that there are nearly 20,000 other policemen evidently performing their duties honestly and properly.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors were on the upside in an uneven stock market early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Leading stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point. Quite a few were unchanged. Some wider moves were made by selected issues.

Ford touched a new high for the year after it returned to the 60-cent dividend after recent 40-cent payouts. The stock opened at 62 on a block of 8,000 shares and improved slightly in active dealings.

Rohm & Haas a 22-point gainer Tuesday, was down about 8 on profit taking.

Warner-Lambert spurted about 4 and Polaroid around 2.

Foster-Wheeler eased and North American Aviation was up a fraction.

Blocks of 4,500 and 10,000 shares of Aluminium Ltd. changed hands at 28¼, off ⅜. Chrysler's price held steady.

U.S. government bonds were slightly lower.

C of C Service To Business

H. Kaye Kerr, president of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce, released the following statement outlining how Chambers of Commerce serve business at every level of government.

Chambers of Commerce serve business at the local, state and national levels. The Empire State Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1946 in order to give business an effective voice at the State Capitol.

At the time of its organization, business was pretty much taken for granted. Government-imposed costs of doing business were high and getting higher each year. In a relatively short time the government's attitude toward business has been reversed. It is now recognized by both the executive and the legislative branches of government—by Republicans and Democrats alike—that unnecessary government - imposed costs adversely affect the creation of job opportunities in New York State. A new official policy was established last year with the adoption of the business climate resolution.

Both political parties at their pre-campaign conventions adopted resolutions pledging support of the business climate resolution. It is significant that for the first time when new major tax sources were being sought, no new or higher taxes have been imposed upon business. This is recognition of the fact that business already provides more than its share of State revenue and provides the jobs which form the basis of our economy.

The Empire State Chamber of Commerce is one of the most recently organized state chambers of commerce. The Ohio State Chamber of Commerce is the oldest, organized in 1892.

The Empire State Chamber of Commerce is affiliated with the Council of State Chambers of Commerce in Washington. The Council serves as a national research office for member state chambers of commerce.

The Empire State Chamber of Commerce is a federation of local chambers of commerce and State-wide trade associations. Both local and state chambers of commerce are members of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The National Chamber was organized in 1912 at the request of President William Howard Taft. President Taft felt the need of a representative business organization to advise him on matters of government policy affecting business.

Chamber of Commerce Week will be celebrated in New York State on April 12 to 19 in recognition of the community services performed by local Chambers of Commerce.

Hot, Dry Summer

as reservoirs and wells might be as low as they were in the summer of 1957," he admonishes.

Last fall the prophet foresaw "some cold bad weather this winter." He predicted at that time numerous storms during the fall and winter of 1958—"but most storms will be light." He anticipated less snow than in 1957. He also said that storms, most of which he expected in February and March, "will be more in the form of rain and sleet."

26 Inches of Rain

In this connection, the area had about 26 inches of rain during the period, October 1 to April 1, with 45¾ inches of snow. Last year during the same period we had approximately 60 inches of white stuff. Average temperature for the period was 29 degrees.

Shultis said it had been reported to him that four times as much sand as usual had been used on area highways during the winter and that the hospitals had been crowded with the victims of vehicular accidents due to slippery roads. A generous precipitation of sleet and freezing rain was part of the maestro's forecast.

Secession From

to consider the secession of New York City.

Sharkey charged that Upstate Republicans, through the Legislature, are "robbing us."

Isaacs said that the city was "squandering funds, wasting money and providing a haven for politicians."

"Austerity budget, my eye," he added, referring to Wagner's $2,173,133,999 budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year. "At no time, even in the days of Jimmy Walker, has the city been faced with such reckless financing."

Wagner lopped 32 million dollars from his budget when the state wouldn't give the city all the taxing powers it sought. That mean reducing or eliminating proposed raises for some 80,000 city employes. Employes have been protesting and threatening walkouts ever since.

One of the major disputes was Wagner's request for permission to legalize and tax off-track betting on horse races. The Legislature turned him down.

Late Water . . .

the city "without permission" from the council.

Alderman Ryan said the council's role in voting on such applications was to reimburse those who attended meetings and conventions.

Would Let Them Pay

"If we didn't approve this one," said Bodenweber, "I'd pretty nearly like to see it come out of their own pockets. They forgot to ask for permission at the last Common Council meeting."

Ryan suggested that through the city clerk's office they be notified to submit such applications at "an early enough date." Ryan also noted that through an "edict" of the Board there appeared to be a rebate problem in conjunction with installing some water meters. He noted that a request had been to determine if rebates can be made, and no reply has been received. He suggested that the board also be issued a reminder on that.

Changes Made

An ordinance aimed at regulation of the operation of photography businesses in the city, vetoed by Mayor Radel after its adoption late last year, was adopted with proposed changes last night.

The mayor vetoed it, he said, because it lacked a provision to cover persons or firms which might wish to start new businesses on a legitimate basis.

Under provisions of the ordinance itinerant photographers would be required to post a $2,000 bond and obtain the required license fee of $25. All licenses are to be issued by the city clerk.

Penalties Specified

Failure of itinerants to comply could mean a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50, imprisonment of not more than 60 days, or both. License fees would be paid in addition to penalties.

The mayor, in a letter, noted that it was now possible to give an earlier effective date for social security coverage. It can be done, he noted, by paying one quarter additional retroactive benefits. Coverage would then date back to March 16, 1956.

It is necessary to notify the State Department of Audit and Control immediately if an earlier effective date is sought locally, and action of the aldermen authorized him to explore the proposal further.

Pay Change Law Read

A first reading was given Local Law No. 1, 1959, which permits the paying of certain elective and appointed personnel of the city every second Friday instead of bi-monthly as formerly. It excepts the aldermen and alderman-at-large.

The adopted resolution favoring the housing of several county departments in the former Cornell building, Ferry Street, was offered by Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, and signed by Arthur Smith (D) Eighth Ward; Joseph Tomaseski (D) Sixth Ward; Lawrence Woerner (D) Fourth Ward; William G. Davis (L) 13th Ward, and Samuel J. Perry (R) Fifth Ward.

The resolution notes that since "the cost of constructing a new county building apparently would be excessive," consideration should be given to use space "which appears to be adequate" in the downtown building. It asked that the council go on record as favoring use of the building and that the "city clerk notify the Board of Supervisors of our action in this regard."

Pennies Would Be Out

The parking meter proposal left in committee would change meters on sections of Wall, Fair, John and North Front Streets, in the heart of the uptown business section so that the cost of parking would be five cents for the first half hour and another five cents for the second half. Only nickels, and no pennies would be used in the meters.

Council President Kaye named Alderman Donald M. Hastings, William G. Davis, and Clark W. Myers, as the committee to assist with plans for observance of Memorial Day.

Mayor Radel explained in a letter to Kaye that he had been advised by James M. Krom, secretary of the Kingston Veterans Association, that the parade and services would be under direction of Kingston Post 150 American Legion with Past Commander William F. Hanley as general chairman. He is to be assisted by Thomas Bohan and the Rev. Clarence E. Brown. John R. Mayone is again to be parade chairman.

NARCE to Meet Saturday at 2

The regularly monthly meeting of the Ulster County Chapter 461, National Association of Retired Civil Employes, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue.

Mrs. Ruth Cipolli, publicity chairman said today in urging our "senior citizens" to join the local unit that inflation is a "detestable evil which has punished many folks endeavoring to enjoy the decent standard of living on fixed incomes. Unfair blows have hit senior citizens harder than any other group.

"The aged, sick and disabled retirees and widows labored most of their lives to assure security in their old age. Now they are forced to keep abreast of living expenses from their 49-cent annuity dollar.

"This creeping inflation shows that the cost of hospital care jumped from $16 a day in 1950 to $23.24 in 1958.

"We must give this evil our serious consideration through organized efforts. This is what NARCE is doing, fighting the enemy 'inflation,' pulling together to help in the future; therefore, to increase your annuity we must increase the strength of NARCE by memberships in the outstanding members who have not joined with us. Won't you be one of us, fighting for a good cause?"

Traffic Violators Give Guilty Pleas

Several motorists pleaded guilty to traffic violations Tuesday night when they appeared before City Judge Aaron E. Klein.

Richard Wenzel, 18, of Port Ewen was fined $15 on a speeding charge and $5 for driving an automobile after dark in violation of his junior operator's license.

David Snoddy, 22, of Brooklyn, pleaded guilty to speeding and paid a $15 fine. William A. Seabury, of Ulster Park, pleaded guilty to passing a red traffic light. He was fined $5.

J. S. Ostrowsky, of Lake Katrine; Donald Brooks, of 59 Hanratty Street, and Richard Ferraris, RD 2, Montgomery, each pleaded guilty to speeding and paid fines of $15.

Frank Tedesco, of West Park, pleaded guilty to having no inspection certificate. He received a suspended sentence.

effects of such construction can be publicly discussed.

It is expected the contract may be ready for letting in the fall. The contract will not be one of those let at spring lettings, it was disclosed at the hearing Tuesday.

The project begins at a point about a half-mile east of the Route 42 intersection in Shandaken and runs southeastward to about a half-mile west of the Route 214 intersection in Phoenicia.

Ladies Ticket Is No Joke -- They Elect Four

FULTON, Kan. (AP)—The men of Fulton thought the Ladies Citizens ticket was the funniest joke in town—until Tuesday.

That's when women won control of the town government.

The voters turned out in record numbers (total vote 88) and elected Mabel Austin, 72, mayor. Three Ladies Citizens, candidates were elected to the five-member City Council.

"Thy (the men) were joking and kidding us about it when we first started talking about running for office," Miss Austin said. "We just wanted to show the men we could do it."

Miss Austin, a retired employe of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, defeated Mayor Howard Post, a grocer, 46 votes to 35.

Elected to the council were Margaret Delano, who admits to being older than 70; Esther Watson, 65, and Lois Erie, 40.

A record vote apparently contributed to the ladies' victory.

"We haven't had this many voters out in history," said City Clerk Howard Coleman.

Fulton is 85 miles south of Kansas City on U.S. Highway 69. It has a population of 231.

Miss Austin said she and her colleagues have "several things we'd like to do."

"We'd like to try to do something about getting people to keep their dogs out of other yards and gardens," she said. "Some people have said this town is going to the dogs.

"We like to think it went to the women."

Electric Output Dips

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's production of electricity decreased slightly last week but ran 11.4 per cent ahead of the year-ago week, Edison Electric Institute reported today.

Power output for the week amounted to 12,618,000,000 kilowatt hours compared with 12,709,000,000 the previous week, marking the third consecutive weekly decline. A year ago, output was 11,326,000,000.

Fire Destroys Cotton

NAGOYA, Japan (AP)—A four-hour fire on an American freighter outside this southern Japanese port today destroyed 450 tons of raw cotton valued at $111,111.

The Japanese Coast Guard said there were no casualties among crewmen of the 7,940-ton Hawaiian Retailer of the States Marine Line. The ship is en route to South Korea.

Connie to Tell Of Shooting, End Of Her Romance

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The ending of a 15-year backstreet romance in a post-midnight shooting will be told today by Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas.

An all-husband jury will hear the shapely defendant's version of how wealthy drug company executive Forest Teel died last July 31 in his white Cadillac.

Mrs. Nicholas, 44, was expected to support the defense contention that the handsome, sports-loving Teel was shot in a struggle over a gun as he beat her.

The prosecution claims it already has proved a case of first-degree murder—that Mrs. Nicholas killed Teel rather than lose him to a younger woman.

Everyone was left in suspense Tuesday as Judge Thomas J. Faulconer adjourned court immediately after the jury inspected a farewell letter Mrs. Nicholas wrote Teel but left unmailed nine days before the shooting.

The placid composure Mrs. Nicholas had presented during the trial vanished in tears as defense lawyer Charles W. Symmes read aloud the sorrowful two-page typewritten note.

"I know now that we can never go back and mean to one another the things that we have for the past 15 years," the letter said.

Introduction of the letter over prosecution objections was aimed at proving Mrs. Nicholas meant to commit suicide and had no intention of killing Teel.

Adenauer Says His Presidency Won't Alter Policy

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared tonight West German policy "will not be changed one iota for years to come" with his withdrawal to the less active role of president.

The presidency, he told a national audience, "is far more powerful than people generally believe."

Adenauer's agreement Tuesday to drop the chancellorship to seek the presidency, heretofore a post largely of prestige and protocol, caused repercussions not only in German politics but also in world capitals. East-West negotiations on Berlin and Germany are coming up this spring and summer.

Adenauer has been in the forefront of a hard policy of no bargaining without Soviet concessions, a policy that has run counter to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's advocacy of greater flexibility.

Court Terms Are Upheld for Girls In Bomb Threats

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP)—A judge has upheld the six-month jail sentences of two girls who telephoned bomb threats to Fulton High School.

Judge Don H. Stacy of Oswego County Court also set aside Tuesday the conviction and sentence of a third girl.

Attorneys for Gloria Jean Dickquist, Sylvia Rossman and Karen Gardner, all 17, had appealed the sentences.

The Dickquist and Rossman girls pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct charges before Fulton City Court Judge Maurice B. Conley. They have been in Oswego County jail here since Feb. 20 and Judge Stacy said they must remain there.

He set aside Judge Conley's conviction of Miss Gardner, who had been free in $500 bail.

Stacy said Miss Gardner was not "a principal in the act."

The calls the girls made caused evacuation of the school five times. Most of the calls were to the homes of members of the administrative staff.

Survives Plane Crash

SCHROON LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—A 44-year-old man escaped injury Tuesday when his light plane crash-landed on a snow-dotted golf course six miles south of this Adirondack village.

Charles R. Oswald told troopers that he was forced down by rough weather. The plane nosed over and was badly damaged.

Oswald was flying from Massena to Schenectady.

Continues as Mayor

NEW BERLIN, N. Y. (AP)—Lewis B. Spurr will continue as mayor of this Chenango County village, after winning a court-ordered special election by eight votes.

Spurr and Mrs. Sophie Karalunas each received 261 votes in the regular village election March 17. Both refused to break the tie by lot.

In Tuesday's special election, ordered by Justice Joseph P. Molinari of State Supreme Court, Spurr polled 286 votes and Mrs. Karalunas 278. Robert Angell received 10 as a write-in candidate. All were candidates of local parties.

Election Puzzle

BENSON, Ariz. (AP) — City election officials were still trying to figure out today who was elected what in the primary.

Voters were to choose nominees for five council seats Monday. Only 118 of about 700 eligible voters showed up. But here's what they did:

They voted for three Republicans on the Democratic ticket. Five Democrats got votes on the Republican ballot. One Democrat got 15 GOP votes, but none from his own party.

Officials agreed that the votes on the wrong ballot should not count. But they had no solution for the winning candidates who were reluctant to accept nomination.

Vote Dry in Church Annex

QUENEMO, Kan. (AP) — The issue before the voters of Quenemo (pop. 391) was whether to legalize the sale of liquor.

The only polling place was in the annex of the Quenemo Federated church.

Voters decided to keep the town dry—147 votes to 54.

Nicest wagon that ever joined your family!

Chevy's station wagons should really be called family wagons. They're roomiest where you need the room. And you can choose from five models, including the Kingswood, with its rear-facing rear seat that gives passengers a whole new outlook!

Here's a brisk and breezy wagon that'll take on any chore you name, from a trip to the beach to a journey home from the lumberyard. There's room, you see, for a whole half-ton of cargo. And plenty of flat, unobstructed space it is—ten feet long, with the rear seat and tailgate down.

These wagons are easy to load, too—you just roll the rear window into the tailgate and flip it down flat. There's no liftgate to wrestle with.

Of course, the nicest thing about a Chevy wagon is the way it takes care of its tasks. Chevrolet's got a crisp, smooth brand of roadability so easy to handle it's a natural for the lady of the house. Chevy's even got bigger tires—they come as standard equipment on every one of our wagons. Big, safer brakes, too. But why not fall in love with a Chevy wagon firsthand —at your Chevrolet dealer's!

Court Terms Are Upheld for Girls In Bomb Threats

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP)—A judge has upheld the six-month jail sentences of two girls who telephoned bomb threats to Fulton High School.

Judge Don H. Stacy of Oswego County Court also set aside Tuesday the conviction and sentence of a third girl.

Attorneys for Gloria Jean Dickquist, Sylvia Rossman and Karen Gardner, all 17, had appealed the sentences.

The Dickquist and Rossman girls pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct charges before Fulton City Court Judge Maurice B. Conley. They have been in Oswego County jail here since Feb. 20 and Judge Stacy said they must remain there.

He set aside Judge Conley's conviction of Miss Gardner, who had been free in $500 bail.

Stacy said Miss Gardner was not "a principal in the act."

The calls the girls made caused evacuation of the school five times. Most of the calls were to the homes of members of the administrative staff.

Survives Plane Crash

SCHROON LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—A 44-year-old man escaped injury Tuesday when his light plane crash-landed on a snow-dotted golf course six miles south of this Adirondack village.

Charles R. Oswald told troopers that he was forced down by rough weather. The plane nosed over and was badly damaged.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jane Morgan, who has 300 hats and spends up to $2,500 for a single gown, was paid $25 a week for singing in a ballroom here in 1946.

Right now Jane, known as "the Fascination Girl," is spending exactly one thousand times that to create a new night club act.

"You don't just get up and sing a few songs," she said. "You have to put on a small revue. A new act costs $25,000—enough to produce an off-Broadway drama.

"But that kind of show has angels to back it. A night club performer has to put up his own dough."

In Striking Dior Suit

Where will her $25,000 go?

"Half of it will go for getting the material for the show," she said. "I have six writers working on it.

"The other half will go for the wardrobe. Sometimes I envy movie stars. The studio supplies their gowns. We have to buy our own."

In addition to the six writers, Jane's 45-minute act will require the services of a producer, a musical director, a choreographer, a dress maker, a lighting expert, two song and dance lads and 10 fiddle players. Then, of course, there are also her personal manager and her maid-secretary.

All this money and talent is being spent for a four-week engagement beginning late this month in the Hotel Plaza's Persian Room, a top showcase for the national supper club circuit.

"You hope you can make it back on the road," said Jane a bit grimly, "but if the reviews are bad, there may be no road.

"You never really know."

It is unlikely Miss Morgan will meet with this particular diaster. She is a top star in one of the most elite circles in show business. It is made up of fewer than a dozen girls who can average $3,000 a week in swank supper clubs across the country.

But her $25,000 investment is good only for about a year. Last year's night club act is as dead as yesterday's newspaper.

Janes shows no sign of strain, however. She worked 52 weeks last year. Besides her supper club warbling she is also a popular recording artist and one of the busiest guest stars on television.

She turned down an offer to have her own TV network show this summer.

"It sounded wonderful," she said. "But what happens to these summer replacement shows, no matter how much the public likes them. As soon as the first cold wind blows, they disappear and are forgotten."

Jane comes from a musical family. Her father was a symphony orchestra cellist, her mother a concert pianist and singer.

Theater Real Interest

Recently she bought a 40-acre farm, "Blueberry Hill," near Kennebunkport, Me., and likes to act in a Maine summer playhouse operated by her brother.

"Sometime I want to do a real Broadway musical," she said. "And I want to work in the theater. That is my real interest.

"I hate night clubs!"

Yep, in spite of those 300 hats, those $2,500 gowns and that $3,000 a week salary.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jane Morgan, who has 300 hats and spends up to $2,500 for a single gown, was paid $25 a week for singing in a ballroom here in 1946.

Right now Jane, known as "the Fascination Girl," is spending exactly one thousand times that to create a new night club act.

"You don't just get up and sing a few songs," she said. "You have to put on a small revue. A new act costs $25,000—enough to produce an off-Broadway drama.

"But that kind of show has angels to back it. A night club performer has to put up his own dough."

In Striking Dior Suit

Where will her $25,000 go?

"Half of it will go for getting the material for the show," she said. "I have six writers working on it.

"The other half will go for the wardrobe. Sometimes I envy movie stars. The studio supplies their gowns. We have to buy our own."

In addition to the six writers, Jane's 45-minute act will require the services of a producer, a musical director, a choreographer, a dress maker, a lighting expert, two song and dance lads and 10 fiddle players. Then, of course, there are also her personal manager and her maid-secretary.

All this money and talent is being spent for a four-week engagement beginning late this month in the Hotel Plaza's Persian Room, a top showcase for the national supper club circuit.

"You hope you can make it back on the road," said Jane a bit grimly, "but if the reviews are bad, there may be no road.

"You never really know."

It is unlikely Miss Morgan will meet with this particular diaster. She is a top star in one of the most elite circles in show business. It is made up of fewer than a dozen girls who can average $3,000 a week in swank supper clubs across the country.

But her $25,000 investment is good only for about a year. Last year's night club act is as dead as yesterday's newspaper.

Janes shows no sign of strain, however. She worked 52 weeks last year. Besides her supper club warbling she is also a popular recording artist and one of the busiest guest stars on television.

She turned down an offer to have her own TV network show this summer.

"It sounded wonderful," she said. "But what happens to these summer replacement shows, no matter how much the public likes them. As soon as the first cold wind blows, they disappear and are forgotten."

Jane comes from a musical family. Her father was a symphony orchestra cellist, her mother a concert pianist and singer.

Theater Real Interest

Recently she bought a 40-acre farm, "Blueberry Hill," near Kennebunkport, Me., and likes to act in a Maine summer playhouse operated by her brother.

"Sometime I want to do a real Broadway musical," she said. "And I want to work in the theater. That is my real interest.

"I hate night clubs!"

Yep, in spite of those 300 hats, those $2,500 gowns and that $3,000 a week salary.

Fate of Hired Killer in Duncan Case Up to Jury

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Hired killer Augustine Baldonado, 26, awaited a life-or-death decision today.

He has pleaded guilty to first-degree murder in the slaying of 30-year-old Olga Duncan and a jury must determine whether he will go to the gas chamber or get life imprisonment.

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson rested his case Tuesday after reading much of Baldonado's testimony given before a grand jury last December. Baldonado said then that he and Luis Moya were hired by Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan to strangle her son's bride, Olga, last November.

Mrs. Duncan, 54, is under death sentence for the killing. Moya, 20, has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity and is awaiting trial.

Baldonado's attorney tried to get two clergymen on the stand Tuesday to say that more tolerant procedures should replace the old law of "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth."

But Gustafson objected that the interpretation of the two ministers was immaterial and Superior Judge Charles F. Blackstock said he reluctantly agreed.

The defendant's mother, Mrs. Sophia Baldonado, broke down while being questioned about her son's record of juvenile delinquency. She was permitted to leave the courtroom to compose herself.

Fined for Passing Light

Norman Serinsky, 31, of 48 Clifton Avenue, was fined $5 today after he pleaded guilty before City Judge Arthur B. Ewig to a charge of passing a red traffic light at Delaware and Hasbrouck Avenues. The summons was issued by Patrolman George Deyo.

Two Autos Collide

Two automobiles were damaged in a collision which occurred Tuesday afternoon on Kiersted Avenue. Police said a sedan operated by Raymond B. Cord, Jr., of 160 Green Street, hit a parked automobile owned by Louis B. Shaw, of 149 Elmendorf Street. No injuries were reported.

E. F. HUTTON

THE NATION'S CAPITAL

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia report that the nation's Capital is going down hill fast.

This is one city we have been proud of for a long time. But Washington is facing the blight of spreading slums, increasing cost of public "welfare," shortage of classrooms and teachers, growing indebtedness, higher tax rates, and diminishing revenues.

MR. HUTTON

As our gargantuan Federal Government takes over more land for more colossal buildings, over 50% of the city's land area is now tax exempt.

The higher income residents are moving out of the District as fast as they can and their apartments and homes are being taken over by the lower income groups.

Part of this exodus is due to the Supreme Court's decree that the District's schools, which had always been segregated, were unconstitutional. Fifty-three per cent of the Capital's residents are now non-white, as against 36% in 1952.

Congress is the Board of Aldermen of our Capital City. But as the Washington "STAR" said in a recent editorial, "Congress is presiding over the steady deterioration of its own seat of government."

But please excuse Congress. It has been very busy for years sending billions to improve living conditions in Yugoslavia, Poland, Bhutan, Baluchistan, Tanganyika, Muscat, Yemen, etc.—some 50 countries or more, — and just hasn't had time to do its own dishes or clean the kitchen sink.

Page One Queen's Cup on Display At Halpert Store

The 16-inch silver loving cup to be presented with other gifts to the 1959 Page One Queen of the Kingston Newspaper Guild at the annual awards ball April 25 is on display this week in the window of Halpert Jewelers, Main Street, Saugerties.

The event will be held in Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston following dinner at 6:30 p. m.

The judging for the Page One Queen will be held at a reception Saturday, April 18 in the Crystal Room of the hotel.

Single girls 16 to 25 years of age and residents of Ulster County are eligible. Entries with complete details such as name, age, address, parents name, height, weight, coloring, grade and school attending, or where employed must accompany photograph suitable for publication.

Entries may be sent to Mrs. Jean Dolan, Kingston Newspaper Guild, P. O. Box 153, Rondout Station, Kingston.

Students Will See Operetta April 16

The grade pupils in the Saugerties Central Schools, also the sixth grade from St. Mary's School, will see the operetta Ichabod Crane at the high school Thursday morning, April 16.

The formal presentation of the operetta is on Friday evening, April 17. The performance is open to the public.

Through the courtesy of the bus operators, most of the pupils in the grades of the Saugerties Central Schools, 2-6, will be transported to and from the dress rehearsal presentation at the high school auditorium. The grade pupils in the village will walk to the high school, but will be transported back to their building. The performance will be over in time so that all may have lunch at the usual hour.

The pupils who will attend this performance are from the following schools: North Flatbush, Glasco, Mt. Marion, Main Street, Malden, Cedar Grove, Katsbaan, Asbury, and sixth grade from St. Mary's.

School Library Gets $100 Grant

Mt. Holyoke College has given $100 to the Saugerties High School Library. The money was given because of the honors earned by Zane Lauva during her first semester at Mt. Holyoke College. She graduated from Saugerties High School in the class of 1957 as valedictorian.

The following books have been purchased with this money:

American Heritage, Golden Book of America; Cavanah, Francis, We Came to America; Curchill, Sir W. L. S., A History of the English-Speaking People, 4 volumes; Findlay, Bruce, Guaranteed for Life: Your Rights Under the United States Constitution; Forbes, Esther, Paul Revere and the World He Lived In; Goldsmith, Oliver, She Stoops to Conquer; Gombrich, E. H. J., Story of Art; Hoover, Herbert, Ordeal of Woodrow Wilson; Kenworthy, Leonard, Twelve Citizens of the World; Landis, P. H., So This Is College; Lambert, G. N., All Out of Step; Life, World's Great Religions; Lindsay, Vachel, Collected Poems.

Mehta, V. P., Face to Face; Michener, J. A., Bridge at Andau; Peattie, D. C., Rainbow Book of Nature; Perard, V. S., How to Draw; Sandburg, Carl, Abraham Lincoln: The Prairie Years and the War Years; Shippen, K. B., Bridle for Pegasus; Thorwald, Jurgen, The Century of the Surgeon; Tunis, Edwin, Colonial Living; Webster, Margaret, Shakespeare Without Tears; Wright, L. B., Cultural Life of the American Colonies, 1607-1763; Yates, Elizabeth, Prudence Crandall, Woman of Courage.

The books compose the first exhibit of the new school Library.

What cannot be cured, said Rabelais, must be endured.

W. Shokan Woman Featured In Article on Hooked Rugs

Mrs. Philip Coletti of West Shokan is the subject of an article: "What's Your Hobby?" dealing with her ability with hooked rugs, in the April 4 issue of the American Agriculturist.

Mrs. Coletti, who is the wife of Phil Coletti, mixologist at the Woodstock Country Club, has recently designed a handsome 9x12 living room rug which she hooked.

Ulster County Home Demonstration Agent Everice Parsons, who has seen many of the rugs that Mrs. Coletti has made over a period of years, says, "her work is exquisite."

Because of a large family, Mrs. Coletti had little time for such a time-consuming hobby at one time, but she wound up covering her whole house with them. In all, she has completed 28 rugs, including a 9x9 dining room and 9x12 living room rug. She has never sold a rug and doesn't plan to, as she has six children to inherit them.

Mrs. Coletti relates that her work with hooked rugs started with a visit to a friend who was making a rather crude rug of old scraps. "I watched her for about 10 minutes pulling loops through, and it really looked easy," she recalls. "Of course, she used a frame, but I did have burlap bags and plenty of old woolen clothing, so I started the struggle, and by the time I finished my first rug, I had acquired the knack of stretching it over my lap and achieved a good result."

Made Steady Progress

After making several rugs in her primitive fashion, she invested in an electric cutting machine and bought the best quality closely woven burlap, which calls for ⅛ inch strips.

"It is important to select material suitable for hooking, so I select closely woven goods of the camel's hair variety of uniform quality, thus giving a pleasing texture. Most mistakes and difficulties are caused by using strips that fray or are stiff and do not pull easily through the burlap," says Mrs. Coletti.

Although she is capable of brilliant designs, Mrs. Coletti has had no formal education in art. She says she didn't realize she could draw until she tried. She progressed from drawing directly on burlap with ordinary crayon rather crudely to highly artistic designs and motifs on heavy art paper, which are transferred to the burlap with heavy carbon paper, a method not too easy and not recommended for the average person.

When Mrs. Coletti had completed the beautiful 9x12 rug, a picture of which appears on this page, she discovered she had a problem. Her furniture was not quite up to snuff. So, she is now reupholstering four antique chairs in antique velvet to complement the rug.

"I am having lots of fun with little money and oodles of satisfaction," she says.

Film on Cancer Planned April 29 By Health Group

The Public Health Nursing Committee is sponsoring the showing of a film entitled "Time and Two Women," which shows the vital importance of early detection of cancer. The film will be shown at Woodstock Town Hall on April 29 at 2:30 p. m. The American Cancer Society states that the battle is three quarters won, if cancer is found in its earliest stages.

At the recent regular meeting of the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee, Miss Ann Cassidy read the Annual Report of the Public Health Nurses which showed the type of service the nurses give throughout the country.

Purchase Crutches

Miss Cassidy also stated that she had purchased five new pairs of adjustable crutches, which have been added to the Loan Closet.

The Loan Closet is well equipped with sick room supplies. In addition to the crutches, there are hospital beds, wheel chairs, and many small items necessary to the comfort and convenience of convalescents.

The Public Health Nursing Committee invites everyone to make use of the Loan Closet. In return for this service it asks the borrowers to co-operate by returning anything taken from the Loan Closet as soon as it is no longer needed, and also in clean and good condition.

'Path of Righteous' Is Rev. Olson Topic; Will Be Broadcast

The Rev. Wayne C. Olson, pastor of the Woodstock Reformed Church, will preach on the subject: "The Path of the Righteous," Sunday, April 12, at 11 a. m. The services will be broadcast over Station WSKN.

"The path of the righteous is like the light of dawn which shines brighter and brighter until the full day," says the Rev. Olson. "Christianity always points man forward and upward, giving him hope for the future and thus comfort for the present. God, who is Light and in whom no darkness at all, promises that His children can also walk in light and have His protecting care over them at all times."

'Christ The Shepherd' Sermon Topic Sunday At Christ Lutheran

The Rev. G. Oliver Sands plans to preach on the theme, "Christ the Good Shepherd," John 10:11 at the 11 a. m. service in Christ Lutheran Church, Woodstock, on April 12, the second Sunday after Easter.

Sunday School convenes at 9:45 a. m. with classes for all, from the tiniest to the elders of the church, who take their topic: "A Leader for the People" from I Samuel 10:17-27.

All interested persons are invited to study and worship with us at both these hours. How better can we spend our Sunday morning than with His people in His house of worship?

Friday, Pastor Sands and delegate, Otto Scheu, plan to attend the spring convention of the Hudson Conference in Port Jervis. Mrs. Scheu and Mrs. Sands will accompany them.

Prospective and regular teachers of the Sunday school are urged to attend Leadership Training of the Saugerties Area Council of Churches in the Church of the Atonement, Monday, April 13.

The Young Women's Guild at a recent meeting set May 16 as a tentative date for their rummage sale.

Record Number Of Youngsters In Easter Hunt

Twelve youngsters in the township of Woodstock were happy discoverers of numbered eggs and attractive prizes in the annual Easter egg hunt sponsored by Joseph S. Forno of the Colonial Pharmacy.

The egg hunt, postponed from last Sunday because of weather, attracted a record turnout to the Woodstock School grounds.

Kenny Wilson carefully hid more than 100 eggs in hard to find spots around the spacious grounds, 12 of them numbered, and so well were they covered that master of ceremonies, Walter S. Van Wagenen, had to practically tell where the last three were hidden before the youngsters could find them.

One Unclaimed

In fact, no one ever claimed the prize for number "5". It disappeared. Some eager child apparently picked it up and didn't see the number.

The eleven who did turn in their numbered eggs were well rewarded. Each received a real live bunny and a Brownie flashgun camera from Forno. They included: Lynn Schwarz, Kennie Hefty, Grace Ann Di Napoli, Sally Kinns, Rickey Novak, Staci Snyder, John Crawford, Ann Smith, Bobbie Gordon, Ginger Di Cecco, and Paul Smith.

Jean Cousins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cousins appeared with a four-weeks old white lamb on a leash and immediately it was made mascot of the hunt. The lamb was a magnet for most of the children and seemed to thrive on the attention it received.

League Workshop At Middletown

Mrs. Harry C. Lawson president of the Provisional League of Women Voters of Woodstock, attended a luncheon meeting held last Thursday at the Old Fort in New Paltz for Congressman J. Ernest Wharton.

Hostesses at the luncheon were presidents and officers of leagues in the 29th District.

Congressman Wharton discussed foreign aid appropriations passed by Congress this year and league members explained the stand taken by the league with respect to various appropriations.

Middletown Workshop

At the April 1 general meeting of the league held at the home of Mrs. Kermit Schwarz, it was announced that a discussion leader training workshop has been scheduled for area league members on April 13 at Middletown.

Attending from Woodstock will be Mrs. Manuel Bromberg, Mrs. Garnett M. Wilder, Mrs. Alvin Moscowitz, Mrs. Harry Lawson, Mrs. Kermit Schwarz and Mrs. Frank Falknor.

Attention was called to an advertisement appearing in national magazines this month by the Sinclair Oil Co. in which the League of Women Voters is saluted for its efforts to establish a comprehensive water conservation policy.

Bonnet Fashion Show Slated by Home Unit At Methodist Church

The Woodstock Home Demonstration Unit plans its monthly meeting Tuesday, April 14, at 2 p. m. at the Methodist Church hall.

A Spring Bonnet Fashion Show will be the attraction. Entertainment will be creating hats and bring crepe paper, pins, ribbons, flowers and scissors.

Members of the executive board will furnish refreshments. They are: Ethel Davis, Kathryn Vosburgh, Margaret Schilz, Inez Hall, Dorothy Cauer, Anna Kamen, Annette Dietz, Zenna Winslow.

The Unit is looking forward to the sale in May. Members are asked to leave articles with Nora Holdridge.

A few seats remain for the bus trip to New York on April 15 and may be obtained by calling Elsie Ertz.

Christian Science Topic Is Announced

God's goodness and all-power will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in Woodstock.

"'Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon.

Scriptural readings will include these verses from Psalms (103:2,3): "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases."

Also emphasizing the harmonious nature of God's creation are selections to be read from "'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including (472:25-30): "That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made. Therefore the only reality of sin, sickness ,or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem real to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise. They are not true, because they are not of God."

Pictorial Review of Lions Exposition

First Night of Kingston Lions Exposition Attended by 2,178

The largest Industrial Exposition and Home Show in the history of the Kingston Lions Club was officially opened Tuesday evening with the cutting of the ribbon by Mayor Edwin F. Radel, as the Colonial Cadets, Port Ewen junior drum and bugle corps, struck up a lively tune.

A total of 2,178 visited the state armory on Manor Avenue during the evening, compared to 1,600 on opening night last year.

After the cutting of the ribbon a large crowd followed Mayor Radel into the exhibition area which contains 125 colorful booths displaying everything from missiles to mowing machines.

One of the early crowd stoppers was offered by the Kingston Savings Bank with its display of counterfeit money. It also gave attractively mounted polaroid portraits to visitors after they entered a guess on the number of coins in a transparent model house.

Ben Rhymer showed a dramatic 23-foot Cavalier Chris Craft inboard cruiser plus a wide variety of Zenith radios, TVs, and stereophonic high fidelity units.

Pancake and bacon cooking on an open fire sent fragrant aromas throughout the area of the Potter Bros. camp site, while young Ben Krum demonstrated the art of tying ties.

Donald Briggs, general chairman, reported that the Lions Club was highly pleased with opening night interest in the 12th annual show which will continue each night this week through Saturday. The hours are 7 to 10:30 p. m.

The California condor, trumpeter swan and whooping crane are rare birds in North America.

ICBM Nose Cone Is Found After 5,000-Mile Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A powerful two - stage rocket shot a tiny ICBM nose cone of the future 5,000 miles over the Atlantic today. It was recovered two hours later for the first time in seven launching attempts.

The cone, which could carry power - packed ICBM warheads, was fired on target by an 80-foot Thor-Able rocket.

Air Force officials announced that the recovery by ships located in the impact area was "a secondary test objective but an additional bonus to the test program as it will provide physical verification of telemetry (instrumentation) data received.

The missile roared aloft at 1:35 a.m. (EST), and appeared to perform perfectly.

The main job was to learn how well the cone survived the blazing re-entry from space through the earth's atmosphere at speeds close to 10,000 miles per hour.

Two hours after it hit the water, the cone was spotted by a C54 reconnaissance plane. Earlier, the cone's re-entry, which was like a tiny meteor, was sighted by several ships in the area.

Shoe Prices Go Up

ST. LOUIS (AP)—International Shoe Co., largest manufacturer in the shoe field, has announced its prices for fall will rise a minimum of four to five per cent.

International President Henry H. Rand said Tuesday that the four to five per cent increase would be more if the cost of procuring hides and leather continues upward.

Have you some chervil among your bottles of dried herbs? try adding it to omelets, salads and potato soup.

Farm Is Theme For 10 Cubbers

The monthly pack meeting of the Cub Scouts of Pack 10 was held Monday night at Ulster Hose Firehouse, with "Down on the Farm" the theme for the month.

The opening flag ceremony was conducted by Den 3, led by Den Mother Mrs. Betty Collodi. This same group recited the Conservation Pledge.

At the advancement ceremonies, new Bobcat Michael Farber was welcomed into the pack. Corliss Varnum, Michael Kozenko and Douglas Stowell received their Wolf badges. Gold Arrows on Wolf were awarded Thomas Sutton and Michael Collodi, with Silver Arrows going to David Petersen and Richard Sande. Daniel Corrigan, Howard Hotaling, Scott Miller and Ronald Fischang advanced to Bear, and Gold Arrows on Bear were received by Howard Hotaling and Scott Miller. Silver Arrows on Bear were given Donald Brott, Robert Cook, Howard Hotaling with two awarded Ronald Fischang. Assistant Denner stripe was presented to Anthony Antenucci with Denner stripe going to Konrad Borst. One year service stars were presented Thomas Sutton and Anthony Antenucci. Two year service stars were presented Baron Collodi and Ronald Fischang. A one year service star was earned by assistant Den Monther Mrs. Frieda Borst and three year service stars were presented Mrs. Muriel Short, Den Mother and Mrs. Virginia Dall, Assistant Den Mother of Den 1. A three-year service star was also awarded Assistant Cubmaster George Dall. Cubmaster Cook conveyed the thanks of everyone interested in Pack 10 to the Den Mothers, their assistants and assistant cubmasters for their unselfish service to the boys.

With "Down on the Farm" the theme for April, all dens participated in the program by telling a few short facts about a farm animal or places visited by the Cubs. Den 5 visited Aldrich's Poultry Farm and Dens 1 and 6 visited Beatty's Dairy. On display were started seeds and farm and ranch scenes.

Awards were given for the best handicraft on display. These were won by Roger Ohlson, Richard Sande, Charles Hall and Phillip Ryan.

The Pinewood Derby Race was one of the highlights of the evening, with Cubs cheering their little racers onward. Prizes were won by Gary Houseman, Barry Collodi and Arthur Anderson whose racers won in that order. These races will be held at all pack meetings and from the interest shown, will be something to look forward to with the boys reworking their cars during the month.

Den 5 was in charge of the song period which was enjoyed by all. Ronnie Wiswell, new Den Chief, led in the singing of "Old McDonald's Farm" by selecting an animal at random from a box.

Movies of the Cubs' Blue and Gold Banquet and Boy Scout Activities taken by Scoutmaster Carlton Deyo were shown by him and enjoyed by everyone.

Cubmaster Cook announced the pack had been awarded the "Onward for God and My Country" plaque and streamer for achievements and prompt reregistration of the pack charter. On May 18 Pack 10 will be host of the round table meeting, but this will be held at St. John's Church instead of the firehouse because of the limited space. The next round table meets at the Church of the Redeemer, Wurts Street April 20. Next Committee meeting will be April 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Collodi, Lake Katrine. Den 2 had den duty and served refreshments.

Funeral for Banker

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday for John R. Bryan, 52, vice president of the Liberty Bank.

Bryan died of a heart attack Monday at Pompano Beach, Fla., where he was vacationing with his family.

He was a native of Rochester and lived there until 1946, when he came to Buffalo and operated a real-estate brokerage business. He lived in Williamsville, a Buffalo suburb.

In 1957, he joined the Liberty Bank and became vice president of real estate and mortgage division.

Exercise Caution in Slam Bidding

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There are two sides to successful slam bidding. Bidding your good ones and staying out of the ones that won't make.

North and South really deserve credit for stopping on a dime with today's hand.

In spite of only 12 high card points South had a mighty good hand and while East's leap to four diamonds crowded him he was able to bid four spades.

This four-spade bid gave North a real problem. His hand was a maximum for a raise to two clubs and his king-queens in the black suits looked mighty good to him. Give South three aces and he wanted to be in a slam but maybe South would only hold two of those nice cards. Anyway, North decided he ought to try a Blackwood four no-trump.

With two aces and a void South considered a jump to six but remembered that North had merely bid two clubs at his first turn. So all South did was to make the simple five-heart response.

This settled North's slam ambitions. He went to five spades. South thought a long while but finally came to the right decision and passed.

Death Penalty Is Sought for Gob In Slaying Case

LIVINGSTON, Ala. (AP) — A murder trial entered its second day here today for one of two sailors accused of killing a former Meridian, Miss., businessman.

James H. Parkerson, 19, of Rockmart, Ga., and George Eldoras Blauvelt, 20, of Canandaigua, N. Y., are accused of slaying William Shirley in the Livingston Hotel Jan. 11, and dumping his body in a lake near Rockmart.

The state is trying Parkerson first. Blauvelt's trial is scheduled to begin immediately after Parkerson's.

Solicitor Tom Boggs Tuesday demanded the death penalty for Parkerson in his introductory remarks to the jury.

Seven witnesses were called but so far none has been found who saw Shirley in Livingston. In fact, an old black shoe so far is the only evidence that Shirley was ever here.

The shoe, size 7½, was picked up in front of the hotel by a maid, Ella Mae Brassfield. She testified that she gave the shoe to Mrs. R. L. Evans, owner of the Livingston Hotel. Mrs. Evans said she gave the shoe to Sheriff C. H. Scott.

Dr. Larry B. Howard, assistant director of the Georgia Crime Laboratory, testified that the shoe matched that taken from Shirley's body. An autopsy showed two severe fractures of the skull, Howard said.

Blauvelt and Parkerson signed statements that they killed Shirley, and threw his body in Blue Hole Lake, near Rockmart.

The two AWOL sailors were arrested at Hobbs, N. M.

House Exploded Out of Joint by Lightning Bolt

PENN YAN, N. Y. (AP)—A 10-room house was exploded out of joint Tuesday night by a lightning bolt that apparently came down a television antenna.

Police Chief Richard Scott said the wooden house was a complete loss. There was no fire and no one was hurt. Miss Angeline Youst was in an upstairs room, but escaped injury.

"The television set was completely disintegrated," Scott said. "There was nothing left but tiny pieces."

He said the lightning bolt sprung the corners of the house, blew out most of the windows and ripped down a partition in the cellar, part of the roof and some of the siding. He put the loss at $17,000.

"Furniture was scattered all over the place," he said. "Everything was topsy-turvy."

Parts of this Yates County village were without power for a time and windows in five houses near the Youst home were broken. Miss Youst's brother, Andrew, who also lives in the house, was not home at the time.

Pictorial Review of Lions Exposition

The largest Industrial Exposition and Home Show in the history of the Kingston Lions Club was officially opened Tuesday evening with the cutting of the ribbon by Mayor Edwin F. Radel, as the Colonial Cadets, Port Ewen junior drum and bugle corps, struck up a lively tune.

A total of 2,178 visited the state armory on Manor Avenue during the evening, compared to 1,600 on opening night last year.

After the cutting of the ribbon a large crowd followed Mayor Radel into the exhibition area which contains 125 colorful booths displaying everything from missiles to mowing machines.

One of the early crowd stoppers was offered by the Kingston Savings Bank with its display of counterfeit money. It also gave attractively mounted polaroid portraits to visitors after they entered a guess on the number of coins in a transparent model house.

Ben Rhymer showed a dramatic 23-foot Cavalier Chris Craft inboard cruiser plus a wide variety of Zenith radios, TVs, and stereophonic high fidelity units.

Pancake and bacon cooking on an open fire sent fragrant aromas throughout the area of the Potter Bros. camp site, while young Ben Krum demonstrated the art of tying ties.

Donald Briggs, general chairman, reported that the Lions Club was highly pleased with opening night interest in the 12th annual show which will continue each night this week through Saturday. The hours are 7 to 10:30 p. m.

ICBM Nose Cone Is Found After 5,000-Mile Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A powerful two - stage rocket shot a tiny ICBM nose cone of the future 5,000 miles over the Atlantic today. It was recovered two hours later for the first time in seven launching attempts.

The cone, which could carry power - packed ICBM warheads, was fired on target by an 80-foot Thor-Able rocket.

Air Force officials announced that the recovery by ships located in the impact area was "a secondary test objective but an additional bonus to the test program as it will provide physical verification of telemetry (instrumentation) data received.

The missile roared aloft at 1:35 a.m. (EST), and appeared to perform perfectly.

The main job was to learn how well the cone survived the blazing re-entry from space through the earth's atmosphere at speeds close to 10,000 miles per hour.

Two hours after it hit the water, the cone was spotted by a C54 reconnaissance plane. Earlier, the cone's re-entry, which was like a tiny meteor, was sighted by several ships in the area.

Shoe Prices Go Up

ST. LOUIS (AP)—International Shoe Co., largest manufacturer in the shoe field, has announced its prices for fall will rise a minimum of four to five per cent.

International President Henry H. Rand said Tuesday that the four to five per cent increase would be more if the cost of procuring hides and leather continues upward.

Farm Is Theme For 10 Cubbers

The monthly pack meeting of the Cub Scouts of Pack 10 was held Monday night at Ulster Hose Firehouse, with "Down on the Farm" the theme for the month.

The opening flag ceremony was conducted by Den 3, led by Den Mother Mrs. Betty Collodi. This same group recited the Conservation Pledge.

At the advancement ceremonies, new Bobcat Michael Farber was welcomed into the pack. Corliss Varnum, Michael Kozenko and Douglas Stowell received their Wolf badges. Gold Arrows on Wolf were awarded Thomas Sutton and Michael Collodi, with Silver Arrows going to David Petersen and Richard Sande. Daniel Corrigan, Howard Hotaling, Scott Miller and Ronald Fischang advanced to Bear, and Gold Arrows on Bear were received by Howard Hotaling and Scott Miller. Silver Arrows on Bear were given Donald Brott, Robert Cook, Howard Hotaling with two awarded Ronald Fischang. Assistant Denner stripe was presented to Anthony Antenucci with Denner stripe going to Konrad Borst. One year service stars were presented Thomas Sutton and Anthony Antenucci. Two year service stars were presented Baron Collodi and Ronald Fischang. A one year service star was earned by assistant Den Monther Mrs. Frieda Borst and three year service stars were presented Mrs. Muriel Short, Den Mother and Mrs. Virginia Dall, Assistant Den Mother of Den 1. A three-year service star was also awarded Assistant Cubmaster George Dall. Cubmaster Cook conveyed the thanks of everyone interested in Pack 10 to the Den Mothers, their assistants and assistant cubmasters for their unselfish service to the boys.

With "Down on the Farm" the theme for April, all dens participated in the program by telling a few short facts about a farm animal or places visited by the Cubs. Den 5 visited Aldrich's Poultry Farm and Dens 1 and 6 visited Beatty's Dairy. On display were started seeds and farm and ranch scenes.

Awards were given for the best handicraft on display. These were won by Roger Ohlson, Richard Sande, Charles Hall and Phillip Ryan.

The Pinewood Derby Race was one of the highlights of the evening, with Cubs cheering their little racers onward. Prizes were won by Gary Houseman, Barry Collodi and Arthur Anderson whose racers won in that order. These races will be held at all pack meetings and from the interest shown, will be something to look forward to with the boys reworking their cars during the month.

Den 5 was in charge of the song period which was enjoyed by all. Ronnie Wiswell, new Den Chief, led in the singing of "Old McDonald's Farm" by selecting an animal at random from a box.

Movies of the Cubs' Blue and Gold Banquet and Boy Scout Activities taken by Scoutmaster Carlton Deyo were shown by him and enjoyed by everyone.

Cubmaster Cook announced the pack had been awarded the "Onward for God and My Country" plaque and streamer for achievements and prompt reregistration of the pack charter. On May 18 Pack 10 will be host of the round table meeting, but this will be held at St. John's Church instead of the firehouse because of the limited space. The next round table meets at the Church of the Redeemer, Wurts Street April 20. Next Committee meeting will be April 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Collodi, Lake Katrine. Den 2 had den duty and served refreshments.

Funeral for Banker

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday for John R. Bryan, 52, vice president of the Liberty Bank.

Bryan died of a heart attack Monday at Pompano Beach, Fla., where he was vacationing with his family.

He was a native of Rochester and lived there until 1946, when he came to Buffalo and operated a real-estate brokerage business. He lived in Williamsville, a Buffalo suburb.

In 1957, he joined the Liberty Bank and became vice president of real estate and mortgage division.

Exercise Caution in Slam Bidding

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There are two sides to successful slam bidding. Bidding your good ones and staying out of the ones that won't make.

North and South really deserve credit for stopping on a dime with today's hand.

In spite of only 12 high card points South had a mighty good hand and while East's leap to four diamonds crowded him he was able to bid four spades.

This four-spade bid gave North a real problem. His hand was a maximum for a raise to two clubs and his king-queens in the black suits looked mighty good to him. Give South three aces and he wanted to be in a slam but maybe South would only hold two of those nice cards. Anyway, North decided he ought to try a Blackwood four no-trump.

With two aces and a void South considered a jump to six but remembered that North had merely bid two clubs at his first turn. So all South did was to make the simple five-heart response.

Death Penalty Is Sought for Gob In Slaying Case

LIVINGSTON, Ala. (AP) — A murder trial entered its second day here today for one of two sailors accused of killing a former Meridian, Miss., businessman.

James H. Parkerson, 19, of Rockmart, Ga., and George Eldoras Blauvelt, 20, of Canandaigua, N. Y., are accused of slaying William Shirley in the Livingston Hotel Jan. 11, and dumping his body in a lake near Rockmart.

The state is trying Parkerson first. Blauvelt's trial is scheduled to begin immediately after Parkerson's.

Charges Couple Took TV Sets, Radios at Motels

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—State Police say a Pennsylvania couple stole television and radio sets from motels in a number of Eastern states.

Capt. R. K. Knies identified them as Albert Brown, 28, of Tarentum, near Pittsburgh, and his 25-year-old wife, Jacqueline.

Knies said the couple was traced after months of police work to Tarentum where Brown was hospitalized for treatment of an ulcer.

The officer said the couple traveled in various states, checking into motels with their four small children and telling the operators they would be leaving early in the morning.

When they checked out, Knies said, the couple took the radio and television sets with them. The total value of the allegedly stolen equipment was not estimated.

Brown, who was admitted to Allegheny Valley Hospital March 31, was transferred Tuesday to a hospital in Erie where he and his wife face larceny charges. Mrs. Brown was jailed and the children, ranging in age from 3 to 8 years, were placed in a juvenile home.

Knies said the Browns also are wanted in several New England states, New York and Alabama.

Shed Destroyed By Fire, Garages Nearby Scorched

A large frame shed at the rear of the home of Jasper J. Kelder, of 194 Tremper Avenue, was destroyed and two nearby two-car garages were scorched Tuesday afternoon by fire of undetermined origin.

Shortly before 2 p. m. a neighbor telephoned police headquarters and reported the fire. The call was flashed to fire alarm headquarters and Engines 1, 3 and 4 and Trucks 1 and 2 were dispatched to the scene.

When firemen in command of Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Julius L. Buchholtz arrived they found flames sweeping the shed. Chief Bett radioed headquarters and Engine 2 and Wiltwyck volunteers responded to the call.

The one-story frame shed was burned to the ground. During the height of the blaze flames scorched the siding of two nearby garages owned by Edwin Schultz and Aloysjus Gafney. Firemen directed streams of water on the garages and saved them.

The origin of the fire was not immediately determined, fire officials said.

Children's Surgery Topic at Meeting

Dr. Donald A. Davis, attending surgeon in charge of children's surgery at both Bellevue Hospital and University Hospital addressed the April meeting of The Medical Society of the County of Ulster, which was held Tuesday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The scientific lecture was on surgery of the bowel in infants and children.

Dr. Davis, who is professor of clinical surgery in New York University Post-Graduate Medical School, took his degree in medicine at the Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons and his surgical training at Bellevue Hospital.

On completion of his training, he was appointed to the staff of the surgical division of Bellevue Hospital and to the staff of New York University Hospital.

MEN OF VISION—Not diapers, but how well a newborn baby can see is the concern of these two physicians at the Boston University School of Medicine. Dr. Sydney S. Gellis, left, who invented the vision-measuring device, and Dr. John Gorman prepare to test an infant's sight. The baby's eyes follow black lines moving across the arc above its head. By gradually reducing the width of the lines and watching the baby's eye movements, the doctors can calculate the child's ability to see.

In Buffalo Bribery Case

Early Trial Promised For Ex-Mayor, Others

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Carman F. Ball promises an early trial for ex-Mayor Steven Pankow and four other politicians under indictment on bribery charges.

It was Pankow's second indictment in six days. Last week, a federal grand jury charged that he evaded $43,411 in income taxes for 1953-57, the years he was in office.

$30,000 Bribes Charged

Tuesday, the sealed indictment by an Erie County grand jury was opened. It charged that Pankow and four councilmen who held office in 1957 took $30,100 in bribes in return for street-paving contracts.

The indictment alleged that Raymond F. Brayer, president of Rock Asphalt Inc., collected money for the bribes from his and the other companies, Kendall Roadways Inc., and Brunner Asphalt and Construction Inc.

Ball said the paving companies were granted immunity from prosecution. Brayer testified at length before the jury.

City Council President William B. Lawless said Tuesday night he was "shocked that the principals of the paving companies have been given complete immunity by both the district attorney and federal attorney."

Sees Travesty of Justice

"It will be a travesty of justice," he said, "if those who gained most from the false practices go scot-free."

The four men named in the indictment with Pankow, a Democrat, are: Vincent P. Masterson, Democratic majority leader in the City Council; Stephen B. Moskal, Democratic councilman; Russell M. Leech, former Republican councilman; and Joseph J. Cooley, former Democratic councilman and now city clerk.

All but Cooley pleaded innocent at their arraignments and were released in $3,500 bail each. Cooley's arraignment was postponed because he has a broken leg.

No Date Set Yet

Ball said "I hope to try the case at the first possible chance." No date has yet been set.

The indictment charged that Leech accepted $11,400 in bribes, Masterson $8,200, Pankow $7,500 and Moskal and Cooley $1,500 each.

Bribery, a felony, carried a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and $5,000 fine on each count. Taking unlawful fees, also a felony, has 10-year and $4,000 maximum penalties and conspiracy, a misdemeanor, one year and $500.

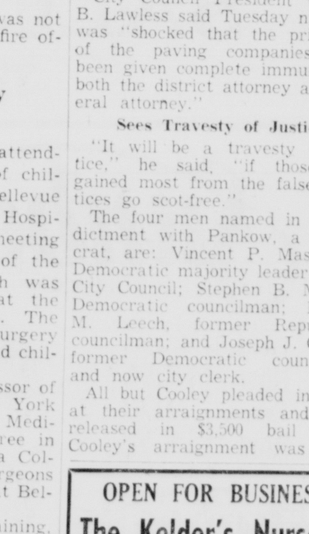

Flush Away Gasoline

Kingston firemen were dispatched to Broadway and Franklin Street at 2:35 p. m. Tuesday to flush the pavement after 30 gallons of gasoline spilled from a tank at the Cities Service station operated by Frank Gallo. Police reported the incident to fire headquarters and Engine 3 was dispatched to flush the gasoline from the pavement to elminate a possible fire hazard.

Eckwerth Wins Execution Stay

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A Yonkers salesman won a stay of execution from a U. S. Supreme Court justice Tuesday as his attorney pleaded with Gov. Rockefeller for clemency.

Edward Eckwerth, 31, who is in the Sing Sing Prison death house, was slated to die Thursday night for killing Rosemary Spezzo, a 24-year-old school teacher.

Justice Grants Stay

After the clemency hearing, however, the governor's office announced that Justice John Harland had granted a stay pending further appeals.

During the clemency hearing, the governor asked Eckwerth's lawyer, Barlow Smith of New York, whether it was true that Eckwerth had written a letter to Smith saying that he did not want Rockefeller to extend clemency.

Smith said it was true. However, he said Eckwerth wanted "justice" in the courts and—if confronted by a final refusal in the courts—would change his view about clemency from the governor.

No Doubt of Guilt

Smith said there was no doubt that Eckwerth was guilty. But he argued that "no public benefit would be served by putting the man to death." He urged Rockefeller to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment.

Joseph F. Gagliardi, the Westchester County district attorney, said however he saw nothing in the case or in Eckwerth's background to warrant clemency.

He said Eckwerth had a criminal record, including a conviction for assaulting a woman, and had been granted leniency by the courts to no avail.

Threatened to Tell Wife

Eckwerth was convicted of bludgeoning Miss Spezzo with a rock June 22, 1956, in a wooded area near Greenburgh, Westchester County. He said they had sexual intercourse and that Miss Spezzo threatened to tell his wife that they had been seeing each other regularly.

Several appeals to various courts, including the U. S. Supreme Court, had been rejected.

Former Gov. Averell Harriman heard a clemency plea in the case last November but did not take any action.

An aide to Rockefeller said the governor, following custom, would not announce his decision unless it was to grant clemency.

Charges Couple Took TV Sets, Radios at Motels

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—State Police say a Pennsylvania couple stole television and radio sets from motels in a number of Eastern states.

Capt. R. K. Knies identified them as Albert Brown, 28, of Tarentum, near Pittsburgh, and his 25-year-old wife, Jacqueline.

Knies said the couple was traced after months of police work to Tarentum where Brown was hospitalized for treatment of an ulcer.

The officer said the couple traveled in various states, checking into motels with their four small children and telling the operators they would be leaving early in the morning.

When they checked out, Knies said, the couple took the radio and television sets with them. The total value of the allegedly stolen equipment was not estimated.

Brown, who was admitted to Allegheny Valley Hospital March 31, was transferred Tuesday to a hospital in Erie where he and his wife face larceny charges. Mrs. Brown was jailed and the children, ranging in age from 3 to 8 years, were placed in a juvenile home.

Knies said the Browns also are wanted in several New England states, New York and Alabama.

Shed Destroyed By Fire, Garages Nearby Scorched

A large frame shed at the rear of the home of Jasper J. Kelder, of 194 Tremper Avenue, was destroyed and two nearby two-car garages were scorched Tuesday afternoon by fire of undetermined origin.

Shortly before 2 p. m. a neighbor telephoned police headquarters and reported the fire. The call was flashed to fire alarm headquarters and Engines 1, 3 and 4 and Trucks 1 and 2 were dispatched to the scene.

When firemen in command of Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Julius L. Buchholtz arrived they found flames sweeping the shed. Chief Bett radioed headquarters and Engine 2 and Wiltwyck volunteers responded to the call.

The one-story frame shed was burned to the ground. During the height of the blaze, flames scorched the siding of two nearby garages owned by Edwin Schultz and Aloysius Gafney. Firemen directed streams of water on the garages and saved them.

The origin of the fire was not immediately determined, fire officials said.

Children's Surgery Topic at Meeting

Dr. Donald A. Davis, attending surgeon in charge of children's surgery at both Bellevue Hospital and University Hospital addressed the April meeting of The Medical Society of the County of Ulster, which was held Tuesday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The scientific lecture was on surgery of the bowel in infants and children.

Dr. Davis, who is professor of clinical surgery in New York University Post-Graduate Medical School, took his degree in medicine at the Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons and his surgical training at Bellevue Hospital.

On completion of his training, he was appointed to the staff of the surgical division of Bellevue Hospital and to the staff of New York University Hospital.

MEN OF VISION—Not diapers, but how well a newborn baby can see is the concern of these two physicians at the Boston University School of Medicine. Dr. Sydney S. Gellis, left, who invented the vision-measuring device, and Dr. John Gorman prepare to test an infant's sight. The baby's eyes follow black lines moving across the arc above its head. By gradually reducing the width of the lines and watching the baby's eye movements, the doctors can calculate the child's ability to see.

In Buffalo Bribery Case

Early Trial Promised For Ex-Mayor, Others

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Carman F. Ball promises an early trial for ex-Mayor Steven Pankow and four other politicians under indictment on bribery charges.

It was Pankow's second indictment in six days. Last week, a federal grand jury charged that he evaded $43,411 in income taxes for 1953-57, the years he was in office.

$30,000 Bribes Charged

Tuesday, the sealed indictment by an Erie County grand jury was opened. It charged that Pankow and four councilmen who held office in 1957 took $30,100 in bribes in return for street-paving contracts.

The indictment alleged that Raymond F. Brayer, president of Rock Asphalt Inc., collected money for the bribes from his and the other companies, Kendall Roadways Inc., and Brunner Asphalt and Construction Inc.

Ball said the paving companies were granted immunity from prosecution. Brayer testified at length before the jury.

City Council President William B. Lawless said Tuesday night he was "shocked that the principals of the paving companies have been given complete immunity by both the district attorney and federal attorney."

Sees Travesty of Justice

"It will be a travesty of justice," he said, "if those who gained most from the false practices go scot-free."

The four men named in the indictment with Pankow, a Democrat, are: Vincent P. Masterson, Democratic majority leader in the City Council; Stephen B. Moskal, Democratic councilman; Russell M. Leech, former Republican councilman; and Joseph J. Cooley, former Democratic councilman and now city clerk.

All but Cooley pleaded innocent at their arraignments and were released in $3,500 bail each. Cooley's arraignment was postponed because he has a broken leg.

No Date Set Yet

Ball said "I hope to try the case at the first possible chance." No date has yet been set.

The indictment charged that Leech accepted $11,400 in bribes, Masterson $8,200, Pankow $7,500 and Moskal and Cooley $1,500 each.

Bribery, a felony, carried a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and $5,000 fine on each count. Taking unlawful fees, also a felony, has 10-year and $4,000 maximum penalties and conspiracy, a misdemeanor, one year and $500.

Flush Away Gasoline

Kingston firemen were dispatched to Broadway and Franklin Street at 2:35 p. m. Tuesday to flush the pavement after 30 gallons of gasoline spilled from a tank at the Cities Service station operated by Frank Gallo. Police reported the incident to fire headquarters and Engine 3 was dispatched to flush the gasoline from the pavement to eliminate a possible fire hazard.

Eckwerth Wins Execution Stay

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A Yonkers salesman won a stay of execution from a U. S. Supreme Court justice Tuesday as his attorney pleaded with Gov. Rockefeller for clemency.

Edward Eckwerth, 31, who is in the Sing Sing Prison death house, was slated to die Thursday night for killing Rosemary Spezzo, a 24-year-old school teacher.

Justice Grants Stay

After the clemency hearing, however, the governor's office announced that Justice John Harland had granted a stay pending further appeals.

During the clemency hearing, the governor asked Eckwerth's lawyer, Barlow Smith of New York, whether it was true that Eckwerth had written a letter to Smith saying that he did not want Rockefeller to extend clemency.

Smith said it was true. However, he said Eckwerth wanted "justice" in the courts and—if confronted by a final refusal in the courts—would change his view about clemency from the governor.

No Doubt of Guilt

Smith said there was no doubt that Eckwerth was guilty. But he argued that "no public benefit would be served by putting the man to death." He urged Rockefeller to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment.

Joseph F. Gagliardi, the Westchester County district attorney, said however he saw nothing in the case or in Eckwerth's background to warrant clemency.

He said Eckwerth had a criminal record, including a conviction for assaulting a woman, and had been granted leniency by the courts to no avail.

Threatened to Tell Wife

Eckwerth was convicted of bludgeoning Miss Spezzo with a rock June 22, 1956, in a wooded area near Greenburgh, Westchester County. He said they had sexual intercourse and that Miss Spezzo threatened to tell his wife that they had been seeing each other regularly.

Several appeals to various courts, including the U. S. Supreme Court, had been rejected.

Former Gov. Averell Harriman heard a clemency plea in the case last November but did not take any action.

An aide to Rockefeller said the governor, following custom, would not announce his decision unless it was to grant clemency.

Mary Jo Mignano, John D. Kerin Are Wed Saturday, April 4, at Saugerties Church

MR. AND MRS. JOHN D. KERIN
(R. B. Johnstone photo)

Miss Mary Jo Mignano and John D. Kerin were wed before a nuptial Mass at St. Mary's Church, Saugerties, Saturday, April 4, at 11 a. m. The Rev. John Frawley, assistant pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Aleksander Narel was organist and Eugene La Plante, soloist.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Mignano of 202 Market Street, Saugerties, was given in marriage by her father. She chose a gown fashioned with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace, sabrina neckline trimmed with seed pearls and sequins, and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant tiered skirt of pleated nylon tulle and Chantilly lace terminated in a chapel train.

Her headpiece was a modified Juliet cap with a crown of seed pearls and a four tiered veil of French silk illusion. She carried a prayer book with roses and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Miss Vera Tessendori of New York City, a cousin of the bride. She wore a gown of mauve rose taffeta, tulle and nylon organza styled with a fitted bodice and floor lengh skirt. Her picture hat and mitts were mauve rose. She carried a matching prayer book and white roses touched with pink.

Bridesmaids Gretchen Coons, Sueann Reynolds, Bethany Granwehr and Sil Merritt, were similarly attired in mauve rose gowns. They wore matching picture hats and mitts and carried prayer books with white flowers.

Best man was Harry Mooney. Ushers were Daniel Kerin, Richard Dwyer, Joseph Miller and Murray Craft.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the Flamingo Restaurant following the ceremony.

Mrs. Kerin is a graduate of Saugerties High School and attended Cazenovia Junior College. She is employed by the Rondout National Bank, Kingston.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Margaret Kerin of Clermont Street, Saugerties. Employed by the Equitable Life Assurance Company, he is a graduate of Saugerties High School and attended Siena College.

Upon their return from a wedding trip the couple will reside at 71 Montgomery Street.

Coach House Players

Coach House Players Inc., 12 Augusta Street, will meet Tuesday, April 14, at 8:30 p. m. Costume jewelry will be collected for the April 21 card party.

Area Girls to Sing At College Concert

ALBANY — The West Point Cadet Glee Club will sing in joint concert with the College of St. Rose, Saturday night, at the RPI Field House, Troy.

Singing with St. Rose will be area girls: Miss Ann Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Lane, Ashokan; Miss Julia Ann Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hayes, 634 Delaware Avenue; and Miss Joanne Turco, daughter of Mrs. Adelina Marino Turco, Glasco. Miss Lane will also appear in a novelty dance routine.

Proceeds from the eighth annual concert will go towards the St. Rose development program which includes the completion of a five-story dormitory this fall.

Local Student Named To Duke Dean's List

DURHAM, N. C. — Laurence Simon Williams of Kingston was among 777 Duke University undergraduate students recently named to the Dean's List for the fall semester, 1958--1959.

To qualify for the Dean's List, a student must have attained at least a 3.0 average out of a possible 4.0 average.

INVITING HER FIANCE'S AUNTS

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be confirmed shortly and I am planning to have a reception for him at one of the social halls here in town. I intend to invite my daughter's fiance's mother and also one of her sisters whom I have met on several occasions and like very much. My daughter's fiance's mother has three other sisters whom I know only slightly. I had not planned to invite them to the reception but my daughter thinks I should as it would be very slighting to ask one and not the others. Will you please tell me if it is necessary to invite all four sisters?

Answer: Your daughter is right, it will be better to invite the other three sisters too. Not to do so might cause hurt feelings.

May She Keep His Gifts?

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister was "going steady" with a young soldier who was stationed in Germany. He sent her many lovely things from there. The young man is home now and soon will be discharged, but my sister no longer sees him as she has found someone else. Mother and I think she should return all the gifts she received from the first young man but she refuses to do so, saying that they were given to her and she has a right to keep them. Will you please give us your opinion?

Answer: As your sister was not engaged to the soldier and his gifts to her cannot be considered as objects for their future home, she is right in keeping them.

A Banana on Cereal

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me whether or not it is proper to slice a banana on cereal with a spoon? My husband always does this and our two sons are beginning to follow his example. I do not think it is proper but would like your opinion before putting my foot down on this practice.

Answer: It is perfectly all right to use a spoon.

INVITING HER FIANCE'S AUNTS

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be confirmed shortly and I am planning to have a reception for him at one of the social halls here in town. I intend to invite my daughter's fiance's mother and also one of her sisters whom I have met on several occasions and like very much. My daughter's fiance's mother has three other sisters whom I know only slightly. I had not planned to invite them to the reception but my daughter thinks I should as it would be very slighting to ask one and not the others. Will you please tell me if it is necessary to invite all four sisters?

Answer: Your daughter is right, it will be better to invite the other three sisters too. Not to do so might cause hurt feelings.

May She Keep His Gifts?

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister was "going steady" with a young soldier who was stationed in Germany. He sent her many lovely things from there. The young man is home now and soon will be discharged, but my sister no longer sees him as she has found someone else. Mother and I think she should return all the gifts she received from the first young man but she refuses to do so, saying that they were given to her and she has a right to keep them. Will you please give us your opinion?

Answer: As your sister was not engaged to the soldier and his gifts to her cannot be considered as objects for their future home, she is right in keeping them.

A Banana on Cereal

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me whether or not it is proper to slice a banana on cereal with a spoon? My husband always does this and our two sons are beginning to follow his example. I do not think it is proper but would like your opinion before putting my foot down on this practice.

Answer: It is perfectly all right to use a spoon.

Pauline McCormack and Raymond Williams Wed on Easter Sunday at Immanuel Church

Miss Pauline C. McCormack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCormack of St. Remy, became the bride of Raymond F. Williams of 187 Hasbrouck Avenue at a double ring ceremony Sunday, March 29, at 3 p. m. in Immanuel Lutheran Church. The Rev. Martin P. Dienst pastor, officiated.

Easter lilies decorated the church. Music was furnished by Mrs. Martin Dienst.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white embroidered nylon lace over polished taffeta. Her chapel length veil was attached to a pearl and sequin tiara. She carried a nosegay of white roses and carnations.

Mrs. Nancy Moseley of Creek Locks was matron of honor in a yellow faille dress. Her matching veil was attached to a pearl headpiece. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and white carnations.

Best man was Jack Moseley of Creek Locks.

A reception for over 50 guests was held at DeCicco's Restaurant, High Street.

The bride is employed at U. S. Bantam Toys, Kingston. Mr. Williams, son of Mrs. Ella Williams, served in the U. S. Marine Corps and also is employed at U. S. Bantam Toys.

The couple will reside at 56 Montrepose Avenue.

Elect Saugerties, Woodstock Jayncees Regional Officers

Mrs. Mary Graham of Woodstock was named director and Mrs. Jean Turner of Saugerties elected secretary of the Mid-Hudson region of the Jayncees at its annual meeting Sunday held in Hotel Minisink, Port Jervis.

Mrs. Graham succeeds Mrs. Brenda Hofler of Saugerties Jayncees who served last year.

The meeting was attended by delegates from Middletown, Hyde Park, Wappingers Falls, Port Jervis, Woodstock and Saugerties.

The agenda of the meeting included reports of chapter presidents on Jayncee activities since the last regional meeting in November.

Several chapters reported on the progress of their sewing contests.

Mrs. Viola Jacknert of Hyde Park reported that the proceeds from their sewing contest would go towards the establishment of a scholarship fund for a worthy student to attend the new Community College in Poughkeepsie.

The Port Jervis chapter reported success in a fund raising campaign that netted over $300. With the proceeds they have adopted a needy family of eight. At Christmas and Easter they supplied the family with baskets of food and clothing. Each month the Jayncees pay the family's milk bill.

The newly drafted constitution of the regional group was approved.

Plans for the national convention in Buffalo June 15 to 19 were discussed. Because the convention will be held in New York State, is was stressed that as many New Yorkers as possible attend.

There will be a New York State hospitality room set up in Hotel Statler.

The girls will be wearing an attractive uniform for their week's stay. Navy blue sunback dresses and white and gold polka dot jackets. Either a large navy blue pouch bag or blue hat box will be carried by the girls enabling them to stuff away conveniently the many giveaways of the represented states.

A buffet supper was served following the meeting.

New York Sextet. With Edmond Karlsrud Closes Concert Assn. Season April 20

The New York Sextet featuring Edmond Karlsrud, bass-baritone soloist and director, will be the final program for the Community Concert Association members this season. The concert which will include a variety of songs in solos, trios, quartets, and entire ensemble arrangements, will be given at the Community Theatre, Broadway, Monday, April 20, 8:30 p. m.

The program will conclude the most successful year of the 30-year-old local concert organization. Memberships were oversubscribed for the seventh consecutive season. Arrangements for joining the association for next year may be made with any worker or with Mrs. Bernard Forst or Mrs. Lloyd LeFever. The actual membership campaign week when all memberships for next season must be registered will be May 3 to 9.

Made Over 600 Appearances

The New York Sextet is another in a long line of successful vocal group endeavors of Edmond Karlsrud who previously toured with the Concertmen, Men of Song and The Rondoliers trio. A graduate of the University of Minnesota and Juilliard School of Music, he has appeared on NBC, CBS, ABC, and Dumont television networks. His more than 600 professional appearances have taken him to the 48 states and all the Canadian provinces.

Shirley Chester, lyric soprano, has been a member of the New York City, NBC Operas, appeared in a multitude of television shows and performances including "Carousel" at "Brussels." She was a scholarship student at Tanglewood and studied voice with John Brownlee and George Schick.

Has Sung in Operas

Geraldine Kullman, mezzo-soprano, a student of the Metropolitan Opera's John Brownlee and Gerhard Pechner has sung with the New York City Opera, NBC Opera Company, New Orleans Opera and the Robert Shaw Chorale.

Charles Broadhurst, tenor, won his music degree from the University of Wichita and while with the army's special service branch, appeared on a weekly TV show. He is active in opera and oratorio in New York and recently made a successful Town Hall debut.

Noted Soloist

Roy Hines, tenor, formerly with the Men of Song Quartet, won the Ted Mack Talent contest while serving with the army in Korea. He attended Eastman School of Music and has been soloist with orchestras under such conductors as Erich Leinsforf, Walter Hendl and Howard Hanson.

Max Mendenhall, baritone, a distinguished flying cross bomber pilot during World War II, graduated from Utah's Brigham Young University and studied at the American Opera Laboratory in Los Angeles. He has sung light opera on both coasts and toured in the "Rodgers and Hammerstein Night" concerts.

Touchette Accompanist

Charles Touchette who has lent his unique flair and vast professional experience to the creation of special arrangements for many of the Sextet's numbers, will also be with the group on tour as accompanist. Mr. Touchette, who was staff vocal arranger for CBS for seven years, has also had shows on the NBC, ABC and Mutual networks. He has been associated with many leading chora groups and toured the world as accompanist with many great artists. A member of ASCAP, and alumnus of New England Conservatory of Music, he is currently a consultant editor of the Carl Fischer, Inc., Music Co.

Choir Mothers Will Hold Spring Sale at Bethany April 16-17

Preparations are being made for the annual spring sale sponsored by the Choir Mothers Guild of the Old Dutch Church. Several special features are being arranged for the occasion, Thursday and Friday, April 16 and 17, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. in Bethany Hall.

Maxine Wingate, noted Woodstock artist and card designer, will be present both afternoons from 1 to 4 o'clock to do portrait sketches. Mrs. Wingate, the former Maxine Taylor of this city, was recently engaged by Montgomery Ward and Co., to do portrait sketches during a promotional sale and for a number of years has done special greeting cards for the New York stores. A nominal fee will be charged for the sketches.

Baby Sitter Service

Mothers who wish to shop on Friday afternoon will find a baby sitting service from 1 to 4 o'clock supervised by members of the Choir Mothers Guild under the direction of Mrs. John Hill.

For those interested in the current hobby of making hats, there will be a Hat Bar featuring good used hats. Another corner will be assigned for a Shoe Bar.

Mrs. William Hilton will have charge of the antique corner where articles may be consigned. Mrs. William Kaercher will supervise the Food Bar tempting the appetite with many of her special desserts. Morning coffee and light lunch will be served.

Will Meet April 15

In addition all types of clothing and household articles will be for sale. Anyone having items for the sale may call Mrs. Michael Maxson or bring them to the church, Wednesday evening, April 15.

The Choir Mothers Guild will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, April 15 at 8 p. m. when the articles will be arranged for the sale.

Chairman and Board Members Appointed At Annual Junior League Luncheon Monday

The Junior League of Kingston held its annual luncheon Monday at Williams Lake.

Mrs. Gifford Beal gave a talk on modern interior decorating. She said that there was a slight oriental trend, with lacquered furniture and bright colors. Also the Scandanavian influence is stressing the use of marble.

During the business session which was conducted by Mrs. Peter Corsones, president, the following chairmen were appointed:

Mrs. Herbert Derman, cheer service; Mrs. John Gotelli, children's theatre; Mrs. Robert O'Reilly, loan closet; Mrs. Warren Knaust, hospitality; Mrs. William Schiff, AJLA magazine; Mrs. George Vogel, publicity; Mrs. Amos Newcombe, library.

New board members will include:

Mrs. Lawrence Quilty, admissions; Mrs. George Bushnell, education; Mrs. Herbert Gade, exchange; Mrs. Joseph Scholar Jr., news sheet; Mrs. James Norton, nominating; Mrs. Henry Haltermann, placement; Mrs. John Brinnier, provisional; Mrs. Roger Mabie, public relations; Mrs. Anderson Carl and Mrs. Arthur Patterson, sustainers.

Scrolls were presented to Mrs. John Schomer, Mrs. Raymond Garraghan, Mrs. Edward De Groff Jr., Mrs. William Hobbs, who will be sustaining members this year.

'Command Performance'

Rupert Hitzig, an actor, of 44 East 81st Street, New York City, failed to appear in City Court Tuesday night to face a charge of speeding. City Judge Aaron Klein said a bench warrant would be issued. Hitzig was summoned March 31 by Patrolman Anthony Turck.

Britain Still Bans Susan's Oscar Movie

LONDON (AP) — Britain's top film censor said today Susan Hayward's Ocar-winning performance in "I Want To Live" is magnificent. But he still won't let the British public see the picture's final, harrowing death scene in the gas chamber.

John Trevelyan, secretary of the British Board of Film Censors, said his objection is to the showing of a legal execution by gas chamber in the closing reel.

"We have always felt that taking life by execution is not a fit subject for entertainment," he added.

Trevelyan said he has offered producer Joseph L. Mankiewicz an "X" censorship certificate for the show if the execution scenes are deleted. Movies with such a certificate may be seen by adults only. So far Mankiewicz has not accepted.

Byrne Chevvies Champs, 77-46; Bombardiers Take Third

New Paltz Jays Bow; Tom Riley Is 'MVP'

With Big Cal Ramsey, the All-America star from New York University in a starring role, the power laden Byrne Chevvies waltzed to their second straight Kingston Basketball tournament, 77-46, over the New Paltz Jays at the Municipal auditorium last night before more than 200 spectators.

In the preliminary, George Stuetzle did a "fadeout" but his Pine Plains Bombardiers revamped their lineup with two local stars and massacred the Stamford Knights, 105-50, to clinch third place.

Ramsey teamed with Tom Riley and Ed Kolokowski to break open a tight contest midway through the second period and give the Chevvies the coveted title. The Jays, featuring former New Paltz State Teachers College cagers, did not have the height or the shooting strength of the winners. They stayed close for twelve minutes and then fell behind.

Cal Hits

It was only 20-16, with three minutes gone in the second quarter when Ramsey got some hot hands. He fired five straight baskets, two from the corner, two from the middle and another on a "dunk" shot to zoom the margin to fourteen points, 30-16. From then on it was a breeze.

Cal, who has been drafted by the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association, gave a crowd pleasing performance. He didn't shoot as much as might be expected of a college star. The big boy handled himself well from the outside and was a bearcat underneath the boards. He was clearly the difference between what otherwise might have been two evenly matched clubs.

Riley, another big boy for the Chevvies, was awarded the Hank Krum Memorial trophy as the tournament's Most Valuable Player. He nipped Ramsey by four points in the balloting. In addition to Riley and Cal, the all-star team included Kolokowski, Jack Smyth of Stamford and Ronnie Scheffel of Pine Plains. New Paltz was second in the tournament but the teamwork on the club was so evident, not one player could make the all-tourney team.

The second five selected by the committee were Artie Gribbins, Harvey Henry and Ben Davis of New Paltz, Gary Holway of Pine Plains and Curry of the Chevvies.

Members of the committee were Herb Van Deusen, Alton Blackwell, Charles Bock, Alva Bruce, Ed Bahl and Knute Beichert.

The start of the first game was held up for almost an hour, Stamford had some trouble en route. Pine Plains had trouble of a different kind. Stuetzle failed to have five players ready to play. Apparently, some expense money is due some of the stars and George stayed away from the gym.

Team Effort

Scheffel, Frank Koenig and Gary Holway of the regulars were on hand as well as Bob Martin, the Arlington round man, Joe Uhl and Joe Klonowski were drafted and a spectator from upstate, Joe Viggiano also donned a uniform. Those seven players were just great together with six of them hitting in double figures.

Scheffel had 21 points and countless assists to show the way. Holway and Martin had 18 each and Koenig, Uhl and Klonowski made 14 markers. Scheffel and Martin gave standout performances in the backcourt with some fancy dribbling, feeding and all-around floor play. Smyth, a deadly jump shooter, had 22 for the losers and finished the tournament as the high scorer.

Toronto Ready To Play Montreal

BOSTON (AP)—Toronto's deadline kids, bent on becoming a team of destiny, confidently eyed powerful Montreal today for a showdown for hockey's coveted Stanley Cup in the first all-Canadian championship playoff since 1951.

"We're going to win the whole thing," said Coach Punch Imlach.

The Maple Leafs capped their tremendous drive which has amazed the hockey world by edging the Boston Bruins 3-2 Tuesday night to capture their semifinal series which went the limit of seven games.

Imlach, who became manager of Toronto a year ago assumed a dual role as coach in midseason when the Leafs were the National Hockey League doormat.

Under his guidance, the club finally found itself and sneaked into the playoffs on the last day of the regular season.

Tuesday night rookie Gerry Ehman provided the series' clinching goal at 17:27 of the final period.

The Leafs will meet Montreal on the Candiens' home ice in their best-of-seven series opener Thursday. The second game will be in Montreal Saturday before the teams head for Toronto and the next two meetings.

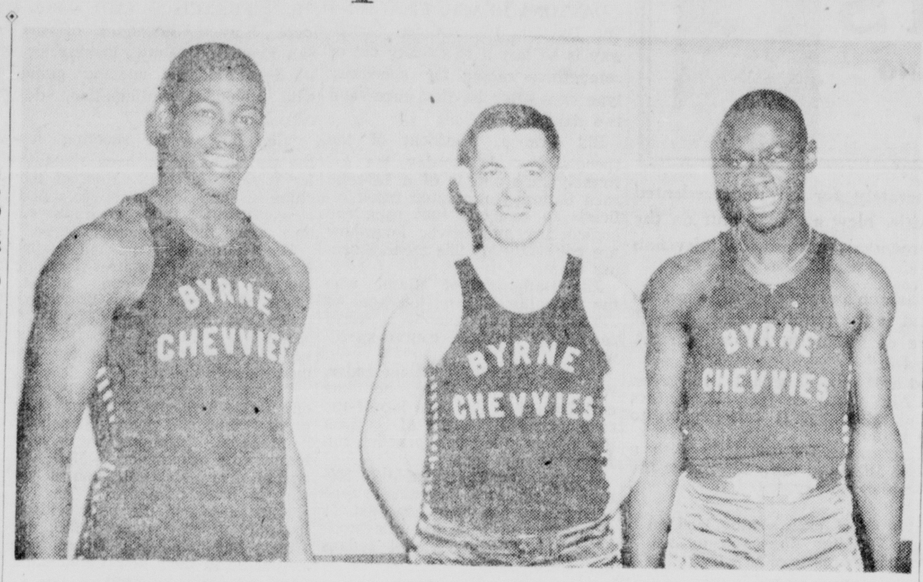

Pancho Gonzales Stops Anderson

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Pancho Gonzales, after dropping the opening set, beat Mal Anderson Tuesday night in their professional tennis tour.

He downed Anderson 4-6, 6-2, 9-7 for his 21st victory against 8 losses in the current tour.

Lew Hoad beat Ashley Cooper 6-3, 6-3 making his record for the tour 19-9.

The matches were played at Cornell University.

BIG THREE—Aiding the Byrne Chevvies to their second straight Kingston Basketball tournament championship were, left to right, Tom Riley, former Yonkers star and voted the "Most Valuable Player"; Bud Smith, Saugerties High School coach and the brains behind the Chevvies and Cal Ramsey, ex-NYU All-America, who contributed 30 points in the title contest. Name Larry Petersen For K.B.A. President

The nominating committee of the Kingston Bowling Association has designated Larry Petersen Jr., as its choice for president. The annual election meeting of the Board of Directors is scheduled Tuesday, April 28, at 7:30 p. m. at the YMCA.

Dick Waltman was re-nominated for the secretarytreasurer post. Nominated for directors are: Bill Mohr, Orlando Felipe, Ed Norton, Ben Toffiel, Al Sonnenberg, Harry Enders, Charles Raible.

The incumbent president, Jake Chichelsky, and John Fatum, a past president, have been nominated for life membership.

The election will be held under the old voting procedure, president Chichelsky has announced. Each delegate will cast one vote for each team in his league. Delegates who are instructed must vote according to the instructions.

Other business to come before the annual meeting will be items related to the annual city association tournament and any other resolutions presented by the delegates.

Notre Dame Candidates

Stickles, Twelve Other Vets Expected for Grid Practice

Senior Monty Stickles, All-America end from Poughkeepsie, will be among 13 lettermen reporting Saturday, April 11, to Head Coach Joe Kuharich as Notre Dame starts preparations for its 71st football season.

Twenty practice sessions are listed, according to Kuharich, starting with the opening drill on Saturday and winding up, per custom, with the Old Timers game, Saturday, May 9.

Stickles who made several All-America clubs last season as a junior, is in line for the coveted co-captain's job. Monty led the Irish in scoring, played the most minutes and scored the most touchdowns during the 1958 season.

New Coaching Staff

Greeting the candidates in addition to Kuharich will be his assistants, all but one of whom is new to the Notre Dame scene. They are: Bill Daddio, end coach and first assistant; Dick Evans, line coach; Dick Stanfel, assistant line coach; Don Doll, backfield coach; Joe Scudero, assistant backfield coach and Hugh Devore, freshman coach. Devore is the only returnee from the 1958 staff.

"The players will be new to us, in a sense, and we will be new to them. So, more or less, everybody will be starting equal," said Kuharich. He added, however, "The reason I say 'more or less' is that we do know something on those squads members returning from last year's varsity, as a result of studying the movies of the 1958 games in some detail."

Hard Task

The task facing Kuharich and his aides is not an easy one. Seldom have graduation losses been as heavy in the course of one year. The main losses from the 1958 squad are: (1) three of the first four ends; (2) the first four tackles; (3) three of the first four fullbacks. Altogether, 22 monogram winners will be graduating this June. And only 13 men will receive monograms for their play of a year ago will greet Kuharich.

The returning vets, in addition to Stickles, a first team member, are Scibelli, junior, third team tackle; Ken Adamson, second team right guard; Al Sabal, third team left guard; Bob Scholtz, senior, Myron Pottios, Junior and Dave Hurd, senior, who divided the center assignment between injuries; George Izo, senior, who took over the first team quarterbacking in the latter stages of the season; Don White, senior, third team quarterback; Bill "Red" Mack, junior and Pat Doyle, senior, who were number one and two at left half; and Jim Crotty ,senior, and Bob Scarpitto, junior, who were number one and two at right half.

Briefly, then, it would seem that Coach Kuharich's biggest problem is the finding and developing of a new line, with the exception of center and the finding and developing of a fullback.

The schedule:

Sept. 26—North Carolina at Notre Dame
Oct. 3—Purdue at Lafayette, Ind.
Oct. 10—California at Berkeley, Calif.
Oct. 17—Michigan State at E. Lansing, Mich.
Oct. 24 — Northwestern at Notre Dame
Oct. 31—Navy at Notre Dame
Nov. 7—Georgia Tech at Notre Dame
Nov. 14—Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh, Pa.
Nov. 21—Iowa at Iowa City, Ia.
Nov. 28—Southern California at Notre Dame.

Wallkill Set For First Tilt

Newcomers Seek Shot at Brown

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Perkins of Chicago and Paulie Armstead of Los Angeles, a pair of young lightweights hoping to earn a shot at champion Joe Brown, clash tonight in Chicago Stadium.

The 10-round bout will be scored under the five-point must system.

It will be nationally televised by ABC, 10 p.m. EST.

Armstead, with 12 knockouts to his credit, is a 2-1 favorite. This is based mainly on his upset victory over Philadelphia's Len Matthews last January in Hollywood, Calif.

Perkins, who won 40 of 46 amateur bouts, has a 12-5 pro record including 4 knockouts.

Armstead, who has been inactive since the Matthews fight to let a cut eye heal, has a 24-4-1 mark.

Broadway Florists Independent Champs

Broadway Florists left little doubt about who's boss in the Independent bowling league. They wrapped up the 1958-59 pennant last night with a 3-0 win over Vogel's Dairy in the annual playoff series.

The Florists cinched the flag with two close wins, 851-839 and 894-888, then won the finale, 814-758. This despite a heroic 639 effort by George Robinson who fired 211-227-201 for 639 for Vogel's.

Bob Geisler led the new champs with 545. The annual banquet is scheduled Saturday at the SRS Resort in Cottekill.

New Paltz Jays Bow; Tom Riley Is 'MVP'

With Big Cal Ramsey, the All-America star from New York University in a starring role, the power laden Byrne Chevvies waltzed to their second straight Kingston Basketball tournament, 77-46, over the New Paltz Jays at the Municipal auditorium last night before more than 200 spectators.

In the preliminary, George Stuetzle did a "fadeout" but his Pine Plains Bombardiers revamped their lineup with two local stars and massacred the Stamford Knights, 105-50, to clinch third place.

Ramsey teamed with Tom Riley and Ed Kolokowski to break open a tight contest midway through the second period and give the Chevvies the coveted title. The Jays, featuring former New Paltz State Teachers College cagers, did not have the height or the shooting strength of the winners. They stayed close for twelve minutes and then fell behind.

Cal Hits

It was only 20-16, with three minutes gone in the second quarter when Ramsey got some hot hands. He fired five straight baskets, two from the corner, two from the middle and another on a "dunk" shot to zoom the margin to fourteen points, 30-16. From then on it was a breeze.

Cal, who has been drafted by the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association, gave a crowd pleasing performance. He didn't shoot as much as might be expected of a college star. The big boy handled himself well from the outside and was a bearcat underneath the boards. He was clearly the difference between what otherwise might have been two evenly matched clubs.

Riley, another big boy for the Chevvies, was awarded the Hank Krum Memorial trophy as the tournament's Most Valuable Player. He nipped Ramsey by four points in the balloting. In addition to Riley and Cal, the all-star team included Kolokowski, Jack Smyth of Stamford and Ronnie Scheffel of Pine Plains. New Paltz was second in the tournament but the teamwork on the club was so evident, not one player could make the all-tourney team.

The second five selected by the committee were Artie Gribbins, Harvey Henry and Ben Davis of New Paltz, Gary Holway of Pine Plains and Curry of the Chevvies.

Members of the committee were Herb Van Deusen, Alton Blackwell, Charles Bock, Alva Bruce, Ed Bahl and Knute Beichert.

The start of the first game was held up for almost an hour, Stamford had some trouble en route. Pine Plains had trouble of a different kind. Stuetzle failed to have five players ready to play. Apparently, some expense money is due some of the stars and George stayed away from the gym.

Team Effort

Scheffel, Frank Koenig and Gary Holway of the regulars were on hand as well as Bob Martin, the Arlington round man. Joe Uhl and Joe Klonowski were drafted and a spectator from upstate, Joe Viggiano also donned a uniform. Those seven players were just great together with six of them hitting in double figures.

Scheffel had 21 points and countless assists to show the way. Holway and Martin had 18 each and Koenig, Uhl and Klonowski made 14 markers. Scheffel and Martin gave standout performances in the backcourt with some fancy dribbling, feeding and all-around floor play. Smyth, a deadly jump shooter, had 22 for the losers and finished the tournament as the high scorer.

Toronto Ready To Play Montreal

BOSTON (AP)—Toronto's deadline kids, bent on becoming a team of destiny, confidently eyed powerful Montreal today for a showdown for hockey's coveted Stanley Cup in the first all-Canadian championship playoff since 1951.

"We're going to win the whole thing," said Coach Punch Imlach.

The Maple Leafs capped their tremendous drive which has amazed the hockey world by edging the Boston Bruins 3-2 Tuesday night to capture their semifinal series which went the limit of seven games.

Imlach, who became manager of Toronto a year ago, assumed a dual role as coach in midseason when the Leafs were the National Hockey League doormat.

Under his guidance, the club finally found itself and sneaked into the playoffs on the last day of the regular season.

Tuesday night rookie Gerry Ehman provided the series' clinching goal at 17:27 of the final period.

The Leafs will meet Montreal on the Candiens' home ice in their best-of-seven series opener Thursday. The second game will be in Montreal Saturday before the teams head for Toronto and the next two meetings.

Pancho Gonzales Stops Anderson

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Pancho Gonzales, after dropping the opening set, beat Mal Anderson Tuesday night in their professional tennis tour.

He downed Anderson 4-6, 6-2, 9-7 for his 21st victory against 8 losses in the current tour.

Lew Hoad beat Ashley Cooper 6-3, 6-3 making his record for the tour 19-9.

The matches were played at Cornell University.

Name Larry Petersen For K.B.A. President

The nominating committee of the Kingston Bowling Association has designated Larry Petersen Jr., as its choice for president. The annual election meeting of the Board of Directors is scheduled Tuesday, April 28, at 7:30 p. m. at the YMCA.

Other nominations are: Frank Turck, first vice-president; Robbert Jones, second vice-president; Chet Smith, third vice-president; Phil Battaglia, fourth vice-president; Charles Forst, fifth vice-president.

Dick Waltman was re-nominated for the secretary-treasurer post. Nominated for directors are: Bill Mohr, Orlando Felipe, Ed Norton, Ben Toffiel, Al Sonnenberg, Harry Enders, Charles Raible.

The incumbent president, Jake Chichelsky, and John Fatum, a past president, have been nominated for life membership.

The election will be held under the old voting procedure, president Chichelsky has announced. Each delegate will cast one vote for each team in his league. Delegates who are instructed must vote according to the instructions.

Other business to come before the annual meeting will be items related to the annual city association tournament and any other resolutions presented by the delegates.

Notre Dame Candidates

Stickles, Twelve Other Vets Expected for Grid Practice

Senior Monty Stickles, All-America end from Poughkeepsie, will be among 13 lettermen reporting Saturday, April 11, to Head Coach Joe Kuharich as Notre Dame starts preparations for its 71st football season.

Twenty practice sessions are listed, according to Kuharich, starting with the opening drill on Saturday and winding up, per custom, with the Old Timers game, Saturday, May 9.

Stickles who made several All-America clubs last season as a junior, is in line for the coveted co-captain's job. Monty led the Irish in scoring, played the most minutes and scored the most touchdowns during the 1958 season.

New Coaching Staff

Greeting the candidates in addition to Kuharich will be his assistants, all but one of whom is new to the Notre Dame scene. They are: Bill Daddio, end coach and first assistant; Dick Evans, line coach; Dick Stanfel, assistant line coach; Don Doll, backfield coach; Joe Scudero, assistant backfield coach and Hugh Devore, freshman coach. Devore is the only returnee from the 1958 staff.

"The players will be new to us, in a sense, and we will be new to them. So, more or less, everybody will be starting equal," said Kuharich. He added, however, "The reason I say 'more or less' is that we do know something on those squads members returning from last year's varsity, as a result of studying the movies of the 1958 games in some detail."

Hard Task

The task facing Kuharich and his aides is not an easy one. Seldom have graduation losses been as heavy in the course of one year. The main losses from the 1958 squad are: (1) three of the first four ends; (2) the first four tackles; (3) three of the first four fullbacks. Altogether, 22 monogram winners will be graduating this June. And only 13 men will receive monograms for their play of a year ago will greet Kuharich.

The returning vets, in addition to Stickles, a first team member, are Scibelli, junior, third team tackle; Ken Adamson, second team right guard; Al Sabal, third team left guard; Bob Scholtz, senior, Myron Pottios, Junior and Dave Hurd, senior, who divided the center assignment between injuries; George Izo, senior, who took over the first team quarterbacking in the latter stages of the season; Don White, senior, third team quarterback; Bill "Red" Mack, junior and Pat Doyle, senior, who were number one and two at left half; and Jim Crotty, senior, and Bob Scarpitto, junior, who were number one and two at right half.

Briefly, then, it would seem that Coach Kuharich's biggest problem is the finding and developing of a new line, with the exception of center and the finding and developing of a fullback.

The schedule:

Newcomers Seek Shot at Brown

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Perkins of Chicago and Paulie Armstead of Los Angeles, a pair of young lightweights hoping to earn a shot at champion Joe Brown, clash tonight in Chicago Stadium.

The 10-round bout will be scored under the five-point must system.

It will be nationally televised by ABC, 10 p.m. EST.

Armstead, with 12 knockouts to his credit, is a 2-1 favorite. This is based mainly on his upset victory over Philadelphia's Len Matthews last January in Hollywood, Calif.

Perkins, who won 40 of 46 amateur bouts, has a 12-5 pro record including 4 knockouts.

Armstead, who has been inactive since the Matthews fight to let a cut eye heal, has a 24-4-1 mark.

Cottier Cost Milwaukee Postage Stamp, Phone Call

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Chuck Cottier, who cost the Milwaukee Braves a telephone call and a stamp, was added to the team's official roster Tuesday. And he could be one of the biggest bargains in organized baseball.

"Maybe I could have had a bonus when I joined the organization four years ago," the rookie said, "but I accepted before he changed his mind."

The "he" was Walt Widmayer, then scouting for Atlanta and now with the parent club.

Widmayer got wind of Cottier's potential abilities as a baseball player and decided to send him a contract.

At the time, Cottier didn't know that he was a free agent and in a position to pick for himself. Originally with Baltimore, he was put on his own when the Orioles did not give him a 1955 contract.

Cottier telephoned Widmayer and agreed to sign the contract.

Manager Fred Haney has since indicated that even though Cottier is a rookie, he shows all the possibilities of working out as a top second baseman.

So far, Haney has been alternating Cottier with Felix Mantilla.

Celts Near NBA Crown

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The Boston Celtics, perhaps the greatest basketball team ever assembled, were on the threshold today of a precedent-breaking sweep of the National Basketball Assn. title playoffs.

The Celts whipped the Minneapolis Lakers 123-110 here Tuesday night for their third straight victory. A repeat in Minneapolis Thursday night would make Boston the first team in the NBA's nine-year history to win the championship series in four straight.

"Why be modest about it," smiled Celtic Coach Red Auerbach "this is a great team."

He got no argument on that from the Lakers after the Celtics breath-taking show of power Tuesday night.

There was glory in it for all of the Celtic reliables but especially Bill Sharman, Bob Cousy and Bill Russell.

Sharman, the 32-year-old mechanical man, flicked six foul shots in as many tries and thus ran his consecutive free throw mark to 56, breaking the NBA record of 55 Bill set three years ago.

Cousy once more was the whirlwind playmaker, steering the Celtics fast break with spectacular dribbling, passing and headwork.

Russell hauled in 30 rebounds, bringing his total for the three games to 88.

The Lakers' task now is all but hopeless. They have to win four in a row against a team that was good enough to win 52 of 72 regular season games.

Orioles' Klaus May Miss Opener

BALTIMORE (AP) — A freak hotel room accident may force a change in the starting lineup for the Baltimore Orioles Thursday in Washington.

Infielder Billy Klaus had his side strapped Thursday after X-rays showed he suffered a hairline rib fracture Monday night when he slipped on a bathroom floor and jammed his side against a wash basin.

Dr. Erwin Mayer, Oriole team physician, said Klaus "should be able to play as soon as the pain allows him." Manager Paul Richards indicated Brooks Robinson would start at third base if Klaus is unable to play.

Arnold Palmer, fighting desperately for an unprecedented second consecutive Masters golf title, blew a 2-foot putt on the 17th green in full view of a tremendous nationwide television audience.

And it reminded us of Gene Sarazen's reply to a question we asked him several years ago: What is the toughest shot in golf?

Without hesitation, the Squire of Germantown replied: "A two foot putt when you really need it."

Palmer needed that 2-footer and a 4½-footer on the 18th green to achieve historic Masters first. And when he blew it, duffers around the nation sighed with understanding. It can happen to anyone—even the big shots in the game.

Then you saw Cary Middlecoff gunning for the title with a late surge putt short on the 17th and 18th and the railbirds in the audience gave each other that wise look and repeated the ancient saw: "Never up, never in."

Middlecoff was short, incredibly short with a nine iron on the 18th. The purists, recalling a similar approach on the 17th, observed out loud: "Middlecoff is pressing, he's trying to play too carefully."

It was a terrific show, the finest ever from the Masters. It captured the agonies of Arnold Palmer and Cary Middlecoff and the brilliant birdie sortie of Art Wall, a solid golfer whose previous claim to fame was that he won a lot of money, never a major tournament and has canned the incredible total of 35 holes-in-one in his career.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Like the old punchdrunk warrior said: "Dere's no substitoot for yoot." One glance at the beautifully refurbished Twaalfskill cocktail lounge and you know what we mean. Several of the club's younger members headed by the youthful president, Gene Berardi, have done a face lifting job that will startle members seeing it for the first time. Plush wall to wall carpeting, beautifully panelled imitation pine walls, new drapes, a beautiful clock. And when Harry Hohnhorst, the Woodstock artist-golfer completes a large panel and two smaller ones for the lounge, the Twaalfskill members can truly claim one of the best looking cocktail lounges in the state. . . . Johnny Provenzano is busily engaged setting up preliminary plans designed to make the annual Wiltwyck Invitational the top jewel in Wiltwyck's tournament-studded crown. There are few individuals in this part of the country who can match John's energy and his devotion to Wiltwyck Country club.

• Chips and Putts:

Wiltwyck Country Club has claimed a topnotch amateur in its 1959 membership—Bill Seeley of Catskill. A former pro who regained amateur status a few years ago, Seeley adds lustre and power to Wiltwyck's outstanding amateur contingent. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Dave Zimmer, one of the most popular golfing couples in the county, will be missing from the Woodstock Country Club scene this season. Zimmer has taken up new employment near Chicago. . . . Edna Britt, the only two-time winner in the women's division of the Freeman Hole-in-One tournament, is headed for Woodstock Country Club. . . . Eddie Lane (Wiltwyck) and Phil Coletti (Woodstock), two of the finest dispensers of liquid mirth this side of St. Andrews, are at their battle stations ready to offer condolences to the unhappy duffers. . . . Ed Gilligan, distinguished Woodstock author and editor of the fish and game column in the New York Herald-Tribune, is another prominent addition to Wiltwyck. And in answer to a million questions: Yes, Bill Polk is proceeding with the construction of a golf course in the High Woods area.

• Which Side of the Stamp:

Ben Hogan was paired with Bing Crosby in the latter's tournament at Pebble Beach. The hole was a dog-leg, the green hidden. Ben looked across the fairway and asked Crosby which direction he should drive.

"See that little white house across the course?" Bing replied. "That's the line."

Hogan stared intently. The house looked as tiny as a postage stamp at 30 paces.

Hogan teed up his ball, then called to Crosby, "Which side of the house, Bing?"

Montreal, Toronto To Meet for Crown

BOSTON (AP) — The National Hockey League was minus its senior referee and had another unhappy arbiter still on the payroll today with Montreal and Toronto set to meet for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's championship.

Red Storey, who has spent nine years as a whistle-tooter in the rugged league, quit Tuesday because of criticism from NHL brass. Storey walked out shortly before the Toronto-Boston playoff and was replaced by Eddie Powers.

Several hours after Toronto edged the Bruins 3-2 to gain the championship series against Montreal, backed Storey to the hilt.

"I'm 100 per cent behind Red," Powers told The Associated Press "Red is 100 per cent right in this deal. The front office has not backed up the officials this year."

Story, unnerved by criticism of his officiating in last Saturday's Montreal-Chicago playoff game, resigned and flew home to Montreal.

"I'm sick," Story said. "This thing is like a three-ring circus and the officials are being made the clowns."

HNL President Clarence Campbell was quoted by an Ottawa writer as saying that Storey "froze" as Montreal edged Chicago 5-4 on a goal with a minute and a half remaining for a berth in the championship round.

The basis apparently was Storey's refusal to call two alleged tripping infractions by Montreal when the score was deadlocked at 4-4.

"No penalty was called for," Storey said. "Both Chicago players deliberately took dives (looking for a Montreal penalty). The ice was so soft that even the officials were falling down."

Campbell called 'Story "a good referee" and expressed regrets that he had resigned.

Powers is expected to get the opening assignment for the Toronto-Montreal best-of-seven series starting Thursday on the Canadiens' home ice.

Daytona Racing Seen Too Fast

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Daytona International Speedway is so fast it is already out of competitive racing for speedway type cars after its first race—and two deaths.

Bill France, president of the speedway, said Tuesday the extremely high speeds of a 100-mile race Saturday prompted track officials to conclude that race car engineering and driver know-how are not ready for this modern racing plant.

Jim Rathmann of Miami won the 100-miler at an average of 170.262 miles an hour — a world record for a closed course speedway.

George Amick of Rhinelander, Wis., was killed when his car cartwheeled in the final lap of the race. Marshall Teague of Daytona Beach was killed in a practice run several weeks ago.

A scheduled Fourth of July 300-mile race for Indianapolis-type racing cars has been canceled. In its place will be a 250-mile stock car race for late model sedans and convertibles.

Overton Captures Feature at Yonkers

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Stanley Dancer drove Overton to a length and a half victory over Magic Trick in Tuesday night's feature Class A pace at Yonkers Raceway.

Overton, the second, choice, covered the mile in 2:05 and paid $7.10.

The Engineer was third.

Giants Aiming for Pennant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —President Horace Stoneham of the San Francisco Giants, looking forward to Friday's opening game with unhidden anticipation, declared:

"Certainly we're shooting for the pennant. We've been shooting for it since last fall. Most of the clubs in our league have added strength, but I think we improved ours more than the other seven."

The Giants, who finished a surprising third in their first National League campaign, open in St. Louis and then come West for their first home game April 14 against the Chicago Cubs. That's been a sellout since tickets became available.

"It may be strange to say, but our ticket requests this year are greater than last year," Stoneham commented. "And we were very happy with attendance in 1958. We should draw 1,300,000 even if we stay in Seals Stadium."

Last season in the park with a capacity of only about 23,000, the Giants had 1,272,625. Hopes are they'll be in their new Candlestick Park at least by Sept. 1.

Stoneham sees an edgy feeling throughout the organization, explaining, "we feel we have a good chance to win the pennant so everybody is anxious to get started."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators will have at least one new ingredient when they open the 1959 baseball season Thursday.

For the first time since Walter Johnson's day, the Senators will have a new style of uniforms. Instead of a "W", the new uniforms have "Senators" in front. On each sleeve is a caricature of a senator, complete with white hair, string tie and 10-gallon hat.

Cottier Cost Milwaukee Postage Stamp, Phone Call

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Chuck Cottier, who cost the Milwaukee Braves a telephone call and a stamp, was added to the team's official roster Tuesday. And he could be one of the biggest bargains in organized baseball.

"Maybe I could have had a bonus when I joined the organization four years ago," the rookie said, "but I accepted before he changed his mind."

The "he" was Walt Widmayer, then scouting for Atlanta and now with the parent club.

Widmayer got wind of Cottier's potential abilities as a baseball player and decided to send him a contract.

At the time, Cottier didn't know that he was a free agent and in a position to pick for himself. Originally with Baltimore, he was put on his own when the Orioles did not give him a 1955 contract.

Cottier telephoned Widmayer and agreed to sign the contract.

Manager Fred Haney has since indicated that even though Cottier is a rookie, he shows all the possibilities of working out as a top second baseman.

So far, Haney has been alternating Cottier with Felix Mantilla.

Celts Near NBA Crown

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The Boston Celtics, perhaps the greatest basketball team ever assembled, were on the threshold today of a precedent-breaking sweep of the National Basketball Assn. title playoffs.

The Celts whipped the Minneapolis Lakers 123-110 here Tuesday night for their third straight victory. A repeat in Minneapolis Thursday night would make Boston the first team in the NBA's nine-year history to win the championship series in four straight.

"Why be modest about it," smiled Celtic Coach Red Auerbach "this is a great team."

Daytona Racing Seen Too Fast

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Daytona International Speedway is so fast it is already out of competitive racing for speedway type cars after its first race—and two deaths.

Bill France, president of the speedway, said Tuesday the extremely high speeds of a 100-mile race Saturday prompted track officials to conclude that race car engineering and driver know-how are not ready for this modern racing plant.

Jim Rathmann of Miami won the 100-miler at an average of 170.262 miles an hour — a world record for a closed course speedway.

George Amick of Rhinelander, Wis., was killed when his car cartwheeled in the final lap of the race. Marshall Teague of Daytona Beach was killed in a practice run several weeks ago.

A scheduled Fourth of July 300-mile race for Indianapolis-type racing cars has been canceled. In its place will be a 250-mile stock car race for late model sedans and convertibles.

Overton Captures Feature at Yonkers

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Stanley Dancer drove Overton to a length and a half victory over Magic Trick in Tuesday night's feature Class A pace at Yonkers Raceway.

Overton, the second choice, covered the mile in 2:05 and paid $7.10.

The Engineer was third.

Giants Aiming for Pennant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —President Horace Stoneham of the San Francisco Giants, looking forward to Friday's opening game with unhidden anticipation, declared:

"Certainly we're shooting for the pennant. We've been shooting for it since last fall. Most of the clubs in our league have added strength, but I think we improved ours more than the other seven."

The Giants, who finished a surprising third in their first National League campaign, open in St. Louis and then come West for their first home game April 14 against the Chicago Cubs. That's been a sellout since tickets became available.

"It may be strange to say, but our ticket requests this year are greater than last year," Stoneham commented. "And we were very happy with attendance in 1958. We should draw 1,300,000 even if we stay in Seals Stadium."

Last season in the park with a capacity of only about 23,000, the Giants had 1,272,625. Hopes are they'll be in their new Candlestick Park at least by Sept. 1.

Stoneham sees an edgy feeling throughout the organization, explaining, "we feel we have a good chance to win the pennant so everybody is anxious to get started."

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (NEA) —Joe Kuharich, Ray Eliot and Frank Howard have been added to the staff of Florida State's football clinic, June 4-6.

Nats to Have New Uniforms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators will have at least one new ingredient when they open the 1959 baseball season Thursday.

For the first time since Walter Johnson's day, the Senators will have a new style of uniforms. Instead of a "W", the new uniforms have "Senators" in front. On each sleeve is a caricature of a senator, complete with white hair, string tie and 10-gallon hat.

Tennis Troupe At Schenectady

SCHENECTADY, April 8 — Jack Kramer's World's Professional Tennis Tour will appear in Schenectady tonight, Apr. 8, at 8 p. m. in the gym of the new $6 millon Linton High School.

Four of the greatest players in the world will be on display, including Defending Champion Pancho Gonzales and Aussies Lew Hoad, Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson.

Gonzales, from Los Angeles, is seeking his fifth straight World's championship. He shares the record of four with his boss, Kramer.

Following the singles, there will be doubles between Gonzales-Anderson and Hoad-Cooper.

Major Leagues Open Season Tomorrow With Two Contests

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The exhibition schedule slid into the background today as major league baseball made a final dry run before Thursday's traditional regular season openers at Cincinnati and Washington.

The early opening, designed to fatten the kitty by squeezing an extra weekend into the majors' schedules, starts a second century of baseball in the nation's capital with the Baltimore Orioles facing the Senators before an expected 25,000.

Vice President Nixon will toss out the first ball in the absence of President Eisenhower. Ike prefers golf.

That one also gives an expected crowd of 32,000 Cincinnati fans a quick appraisal of the winter deal that sent power-hitting third baseman Frank Thomas to the Reds for catcher Smoky Burgess, third baseman Don Hoak and lefty Harvey Haddix.

All of the clubs are scheduled to get rolling Friday. In the American League, the world champion New York Yankees open Manager Casey Stengel's expected romp to a record-tying 10th pennant with a home debut against the Boston Red Sox. The Chicago White Sox are at Detroit and the Cleveland Indians are at Kansas City.

Friday's National League schedule sends the defending champion Milwaukee Braves to Pittsburgh and Los Angeles to Chicago in afternoon games while San Francisco is at St. Louis and Cincinnati at Philadelphia in a pair of night openers.

A bevy of front line pitchers got in their final warm ups in Tuesday's exhibitions. Left - hander Johnny Antonelli, who'll open for the Giants, pitched a scoreless three innings and gave way to Mike McCormick, who continued the shutout string until Cleveland unloaded three runs with two out in the ninth for a 3-2 victory at Des Moines.

Brooks Lawrence and Hal Jeffcoat kept the Yankees in check as the Reds beat the champs 3-2 on Gus Bell's 10th inning home run at Savannah. Moe Drabowsky returned from the injured list and pitched nine innings for the Chicago Cubs, but Morrie Martin got the decision when the Bruins scored twice in the 11th for an 8-7 victory over the Red Sox at Victoria, Tex.

The Braves' were blanked for six innings by the Dodgers' Don Drysdale, Clem Labine and Art Fowler, then beat Los Angeles 5-4 with two in the ninth off rookie Gene Snyder. Los Angeles got its four in the first off Bob Buhl before a crowd of 12,203 at Jacksonville, Fla.

The exhibition tour reached a major league park at Baltimore and the Orioles beat the Phillies 5-3, scoring all their runs in the first inning off Ruben Gomez, who gave up a grand-slam to Gus Triandos.

Barry Latman and Bob Shaw were touched for 15 hits, but breezed as the Chicago White Sox walloped Nashville 20-10 in the Southern Assn. club's park.

Folly Captures Easy Decision

DENVER (AP) — Third-ranked heavyweight Zora Folley is looking overseas for his next opponent after dusting off Willi Besmanoff in a 10-rounder Tuesday night.

Manager Bill Swift said today he now wants Folley to meet Britain's Henry Cooper, who decisioned the Chandler, Ariz., stylist last October.

In the National Boxing Assn. ratings, Folley is listed immediately behind Cooper, second-ranked to No. 1 challenger Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Besmanoff, a German-born Milwaukee baker, absorbed everything Folley could throw and wavered only once on his stocky legs. That was in a furious closing attack when Folley tried to floor him in the 10th.

Folley won a unanimous decision from the two judges and referee.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This week it's the Motion Picture Academy. Next comes the Television Academy.

Later this month, Oscar and Emmie will get a bawling new cousin, the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences.

Ballots went out this week for academy members to vote on the best achievements in the record realm during 1958. The winners are expected to be announced on a TV spectacular in late April.

Weston Gives Rundown

I got a rundown on the organization from ace musician Paul Weston, president of the Los Angeles chapter.

"It all started about a year and a half ago," he related. "Six of us, representing the major record companies, met at the behest of the Hollywood beautification campaign. We were supposed to pick the record stars to have their names inscribed on the Hollywood Boulevard sidewalk.

"We talked about having our own organization to honor achievements in the record field. This had been tried half-heartedly before, but never followed through. After a few meetings, we started the Los Angeles chapter, then helped organize one in New York. Now others are being formed in Chicago and Memphis."

Most of the top names in records—Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Doris Day, etc. — have become members. The board of governors includes such hepsters as Benny Carter, Stan Kenton, Spike Jones and Nat King Cole as well as longhairs like Helen Traubel, Darius Milhaud, Lauritz Melchior and Joseph Szigeti.

28 Categories

The first annual nominations were made by the academy members with the aid of the record companies. There are 28 categories, ranging from record, album, song, to best children's record, classical performance, and even best album cover.

The record academy has already picked out its statuette—a simple replica of an old-fashioned gramophone. There's only one thing lacking for the academy's success: a name for the award. Weston offers 25 albums for anyone who sends the best suggestion to the recording academy at 9157 Sunset Blvd., Hollywood.

Tigers Cut Pair

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Pitcher Don Lee and first baseman-outfielder Earl Hersh were cut loose by the Detroit Tigers in a reduction of the travel squad to 28 men, the legal limit.

Switch to Indianapolis Fouls TV Fight Coverage

NEW YORK (AP) — Promoter Cecil Rhodes Jr. and his entourage met with network officials today to iron out differences that have arisen over switching the Floyd Patterson - Brian London heavyweight championship fight from Las Vegas to Indianapolis.

The network was annoyed at Rhodes and Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, for the sudden change in sites of the May 1 bout.

"We've agreed on terms," said Tom Gallery, NBC's sport director, "but we haven't signed any new contracts yet.

"What gets us is that the contract we signed with the promoter, manager and fighter says the bout is to be held in Las Vegas. We don't think you should walk out on a contract.

Difference in Seats

"Furthermore, D'Amato has no idea of the television business. For instance, we are blacking out the area of the fight. In Las Vegas, that would mean somewhere between 5,000 and 10,000 sets. But there must be at least 400,000 sets around Indianapolis.

Rhodes, taking the whole thing calmly, said NBC had asked him to take a $25,000 cut in the original $225,000 TV fee. "That will be straightened out," he said.

Rhodes and D'Amato decided on the switch because they said they feared Las Vegas gamblers might become involved. The Las Vegas sponsors denied this, saying the real reason for the switch was that they refused to put up any money for the promoters.

Folly Captures Easy Decision

DENVER (AP) — Third-ranked heavyweight Zora Folley is looking overseas for his next opponent after dusting off Willi Besmanoff in a 10-rounder Tuesday night.

Manager Bill Swift said today he now wants Folley to meet Britain's Henry Cooper, who decisioned the Chandler, Ariz., stylist last October.

In the National Boxing Assn. ratings, Folley is listed immediately behind Cooper, second-ranked to No. 1 challenger Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Besmanoff, a German-born Milwaukee baker, absorbed everything Folley could throw and wavered only once on his stocky legs. That was in a furious closing attack when Folley tried to floor him in the 10th.

Folley won a unanimous decision from the two judges and referee.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This week it's the Motion Picture Academy. Next comes the Television Academy.

Later this month, Oscar and Emmie will get a bawling new cousin, the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences.

Ballots went out this week for academy members to vote on the best achievements in the record realm during 1958. The winners are expected to be announced on a TV spectacular in late April.

Weston Gives Rundown

I got a rundown on the organization from ace musician Paul Weston, president of the Los Angeles chapter.

"It all started about a year and a half ago," he related. "Six of us, representing the major record companies, met at the behest of the Hollywood beautification campaign. We were supposed to pick the record stars to have their names inscribed on the Hollywood Boulevard sidewalk.

"We talked about having our own organization to honor achievements in the record field. This had been tried half-heartedly before, but never followed through. After a few meetings, we started the Los Angeles chapter, then helped organize one in New York. Now others are being formed in Chicago and Memphis."

Most of the top names in records—Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Doris Day, etc. — have become members. The board of governors includes such hepsters as Benny Carter, Stan Kenton, Spike Jones and Nat King Cole as well as longhairs like Helen Traubel, Darius Milhaud, Lauritz Melchior and Joseph Szigeti.

28 Categories

The first annual nominations were made by the academy members with the aid of the record companies. There are 28 categories, ranging from record, album, song, to best children's record, classical performance, and even best album cover.

The record academy has already picked out its statuette—a simple replica of an old-fashioned gramophone. There's only one thing lacking for the academy's success: a name for the award. Weston offers 25 albums for anyone who sends the best suggestion to the recording academy at 9157 Sunset Blvd., Hollywood.

Tigers Cut Pair

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Pitcher Don Lee and first baseman-outfielder Earl Hersh were cut loose by the Detroit Tigers in a reduction of the travel squad to 28 men, the legal limit.

Switch to Indianapolis Fouls TV Fight Coverage

NEW YORK (AP) — Promoter Cecil Rhodes Jr. and his entourage met with network officials today to iron out differences that have arisen over switching the Floyd Patterson - Brian London heavyweight championship fight from Las Vegas to Indianapolis.

The network was annoyed at Rhodes and Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, for the sudden change in sites of the May 1 bout.

"We've agreed on terms," said Tom Gallery, NBC's sport director, "but we haven't signed any new contracts yet.

"What gets us is that the contract we signed with the promoter, manager and fighter says the bout is to be held in Las Vegas. We don't think you should walk out on a contract.

Difference in Seats

"Furthermore, D'Amato has no idea of the television business. For instance, we are blacking out the area of the fight. In Las Vegas, that would mean somewhere between 5,000 and 10,000 sets. But there must be at least 400,000 sets around Indianapolis.

Rhodes, taking the whole thing calmly, said NBC had asked him to take a $25,000 cut in the original $225,000 TV fee. "That will be straightened out," he said.

Rhodes and D'Amato decided on the switch because they said they feared Las Vegas gamblers might become involved. The Las Vegas sponsors denied this, saying the real reason for the switch was that they refused to put up any money for the promoters.

The Weather

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8, 1959

Sun rises at 5:29 a. m.; sun sets at 6:28 p. m., EST.
Weather: Partly cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 48 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 75 degrees.

Weather Forecast

THREATENING CLOUDS

Southeastern New York — Considerable cloudiness with a few sprinkles this afternoon. Partly cloudy and cooler tonight. Low 35-42. Thursday considerable cloudiness. High 48-55. Winds mostly under 15 from the west or north.

Western New York, Northern Finger Lakes to Lake Ontario, East of Lake Ontario, Black River Basin—Partial clearing and cooler this afternoon with some chance of a few light showers. High 50 to 55. Increasing cloudiness tonight. Low temperatures around 32. Continued cool with rain or wet snow developing tomorrow. High in the 40s. Variable winds mostly westerly 5 to 15, becoming northeast to east and increasing to 15 to 35 tomorrow.

Northern New York, Western Mohawk Area — Considerable cloudiness, temperatures in the mid 40s to low 50s this afternoon. Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Cooler, low in the low to mid 30s tonight. High Thursday 45-50. Winds generally west to north but under 15 most of the time.

Ted Williams Out, Uncertain of Return

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, the 40-year-old slugger of the Boston Red Sox, was discharged today from the New England Baptist Hospital, still uncertain when he would rejoin his teammates.

He had been hospitalized since March 30 for treatment of a pinched nerve in his right shoulder and a kink in his neck.

Williams at first was treated with traction and later fitted with a surgical collar. He was still wearing the collar when he left the hospital today.

The Red Sox slugger will miss the opening Red Sox game in New York Friday. He said whether he can don his uniform for the first home series at Fenway Park beginning April 14 depends on what the doctors tell him.

Cooler Trend Due By Next Monday

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The extended weather forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today through 7 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Temperatures are expected to average around normal levels and rainfall around one-half inch. Gradual warming Friday and Saturday, cooler trend into Monday. Rain or showers likely Friday into Saturday.

Western New York—Some cool, wet weather is indicated with temperatures averaging a few degrees below normal. Cool with rain and wet snow tomorrow and Friday, with partial clearing and warming over the weekend. Showers and cooler on Monday. More than one-half inch of melted precipitation is expected.

Temperature Normals — Daytime highs in upper 40s to mid 50s. Overnight lows upper 20s and 30s.

Hasbroucks to Meet

A meeting of Hasbrouck Engine Co. No. 1 of Connelly will be held Thursday, April 9, at the firehouse, starting at 8 p. m. All members are requested to attend this annual meeting.

Would Have Tibet Ruler Come Here

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department was urged today to voice its sympathy for the communist-oppressed people of Tibet by inviting the Dalai Lama to visit the United States.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ), suggested the action in a letter to Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

The 23-year-old god-king of Tibet has been granted asylum in India after successfully eluding Red Chinese troops. The situation that caused him to flee his country, Case wrote Herter, has stirred the indignation of the world.

"The brave efforts of his people to resist the encroachment of the communist Chinese government remind us once again that the desire for freedom and national integrity exists among peoples everywhere," Case said.

A U. S. invitation to the Dalai Lama to visit this country, Case said, would "dramatize our commitment to the aspirations and ideals of the free world."

3 Weeks Make Difference

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — James H. Norick knows what a difference three weeks makes. He has been chosen mayor by 23,000 votes over insurance man Charles Burba.

Three weeks ago Norick, a printing firm executive, ran third in the primary election, 62 votes out of the second place runoff berth. He asked a recount and won by one vote over attorney Merton Bulla.

Rosendale Taxpayers Will Meet April 14

A regular meeting of the Village of Rosendale Taxpayers Association, Inc., will be held at the Rosendale Firehouse Tuesday, April 14, at 8 p. m. All interested persons of the village are invited to attend.

Recently the Taxpayers Association sponsored action for the dissolution of the incorporated village of Rosendale, alleging that economies would be effected through dissolution of the village and incorporating it with the Township.

40 and 8 to Meet Sunday

A promenade of Ulster Voiture 381, La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Cheveaux, will be held at Ellenville on Sunday at 2 p. m., according to an announcement from Edgar M. Ward, who urged all members to be present.

Hurley to Sign For Kindergarten April 13-17 Dates

Kindergarten registration will be held in the office of the Hurley School April 13 through April 17 from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

To be eligible for a child to enter kindergarten in September it will be necessary that the child be five years of age by December 8.

Parents registering their children are asked to bring a birth certificate or other proof of age.

Each parent will be given a leaflet "Happy Adventure Into Kindergarten" explaining what the kindergarten year is going to bring forth.

At the time of registration, conference dates will be arranged with parents for the first two weeks in September. All parents are urged to register on the dates set, if possible.

SEPTIC TANK TROUBLES? USE CESS CLEAN
The NEWEST laboratory tested product of bio-chemical research. SAFE non toxic, non caustic, non corrosive. Builds bacteria, gives action in a few hours. Works continuously when used routinely. Will eliminate and PREVENT future trouble. Churns and liquefies sludge deposits around walls of septic tanks and cess pools that cause overflow and backup. Breaks up solids. Can be used in kitchen drains, toilet bowls, shower drains, anywhere that slime, sludge, cakey deposits, grease, etc., accumulate in pipes and stop flo-thru.
Only $3.75 for 6 mo. supply. Send check or money order to:

The Weather

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8, 1959

Sun rises at 5:29 a. m.; sun sets at 6:28 p. m., EST.
Weather: Partly cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 48 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 75 degrees.

Weather Forecast

THREATENING CLOUDS

Southeastern New York — Considerable cloudiness with a few sprinkles this afternoon. Partly cloudy and cooler tonight. Low 35-42. Thursday considerable cloudiness. High 48-55. Winds mostly under 15 from the west or north.

Western New York, Northern Finger Lakes to Lake Ontario, East of Lake Ontario, Black River Basin—Partial clearing and cooler this afternoon with some chance of a few light showers. High 50 to 55. Increasing cloudiness tonight. Low temperatures around 32. Continued cool with rain or wet snow developing tomorrow. High in the 40s. Variable winds mostly westerly 5 to 15, becoming northeast to east and increasing to 15 to 35 tomorrow.

Northern New York, Western Mohawk Area — Considerable cloudiness, temperatures in the mid 40s to low 50s this afternoon. Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Cooler, low in the low to mid 30s tonight. High Thursday 45-50. Winds generally west to north but under 15 most of the time.

South-Central New York — Considerable cloudiness with a few sprinkles this afternoon. High in the low or mid 50s. Partly cloudy tonight. Cooler. Low in the 30s. Thursday considerable cloudiness. High in the mid 40s to low 50s. Winds west to north but under 15 most of the time.

Ted Williams Out, Uncertain of Return

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, the 40-year-old slugger of the Boston Red Sox, was discharged today from the New England Baptist Hospital, still uncertain when he would rejoin his teammates.

He had been hospitalized since March 30 for treatment of a pinched nerve in his right shoulder and a kink in his neck.

Williams at first was treated with traction and later fitted with a surgical collar. He was still wearing the collar when he left the hospital today.

The Red Sox slugger will miss the opening Red Sox game in New York Friday. He said whether he can don his uniform for the first home series at Fenway Park beginning April 14 depends on what the doctors tell him.

Cooler Trend Due By Next Monday

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The extended weather forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today through 7 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Temperatures are expected to average around normal levels and rainfall around one-half inch. Gradual warming Friday and Saturday, cooler trend into Monday. Rain or showers likely Friday into Saturday.

Western New York—Some cool, wet weather is indicated with temperatures averaging a few degrees below normal. Cool with rain and wet snow tomorrow and Friday, with partial clearing and warming over the weekend. Showers and cooler on Monday. More than one-half inch of melted precipitation is expected.

Temperature Normals — Daytime highs in upper 40s to mid 50s. Overnight lows upper 20s and 30s.

Hasbroucks to Meet

A meeting of Hasbrouck Engine Co. No. 1 of Connelly will be held Thursday, April 9, at the firehouse, starting at 8 p. m. All members are requested to attend this annual meeting.

Walt Disney's True Life Adventures

Would Have Tibet Ruler Come Here

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department was urged today to voice its sympathy for the communist-oppressed people of Tibet by inviting the Dalai Lama to visit the United States.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ), suggested the action in a letter to Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

The 23-year-old god-king of Tibet has been granted asylum in India after successfully eluding Red Chinese troops. The situation that caused him to flee his country, Case wrote Herter, has stirred the indignation of the world.

"The brave efforts of his people to resist the encroachment of the communist Chinese government remind us once again that the desire for freedom and national integrity exists among peoples everywhere," Case said.

A U. S. invitation to the Dalai Lama to visit this country, Case said, would "dramatize our commitment to the aspirations and ideals of the free world."
